WHITMAN IN LEAD.

Twice Indorsed in New York.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The victor in the contest for the Republican nomination for United States Senator in the state-wide primary remained in doubt at 2:15 o'clock this morning. At that hour, with 4124 districts heard from out of a total of 5719 in the State, William M. Calder was leading Robert Bacon by about 1200. The figures were: Calder, 109,551; Bacon, 108,384.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 19.—Incomplete returns from today's State-wide primaries indicated that Gov. Whitman would capture both the G.O.P. and the Progressive nomination, but with a close margin. He was running about 2800 ahead of ex-Judge Samuel Seabury (Dem.) in New York City, who also sought the Progressive indorsement, and a very close second in the up-State count. It looked as if his city majority would pull him through. Outside of the city 761 election districts out of 2079 gave Seabury 1545 and Whitman 1445. With returns from 1310 election districts out of 2079 in the State Governor had 4103 and his vote appeared to be turning

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

ROCK ISLAND (Ill.) Sept. 19.—The small arms plant at Rock Island arsenal is to be opened September 25 and the government is anxious to get workers. Congress at its recent session passed an appropriation that will enable the plant, which has been discontinued since 1912, to resume operations. Rifles are to be manufactured. It is expected that at least 800 men will be given work in this department alone.

AUSTRIANS IN DANGER

Loss of Trieste is Forecast.

French Operations on the Somme Front Hampered by Rains.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ATHENS, Sept. 19, 11:30 A.M. (via London, 1:15)—It is stated in the most reliable diplomatic sources here that the Austrians are preparing for the evacuation of Triest.

LONDON, Sept. 19, 11:24 p.m.—The official statement from general headquarters issued tonight reads:

"The general situation is unchanged. South of the Ancre there was considerable artillery activity throughout the day. A local attack upon our trenches east of Martinpuich was easily repulsed.

"A hostile balloon was brought down by our artillery east of Ransart. In the neighborhood of Hill 60 an enemy ammunition store was exploded by our fire."

PAUSE.

There is a pause in the fighting in the Somme region, due to the inclement weather, but heavy battles are in progress on the eastern front in Russia, Galicia, Transylvania and Rumania, and on the southern front in Macedonia.

Along the Stokhod River Germans and Austro-Hungarians have taken the offensive against Russians and, according to Berlin, near Zarecse have crossed the river in pursuit of their retreating foe and have captured thirty-one officers, 2511 men and seventeen machine guns. Here four lines of Russian trenches were penetrated by the Teutonic allies, says Vienna.

In Galicia a counter-attack by the forces of the central powers along the Narayuvka River, southeast of Lemberg, brought a further success to their arms and resulted in the capture of an additional 4200 men.

In the Ludowa region of the Carpathians Russians have gained some new positions.

The war chancelleries at Berlin, Sofia and Vienna record victories for the Teutonic allies over the Rumanians in Transylvania and Bobrudja. In Transylvania near Hatszeg, according to Berlin, invading Rumanians have been repulsed and are being pursued by the Austro-Germans, while in Dobrudja the new line formed by the Russians south of the Constanza railway and running from the Black Sea to the Danube has been penetrated at some points, and several villages captured.

MACEDONIA.

In Macedonia fighting continues at various points, but with no important changes reported. Two counter-attacks by Bulgarians against the Serbians on the left wing were unsuccessful, according to Paris, while Sofia reports that attacks by Russian, French and Serbian troops on Bulgarian positions around Florina were repulsed, as likewise was an offensive west of Lake Ostrovo. Artillery engagements for the most part are going on along both the British and French sectors of the front.

DIXMUDE.

There has been artillery activity on the Verdun fronts and around Dixmude. A local German attack on British trenches east of Martinpuich, north of the Somme, was repulsed. Berlin admits the relinquishment to the Entente forces of trenches east of Ginchy and near Combles, which had been previously demolished by the Entente artillery.

The infantry fighting between the Italians and Austrians on the Carso highlands has noticeably diminished, although the artillery on both sides continues active. A report attributed to a reliable diplomatic source in Athens is to the effect that the Austrians are preparing to evacuate Trieste.

FORD PACIFICISTS OPEN AGENCIES.

Mr. Plantiff indicated that Mr. Ford had not abandoned his plans for terminating the war.

MILWAUKEE ROAD HAS RECORD YEAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company enjoyed a record year in the matter of gross earnings, according to the annual report made public yesterday. The total operating revenues were $105,646,483, against $91,435,374 in 1915. The total operating expenses were $69,120,957 for 1916 against $61,971,701 for 1915 and the net revenue for 1916, $36,525,526 as compared with $29,463,673 for the previous year.

Next Budget Expected to Call for More Than Eleven Millions.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DENVER, Sept. 19.—Estimates for the budget for the fiscal year 1918 of reclamation and irrigation projects throughout the United States were being figured at a meeting here today of representatives of thirty-two projects under way. The appropriations for this work for 1917 amounted to $11,000,000, and it is said the next budget is expected to be in excess of that amount.

During the three-days' session a number of technical papers are to be read.

BAREFOOT DANCE IN THE SCHOOL.

TEACHER WHO PERMITTED IT CRITICISED BY BOARD.

But San Francisco Superintendent Takes Issue with Trustees, Declaring, in His Opinion, None of the Entertainment Given was Injurious to Pupils.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The Board of Education, after a secret conference and hearing to which were summoned James E. Addison, principal of the Polytechnic High School, and Miss Marea Van Vleck, head of the art department of the school, issued a statement censuring Miss Van Vleck "for want of discretion in not recognizing that to students of high school age" a Grecian dance given September 15 at an entertainment by the Apollo Art Club in the school auditorium "is directly injurious."

It was specifically charged by some members of the board that the girl who appeared in the dance was insufficiently clad. This charge was denied by Miss Van Vleck.

Superintendent of Schools Alfred Roncovieri, who was not present at the meeting, took issue with the board in defense of Miss Van Vleck. He said among other things:

"To some anything beautiful is wicked.

"Evil be to him who evil thinks.

"There is nothing wrong with barefoot dancing; I think none of the entertainment was wrong."

DANIELS SLEUTHING MINT JULEP RUMOR

HEARS IT WAS PUT IN WELCOME TO MEXICAN ENVOYS.

Secretary in Distress Passes Buck to State Department when Evidence Accumulates that Something Besides Grape Juice was Served Aboard Mayflower.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 19.—Secretary Daniels is understood to be somewhat disturbed because of reports that something stronger than grapejuice found its way surreptitiously aboard the Mayflower during the recent pleasure trips of the joint American and Mexican commission.

It is said that officials of the State Department, realizing that the Mexican commissioners were accustomed to mint in their own country and might find their welcome incomplete without it, broached the matter of waiving Mr. Daniels's ironclad rule against beverages of this nature being taken aboard any ship in the navy.

Recent reports from New London say that "officially" nothing stronger than tea was imbibed aboard the Mayflower by either the American or the Mexican commissioners. It is said that Secretary Daniels has given no specific permission to waive his rule but has practically turned matters over to the State Department and the American commissioners.

At the State Department it is said the chief consideration has been to extend a fitting and proper welcome to the agents of First Chief Carranza, who are here in the hope of settling the Mexican border problems.

BAY PIONEER DEAD.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Sept. 19.—George W. Foster, 76 years old, one of the first Trustees of Venice, passed away here this afternoon after an illness of three weeks. Mr. Foster came to the bay district fourteen years ago. He was the son of Col. John D. Foster, who was in command of the regiment in which the son served in the Civil War. He was a member of the G.A.R., having served in the Twenty-second Missouri Volunteers. Mr. and Mrs. Foster celebrated their golden wedding anniversary six years ago.

His four daughters were at the bedside at the time of his death. They are Mrs. S. D. Wheeler of Venice, Mrs. W. S. Foster of Venice, Mrs. Frank McArthur of Los Angeles and Mrs. Fred L. Olds of Pomona.

UNION LABOR RIOTERS BOMBARD STREET CARS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 19.—Mobs surrounded the car barns at Tenth avenue and Fifty-fourth street and at Ninth avenue and Fifty-third street at 8 o'clock tonight. Bricks and bottles were thrown at the fortified non-union garrisons. Car crews leaving the barns were "jumped" and beaten. Policeman Mandel of the West Forty-seventh-street station, the lone guardian of the Ninth-avenue barn, used his club without visible effect on the attacking party of 200. The best he could do was to protect the one or two strike-breakers who found shelter behind his back. Until the arrival of the reserves the mob found added amusement in bombarding passing elevated trains. Theater crowds joined in the rioting tonight.

POLICE WITHDRAWN.

It was evident that the strike sympathizers were taking advantage of the fact that many policemen had been withdrawn from strike duty for service in connection with the primary elections.

After the mob at the Tenth-avenue barns had scattered before the charging reserves, fresh from a clean-swept field around the barns on Ninth avenue, the police telephoned to the Third-avenue Railway Company to call in all its cars.

While these riots were in progress two Fifty-ninth-street crosstown cars, stalled between Sixth and Seventh avenues, were being bombarded by strike sympathizers from behind the shelter of the Central Park wall. Manhole covers had been placed on the tracks and the fusillade began when the motormen alighted to remove them. After these disorders had been quelled Capt. Underhill of the West Forty-seventh-street station asked headquarters for seventy-five additional men to reinforce and relieve his battered reserves.

CONFERENCES.

There had been events of a more pacific nature earlier in the day. A series of conferences, starting in Mayor Mitchel's office and concluding in the office of Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough, had engaged the attention of a subcommittee of seven, representing the citizens' committee appointed by the Merchants' Association, the Chamber of Commerce and other business and civic bodies.

It looked very much tonight, at the close of the first of the three grace days allowed by the labor leaders, as if nothing but adverse sentiment in the unions themselves stood between New York and the threatened general industrial strike in sympathy with the cornered carmen.

SERIOUS SITUATION.

The most serious rioting since the strike began two weeks ago occurred tonight in various sections of Manhattan, when attempts were made to run cars on the Forty-second and Fifty-ninth street crosstown surface lines. Mobs of strikers and their sympathizers stormed two car barns, overpowering the police and putting to flight all railway employees in the vicinity.

Several motormen and conductors who had not joined the strike were beaten. Much property damage had been done before police reserves arrived.

The strikers apparently planned their attacks, it was said, as disorders occurred in many places at the same time.

The police reported late tonight that all surface cars had been ordered to the barns. Numerous arrests were made and many of the rioters were clubbed by the police. Several passengers were hurt by missiles.

After a citizens' committee had failed to effect a basis of settlement between the striking union carmen and their employers today, it was announced tonight that apparently the only hope of averting a threatened sympathetic walk-out of 700,000 workers, set for Friday, now lies in a final appeal to be made to the labor leaders Thursday. The citizens' committee probably will confer with Mayor Mitchel and Oscar S. Straus, chairman of the Public Service Commission, tomorrow, in an effort to find some solution of the problem.

MEXICAN BANKS CLOSED BY CARRANZA ORDER.

Hope of Early Peace is Abandoned by the New London Conferees.

BY JOHN CALDAN O'DAUGHLIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW LONDON (Ct.) Sept. 19.—All hope of an early agreement between the United States and Mexico has been abandoned. That an adjustment of the differences which exist ultimately will be reached is the confident expectation of both the American and Mexican commissions. But the discussion which has taken place has convinced the American agents that serious obstacles must be overcome before a solution of the problem they are handling can be devised. For example, the question of the protection of the American border from bandit raids, which has been considered from the time the joint commission organized, is still on the tapis. Of the half-dozen plans for the preservation of the border from attack originally presented, four have been discarded, among them that of the establishment of a zone of operations in Northern Mexico.

TWO PLANS REMAIN.

The two plans remaining under consideration, one, the creation of a constabulary, the other the employment of the "hot trail" device, will be talked about in the joint session tomorrow. Probably no decision will be arrived at, since every phase of the matter must be referred to Mexico City and there passed upon by Gen. Carranza and his military advisers. The American commission is more fortunate than the Mexican commission in this respect, for Gen. Bliss, assistant Chief-of-Staff of the United States Army, is remaining in New London as the military expert attached to Secretary Lane and his associates.

Quite as difficult to solve as the border question are other features of the Mexican problem, such as the protection of American life and property within Mexico. The Mexican commissioners have assured the American commission that so far as the taxation and the like are concerned, foreign interests will be treated on exactly the same basis as native interests.

BANKS CLOSED.

At the moment these assurances were being given, however, official information reached the American commission, confirming press dispatches that two of the banks, the Banco Nacional and the London and Mexico, of Mexico City, had been closed. According to the official statement issued following the morning session, the Mexican representatives were asked for an explanation of this action on the part of their government. They replied it was due to the policy of the banks, which had been involved with other institutions in a movement to depreciate the Carranza currency, which was hostile to the welfare of the country, that the banks were, in fact, the money trust of Mexico, and that now that their doors had been closed the government proposed to institute a banking system similar to that inaugurated two years ago by the United States.

It is altogether likely that the closure of the banks by Carranza will lead to emphatic protests, if not from the United States, then from the British and French governments.

CONSCRIPTION FOR IRELAND.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.] (30)

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The application of conscription to Ireland is suggested by the Daily Mail today in an article calling attention to the urgent necessity for obtaining more men for the army. The newspaper suggests two other methods for adding to the army, namely, the raising of the age limit from 41 to 45 years and the combing out of the young men from exempted occupations, of whom it estimates there are 1,250,000 physically fit who have not yet been drafted into the army.

DEMOCRATIC ELECTORS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

The electors chosen were: At large, Francis J. Heney and Edward L. Doheny of Los Angeles; by Congressional districts, Judge Emmett Seawell, Santa Rosa; J. V. Snyder, Grass Valley; Judge Peter J. Shields, Sacramento; Mrs. Virginia M. Spinks, Alameda; Oscar Hocks, San Francisco; James F. Peck, Oakland; Mrs. Mary M. Wiley, Fresno; John F. Barry, San Jose; Loren A. Handley, Los Angeles; R. F. [BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.] (30)

ENGINEER Gholson and Fireman Osborn of the Santa Fe California Limited No. 3 were killed early this morning in a wreck which occurred at 1:15 o'clock, one mile east of Kingman, Ariz. Eleven passengers are reported to have been injured. The engine, baggage car and buffet car and one Pullman left the track, but only one occupant of the Pullman was injured, a woman, she having her arm broken. The baggage and buffet cars were completely demolished. The train was just pulling out of Kingman city limits when the accident, which is attributed to a broken pony truck occurred. The remainder of the train staid on the track. A wrecking train and a relief crew were sent from Needles.

BUILD UP RUSSIAN TRADE ADVICE OF SAMUEL HILL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 19.—The United States should learn two lessons from the present war in Europe, says Samuel Hill, well known capitalist and good roads advocate, who returned to Portland today from a trip around the world, that took him almost to every one of the belligerent nations. These two lessons are: Develop trade relations with Russia and prepare to defend the country against possible future aggressions.

"Russia and the United States possess the two greatest areas of food land in the world, and Japan, occupying the position between them and controlling, as she does, practically all the vessels on the Pacific, should build up a great carrying trade between Russia and the United States," said Mr. Hill. "It seems strange that our government has overlooked the opportunity to strengthen her relations with Russia. If you will look back you will find that Russia always has been the consistent friend of the United States. Acre for acre, I believe the land of Siberia is better land than Dakota or Montana. There is more timber.

"I had not studied Siberia critically for fifteen years, and was not much surprised at the improved conditions.

"In Sweden I found the majority of the people with whom I talked pro-German and in Norway they favored the Entente allies.

"I have come back here thoroughly convinced that the all-important thing at least for the Coast States is to have compulsory military training along the Swedish lines."

LOS ANGELES MEN HONORED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

HARBOR OF LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—The Los Angeles contingent of civilians who have been making the training cruise on the armored cruiser South Dakota left the ship at San Pedro today for their homes and the cruiser sailed tonight for San Francisco with the northern rookies aboard.

Before the southerners went ashore, T. O. Knick of Oxnard was given a rating as machinist's mate of the second class; J. V. Gibbs, Los Angeles, as hospital steward; T. C. Jones of Pasadena was created advanced quartermaster of the second class and F. L. Adams and C. L. Flint of Sacramento will find the Navy Department ready to accept their services in case of emergency as radio electricians, third class.

TWO VESSELS TORPEDOED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Passengers on board the Fabre Line steamship Patria, arriving here today, declared that two vessels, a British and a Norwegian which preceded the Patria to sea from Oran, Algiers, on September 7, by only a few minutes, were torpedoed and sunk.

After the British ship passed out to sea the Patria's passengers asserted, a loud report was heard and suddenly the British ship lurched forward and sank. Before the Norwegian ship could turn about there was another report and in less than ten minutes she also sank.

The Patria, it was said, put about and returned to port, after it was seen that the crews from the lost vessels had been taken in boats lowered from the Norwegian steamer.

The Patria put to sea again the next morning.

VILLA IS NON-RECEPTIVE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 19.—Of two legalista agents who approached Villa last week with a scheme for his surrender, one was killed outright by the bandit leader, while the second managed to escape and effect a return to the American side, according to a statement tonight by one of the legalista chiefs now in El Paso.

The scheme said the legalista leader, who withheld the names of the agents, was to induce Villa to come to the border and surrender to the American authorities under guarantee of a fair trial and lenient prosecution. Villa is said to have been seized with such a rage at the proposal that he drew a revolver and killed the offending agent on the spot.

ADAMSON BILL CALLED FUTILE.

Wilson's Abject Surrender is Roundly Denounced.

Hughes Renews His Campaign at Springfield, Ill.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Sept. 19.—Charles E. Hughes, addressing an audience in the arsenal here tonight, renewed his attack on the administration for passage of the Adamson law in the face of the threatened railroad strike. Mr. Hughes discussed and called "futile" the reasons advocated for its passage, quoted from President Wilson's address to Congress on the subject, challenged the statement of Representative Adamson that the law was passed to "meet an emergency," and cited a declaration attributed to Grover Cleveland in support of the contention that the law was "a surrender to force."

"We have seen," Mr. Hughes said, "what appears to be the consideration of immediate political expediency at the expense of public welfare.

"Mr. Adamson said, 'It is hasty legislation, I admit, to meet an emergency,'" Mr. Hughes continued. "What emergency? The emergency of force to which the administration had capitulated?

"Senator Underwood said, 'We have no information on which to legislate and to fix rates of wages which we are going to and are attempting to do.'"

DRAWS A CONTRAST.

"Contrast the action of the administration," the nominee added, "with what was said by Grover Cleveland in 1886, with respect to labor legislation: 'All legislation on the subject should be calmly and deliberately undertaken with no purpose of satisfying unreasonable demands or gaining partisan advantage.'

"It is idle to excuse the action by the request for additional legislation with respect to the future. That legislation was not obtained. We are dealing with what was demanded and actually enacted.

"We have an unjustifiable attempt to use public sentiment with respect to an eight-hour working day in order to justify a bill which does not provide an eight-hour work day, but relates solely to an increase in wages. We have seen the choice of what seemed to be the easier way, which escaped the necessity of a determined stand for principle. We have seen what appeared to be the consideration of immediate political expediency at the expense of public welfare."

Mr. Hughes spoke before a crowded house that frequently interrupted him to applaud. His speech tonight was his second in Springfield. The first at the State Fair grounds this afternoon dealt chiefly with his ideas on protection of American industries, American rights and preparedness. He also touched tonight on the protection of American rights.

"The America of which I have a vision—the America of the future—is an America maintaining American rights on land and sea without fear or favor throughout the world," he said.

The audience cheered and applauded loudly. Mr. Hughes left Springfield at 11 p.m. for Milwaukee. He will reach there tomorrow night and will deliver six speeches en route.

LABOR INTERESTS.

Mr. Hughes, after declaring that "the just interests of labor are the concern of all," and asserting that he desired to see safe and wholesome conditions of work, adequate opportunities for education and recreation, reasonable hours of labor, and fair wages, said in part:

"The Adamson bill is a force bill. It was legislation without inquiry, without knowledge. The demand by the administration for such legislation as the price of peace was a humiliating spectacle. It was not only a misuse of official power, but a deplorable abdication of moral authority.

"The excuses presented are futile. The Adamson bill is not a bill providing for an eight-hour work day. It does not fix hours at all. It regulates wages. Its provisions do not require any employer to employ any set of men for only eight hours a day. Eight-hour-day laws are to avoid fatigue and overstrain of prohibiting employment in excess of the requirement. There is nothing of that sort in this bill.

"What it does is to provide by law for an increase in wages for certain men. They may work just as long as before. They may work ten hours or more. They are simply to get more pay. The act provides that in contracts for labor and service eight hours shall be deemed a day's work and the measure or standard of a day's work for the purpose of reckoning the compensation for services to all employees of the sort described."

QUOTES THE LAW.

Mr. Hughes quoted the Adamson law, showing, he said, "in plain English" that the men affected are not required to work fewer hours, but are to have ten hours' pay for eight hours' work with additional pay for additional hours.

"We have words which may seem to mean one thing and, in fact, mean another," the candidate continued. "The phrase 'eight-hour day' is apparently used to tickle the public ear in order to establish something quite different. If it were proposed to give an eight-hour work day, way were not work for longer hours and all contracts for longer service prohibited under penalty save where emergencies exist?

"It is said this bill will have a tendency to procure an eight-hour day. This is extremely doubtful, but we are dealing with what the bill actually enacts, not with inconclusive suggestions of tendencies toward something else which is not enacted.

"This bill must be judged by what it provides, not by what it does not provide. It is nothing more than a measure to fix wages and as a measure to fix wages it must be judged. If as such a measure its passage was justified, it needs no further excuse. If not, its passage is not to be condoned by reference to another eight-hour work day which it does not establish. Such reference can only be regarded as a subterfuge.

LACK OF JUDGMENT.

"We are, therefore, not concerned with anything that is said of the judgment of society with respect to an eight-hour work day. There is plainly no judgment of society upon the increase of wages this bill requires.

"If the asserted judgment of society inspired it, why does the act apply only to a limited number of railroad men, relatively few? . . . The obvious fact is that there was a demand by certain men for an increase in their own wages, and the administration in advance of investigation surrendered to this demand."

Pointing out that the Adamson bill itself conceded that the subject was one requiring investigation, Mr. Hughes said that if there was anything requiring a careful inquiry it was "a proposition affecting readjustment either of rates or of expenses of carriers" upon whose efficiency "the community depends." He continued:

"What is fair and right must be done, but what is fair and right must first be ascertained. When railroads are required to expend additional millions, this burden must ultimately fall on the public. If expenses are necessarily increased beyond what existing rates will stand the rates must be increased.

THE PROPOSAL.

"It was proposed in substance by the administration that increased rates should be charged to shippers so far as required to pay this increase of wages. Assurance was given that 'no obstacle of law' would be suffered to stand in the way of railroads in increasing their revenue to meet resulting increased expenses so far as development of their business and of their administrative efficiency did not prove adequate to meet them.

"We may pause to ask what is the significance of this reference to 'obstacle of law.' The law provides for 'reasonable rates' and an appropriate percentage for fixing of reasonable rates by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Were these proceedings and the provisions of law the 'obstacles of law' to which reference was made? Were they to be overcome if necessary, to accomplish the desired increase? It must be understood that the burden of increased rates is passed on to the public. It necessarily affects a host of activities, agricultural and industrial.

"Increases of wages for selected classes of men on railroads might result in restrictions on a great number of other workingmen, not only those employed by railroads, but upon those employed in industries throughout the country, if the latter be required to operate under increased transportation charges.

PRESENT ADJUSTMENTS.

"Again, what becomes of present adjustments and business agreements relating to the men whose services are involved in this bill if wages are fixed by law in this manner?

"Manifestly, we have here an extremely intricate question of rates and outlays. What was the manifest duty of the executive? Plainly, to insist that investigation should precede action, and that nothing should be yielded to force. It was stated by the executive in his address to Congress that 'the matter' had been agitated for more than a year. Why, then, was it not investigated? Could the administration command all necessary machinery for fair and thorough inquiry? Not only did the administration fail to take proper action on its own initiative, but the business men of the country appealed in vain to the administration for investigation. Their request won no favorable action.

"Time was allowed to run and then came the surrender that shocked the people throughout the land. Was the 'crisis' unforeseen? Why was it permitted to arise when the administration was forewarned.

FOR ARBITRATION.

"I stand for the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes. Labor, least of all, can afford to have that principle surrendered. It is a civilized method, as opposed to the injurious contests of force, which impoverish labor and imperil the social order. The essence of the matter is a fair and reasonable hearing of all parties concerned and a just determination according to the facts.

"It is no answer to say that the awards of arbitration are not always just. The effort should be to improve reasonable methods, not to subvert them. Railroad companies refusing arbitration have been condemned at the bar of public opinion and great progress has been made in the direction of peaceful and reasonable settlement of labor disputes.

"To say that fair and prompt arbitration could not have been had in this case is to indict both the administration and the American people."

Mr. Hughes held that there was "no justification of the yielding of principle." "Of those who sought to 'excuse the administration' on the ground of exigency he would ask, he said, 'how far do you propose to

CONVENTION RUN BY PATRONAGE

Democrats Allowed a Voice in Sacramento Confab.

Los Angeles Protest Ignored by the Delegates.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Patronage came to the front again today and enabled Gov. Johnson to run the Republican State convention with the ease of a jeweler regulating a watch. Doubtful delegates were shown a copy of a decision from the Attorney-General to the effect that members of the Legislature elected in November would not be barred from the holding of other salaried State jobs by the initiative amendment prohibiting legislators from holding other State positions. Atty.-Gen. Webb says the amendment will not become effective until 1919. Twelve prospective legislators promptly flopped and the control of the Republican convention by the Progressive machine was accomplished.

Senator Frank H. Benson made his own selection doubly sure by voting for himself, even after his opponent, J. A. Pettis, had voted for Benson. When the roll call was finished, Pettis rose and asked permission to make a motion.

"I can entertain no motions until the result has been announced," quickly responded temporary Chairman Breed, and he hurriedly announced: Benson 93, Pettis 45. Mr. Benson is chosen chairman of the convention. Proceed, Mr. Pettis."

"My motion has been forestalled by the unseemly haste of the temporary chairman," responded Pettis. "I was seeking an opportunity to move to make the nomination of Mr. Benson unanimous."

BENSON'S EULOGY.

Mr. Benson proceeded to deliver a short, but fervent, eulogy on his own untiring efforts in behalf of the people of California and proceeded to name committees which he said he had selected for the purpose of harmonizing all contending factions in the Republican party. It was noticeable that these remarkable harmony committees do not contain the name of a single delegate who failed to vote for Benson for chairman.

San Francisco's malodorous delegation sat in the convention guarded like convicts by Sheriff Tom Finn and the notorious San Francisco gambler and despot of the underworld, Frank Daroux. Never in all the years of former Boss Ruef was the good name of the Republican party brought so low.

Just before the roll for temporary chairman was called Daroux swaggered down the aisle to the seat of Henry Byrne, Republican nominee from the Thirty-second Assembly District.

Grasping Byrne by the shoulder he said:

"Come outside here, young fellow, I want to talk to you."

After a moment's hesitation Byrne rose and followed down the aisle.

Five minutes later he returned to his seat, his face still flushed from suppressed anger. Byrne voted for Pettis. At the close of the convention Byrne gave the following version of his conversation with Daroux:

"When we reached the lobby Daroux turned to me and said: 'You are from the Thirty-second District. I want you to vote for Benson.'

"'Nothing doing,' I replied. 'I am a Republican and will vote for Pettis.'

"'If you vote for Pettis,' he snarled back, 'I'll spend $30,000 in that district to beat you.'

"'Spend $30,000,' I snapped back, 'and you can't do it.'

"I know my fight will be harder for Daroux and Al McCabe are like two brothers, but I'll make my fight and take chances."

Finn and Daroux occupied seats on the floor of the convention until the vote for temporary chairman was cast. It is the first time in the history of California that the king of the San Francisco underworld has sat in a Republican convention.

Southern California delegates who voted for Pettis were:

Chamberlin, Rominger, Gates, Edwards, C. W. Lyon, Bartlett, A. B. Johnson, Shepperd, Merriam, Farmer, Watson, Baker, Burke, Baldwin, Doran, Webster, Garland, Ward and Mines. Yonkin was ill in his room and could not attend the convention.

For the first time in the history of the State, even under our direct primary, delegates registered as Democrats or Progressives and, holding certificates to their conventions, voted in a Republican convention. There is no warrant for this in law and the seven who so voted were without credentials giving them seats in the Republican convention. Secretary of State Frank Jordan declined to issue to any delegate credentials to a convention of a party of which he was not a member.

But the machine majority invoked that clause of the law which provides that the convention shall be the judge of the qualifications of its members in order to bring the outsiders into the convention. There was still a chance that their votes might be needed.

Albert Bartlett of Los Angeles, Bismarck Bruck of St. Helena and a number of other Republican delegates protested against this debauching of a Republican convention. "The question at issue," said Bartlett, "is this: Shall a Democrat pledged to the support of Woodrow Wilson and holding credentials to a Democratic convention be permitted to sit in a convention that seeks the election of Charles Evan Hughes?"

Bartlett and Bruck soon discovered, however, that their premises were faulty; the question was not one of equity, but of votes. Again to make assurance doubly sure, the majority voted that the contesting delegates should vote on their own qualifications. This meant that seven persons who were without any certification whatever, rank outsiders under the law, were permitted to vote themselves on the question of whether they should be permitted to vote as de facto delegates.

Such voting is not permitted in any of the national political conventions and is without precedent in parliamentary procedure; political expediency was the sole argument in its favor, and this argument won.

MACHINE IN CONTROL.

This put the State machine in full control. Senator Benson is known as one of the most radical Progressives in the State, and Lee Gebhard, secretary of the convention, is now registered as a Progressive and sat in the Republican convention as a de facto delegate only.

Behind this show of apparent strength, however, there was a hidden weakness. Assemblyman Gelder of Berkeley and Byrne of San Francisco voted against the administration slate. Both are renominated for the Assembly in their district and both supported the administration in the last Legislature. Their defection may mean two more votes for the opposition in Assembly in January. Pete Philips of Los Angeles was the only member of the opposition to fall down.

The committees named by Chairman Benson are as follows:

On credentials—William Kehoe of Humboldt, W. A. McDonald of San Francisco, Paul Arnerich of Alameda, W. E. Calahan of Contra Costa, J. D. Willard of San Mateo, W. J. Martin of Monterey, T. L. Ambrose of Los Angeles.

On platform—W. E. Brown of Los Angeles, W. T. Satterwhite of Alameda, W. F. Chandler of Fresno, W. R. Sharkey of Contra Costa, F. R. Gardes of San Francisco, J. B. Gilbert of Alameda, F. G. Stevens of Calaveras, J. M. Inman of Sacramento.

On State Central Committee—Arthur H. Breed of Alameda county, James J. Ryan of San Francisco, Henry Lyon of Los Angeles, I. E. Kramer of Santa Barbara, Henry C. Jones of Santa Clara, F. G. Stevenot of Calaveras, J. M. Inman of Sacramento.

On Presidential Electors—James G. Quinn of Alameda county, W. M. Collins of San Francisco, Benjamin F. Rush of Solano county, H. A. Wishard of Los Angeles, Lee Gebhard of Sacramento, Frank M. Smith of Alameda county, A. T. Ferguson of Stanislaus.

Secretary Jordan issued a statement tonight explaining why he refused to issue nomination certificates to some of the convention delegates.

JORDAN'S STATEMENT.

Jordan said:

"Where the certified returns from the County Clerk show that candidate has received the highest number of votes of a certain political party I will issue the certificate of nomination to such candidates. However, in the event that a contest has been instituted for a recount, or for any other reason, by a defeated candidate for the same office, then I cannot issue the certificate of nomination for said office until the contest has been decided and the court adjudged who is entitled to the nomination."

JOHNSON EXACTS POUND OF FLESH.

GETS HIS ADMINISTRATION INDORSED BY CONVENTION.

Meyer Lissner, Chester Rowell and "Pinhead" McCarthy are tral Committee—Will Meet September 30 to Organize for Fall Campaign.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Gov. Johnson exacted his pound of flesh from the Republican party tonight, when he forced upon the Republican convention a platform that indorsed the extravagant Progressive administration of the last six years, and a resolution declaring that the Governor himself is the pride of California, the Moses discovered among the bullrushes of the Sacramento River, and a statesman of a little larger caliber than Wilson and Hughes combined.

On the new Republican State Central Committee are such stalwart Republicans as Meyer Lissner, E. A. Dickson, Marshal Stimson, Chester Rowell and P. H. (Pinhead) McCarthy. There are a few regular Republicans on this committee, placed like so many exceptions proving the Progressive rule.

In the list of Republican electors are four regular Republicans and eleven Progressive Republicans. The administration machine placed Willis H. Booth on the list of Presidential electors. This is their idea of making a fifty-fifty division between regulars and Progressives on the electoral ticket.

The list of electors is as follows: J. F. Carlston, Oakland; John A. Britton, San Francisco; Thomas S. Montgomery, San Jose; A. E. Boynton, Oroville; Rudolph Taussig, San Francisco; W. F. Chandler, Fresno; J. C. Needham, San Diego; Mary Roberts Coolidge, Berkeley; Willis H. Booth, Los Angeles; Dr. Louise Harvey Clarke, Riverside; A. J. Wallace, Los Angeles; J. P. Baumgartner, Santa Ana, and Joseph S. Scott, Los Angeles.

When the convention was organized in the afternoon the regular Republicans nominated J. A. Pettis for chairman against Frank H. Benson, Johnson floor leader of the last State Senate. The vote for chairman was: Pettis, 45; Benson, 68; absent or not voting, 13.

THE PROPOSITION.

During a fifteen-minute adjournment that followed the selection of a temporary chairman, emissaries from the Johnson-Progressive forces informed the regular Republicans that they would adopt a resolution indorsing the nomination of Hughes and Fairbanks, provided the Republicans would not oppose a resolution indorsing the Johnson State administration of the last five years.

When the Republicans found that they could secure the indorsement of the Republican standard bearers only as a concession and not as a right, they agreed to sit silent through the convention, taking no part either for or against any programme the administration might propose.

This determination was reached after the regulars had observed that the Democratic delegates were chuckling hilariously whenever there was a controversy in the Republican convention.

"We found ourselves placed in a position where we must take the administration programme or start a row that might endanger seriously the chances of Hughes and Fairbanks in California," commented Assemblyman Cary. "The only thing to do was to accept our humiliation in the interests of the Republican national ticket. We were in the position of the real mother in the judgment of Solomon. We can settle our scores with the opposition when there is no national ticket to endanger. We have not quit, but we are biding our time."

HUGHES IS CHEERED.

With the resolution indorsing Hughes and Fairbanks came the first cheering of the evening. It was held back until the indorsement of the Johnson State administration had first been presented. The regulars sat without voting either for or against the Johnson indorsement.

"BIG BUSINESS" SLURRED BY PRESIDENT WILSON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Amplifying what he said about Mexico in his speech of acceptance of September 2, to the effect that the "people of Mexico have not been suffered to own their country or direct their own institutions," President Wilson declares in a signed article appearing in the Ladies' Home Journal for October, headed "The Mexican Question," that the State parasitism of big business, which seeks intervention in Mexico, can no longer be tolerated in the United States without reviving the "gravest suspicions throughout all the States of America."

The President believes that Mexico "must, no doubt, suffer through long processes of blood and terror before she finds herself and returns to the paths of peace and order," but that she must be left alone to make this struggle, just as "other nations older in political experience than she have staggered and struggled through these dark ways for years together, to find themselves at last, to come out into the light, to know the price of liberty, to realize the compulsion of peace and orderly processes of law."

REGIME OF DIAZ.

The stable order maintained in Mexico by Diaz, the President says, has been purchased "at a terrible cost when it has been obtained by foreign assistance." This assistance, invariably conditioned upon "concessions," has put the greater part of the resources of the country "in the hands of foreign capitalists, and by the same token under the 'protection' of foreign governments." He adds:

"Mexico is one of the treasure houses of the world. It is exceedingly to be desired by those who wish to amass fortunes. Its resources are indeed serviceable to the whole world and are needed by the industries of the whole world. No enterprising capitalist can look upon her without coveting her. The foreign diplomacy with which she has become bitterly familiar is the "dollar diplomacy," which has almost invariably obliged her to give precedence to foreign interests over her own.

"What she needs more than anything else is financial support which will not involve the sale of her liberties and the enslavement of her people."

The President declares that foreign enterprises in Mexico can never be safely conducted so long as they excite the suspicion and the hatred of the people of the country itself. While he finds that a great many Americans in Mexico have acted with the honor and public spirit there that characterize them at home, he emphasizes the fact that the "system by which Mexico has been financially assisted has in the past generally bound her hand and foot and left her in effect without a free government. It has in almost every instance deprived her people of the part they were entitled to play in the determination of their own destiny and development."

WHAT MEXICO FEARS.

The President adds:

"This is what every leader in Mexico has to fear, and the history of Mexico's dealings with the United States cannot be said to be reassuring.

"It goes without saying that the United States must do as she is doing. She must insist upon the safety of her border. She must, so fast as order is worked out of chaos, use every instrumentality she can in friendship employ to protect the lives and the property of her citizens in Mexico.

"But she can establish permanent peace on her borders only by a resolute and consistent adoption in action of the principles which underlie her own life. She must respect the liberties and the self-government of Mexicans as she would respect her own. She has professed to be the champion of the rights of small and helpless states and she must make that profession good in what she does. She has professed to be the friend of Mexico, and she must prove it by seeing to it that every step she takes is a step of friendship and helpfulness. His concluding sentence asserts the Golden Rule: 'America will honor herself and prove the validity of her own principles by treating Mexico as she would wish Mexico to treat her.'"

BERLIN, Sept. 19 (via London.)—The new line taken up by the retreating forces of Russian and Rumanian troops in Eastern Rumania between the Danube and the Black Sea has been penetrated at several points by the Teutonic forces, the War Office announced today.

IN THE WEST.

The Germans yielded further ground on the Somme front and in the Verdun sector, the War Office announced today. The statement follows:

"In the Somme region, on account of unfavorable weather conditions, there were no severe engagements, although the artillery was active at some places. East of Ginchy and before Combles, we yielded to the enemy some trenches which had been demolished by artillery.

"We repulsed partial attacks near Belloy and Vermandovillers.

ON THE OFFENSIVE.

Taking the offensive on the Stokhod River, the Germans yesterday formed a strong Russian bridgehead and drove the Russians across the river, the War Office announced today. More than 2500 Russians were captured as well as seventeen machine guns.

AVIATORS ATTACK SHIPS.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 19 (via Sayville.)—A duplication of the successful attack of Sept. 17, by German aeroplanes on hostile craft off the Flanders coast, was announced today by the German Admiralty. The official statement says:

"On September 15, German aeroplanes again attacked off the Flanders coast with excellent success. Hostile naval forces composed of two monitors, sixteen destroyers and one sailing ship, for aeroplanes on the last of which an unmistakable hit was observed.

"A hostile aeroplane out of a squadron which ascended in order to repulse our raiders was forced to alight on Dutch territory."

"According to a British Admiralty announcement of September 16," says the Overseas News Agency today, "a squadron of British seaplanes bombarded heavy batteries in the vicinity of Ostend. It is stated on competent German authority that no such attack took place, but that during the night of September 15-17 hostile aircraft attempted to attack Zeebrugge. The bombs dropped harmlessly into the sea, doing no damage."

BREADSTUFFS.

The reduction last week in the price of breadstuffs, was followed today by a lowering of the meat prices in Berlin. Roasting beef was reduced from 3 marks to 2 marks, pfennings a pound; other beef 2 marks, 60 pfennigs to 2 marks 40 pfennigs; veal from 2 marks 10 pfennigs to 1 mark 90 pfennigs.

FROM WEST TO EAST.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 19, 12:30 p.m.—The Wireless Press today gave out a Berne dispatch quoting the Sudd[illegible] Zeitung to the effect that the German great general staff has been moved from the western to the eastern front.

The great German headquarters staff directs operations on all fronts and at which the Emperor as chief of staff spend much of their time, was in Belgium in the early weeks of the war and subsequently was moved to Northern France. In the spring of 1915 it was at a town near Lille. According to unofficial reports it was transferred later to a small village further east.

The appointment of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg as chief of staff has been reported that he desired to leave the eastern front. It was also reported that Emperor William, with Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and representatives of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey were at the western headquarters for a conference which was to decide the [illegible] of the campaign in the east.

GERMANS ENTER RUMANIAN LINE

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 19 (via London.) The new line taken up by the reinforced Russian and Rumanian forces in Eastern Rumania between the Danube and the Black Sea has not been penetrated at several points by the Teutonic forces, the War Office announced today. The statement follows:

IN THE WEST.

The Germans yielded further ground, on the Somme front and on the Verdun sector, the War Office announced today. The statement follows:

"On the Somme region, on account of unfavorable weather conditions there were no severe engagements, although the artillery was active at some places. East of Ginchy and Les Combles, we yielded to the enemy some trenches which had been demolished by artillery.

"We repulsed partial attacks near Thiaumont and Vermandovillers.

"West of the Meuse (Verdun region) a French attack on the western slope of Dead Man Hill enabled us temporarily to penetrate our positions."

ON THE OFFENSIVE.

Having taken the offensive on the Sokhod River, the Germans yesterday crossed a strong Russian bridgehead and drove the Russians across the river, the War Office announced today. More than 2500 Russians were captured as well as seventeen machine guns.

"A hostile aeroplane out of a squadron which ascended in order to cover our raiders was forced to land on Dutch territory."

According to a British Admiralty statement of September 16," says the Overseas News Agency today, "a number of British seaplanes bombed heavy batteries in the vicinity of Ostend. The bombs dropped into the sea, doing no damage."

FROM WEST TO EAST.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 19, 12:50 p.m.—The Morning Press today gave out a Petrograd dispatch quoting the Rhein-Westfalische Zeitung to the effect that the German great general staff had been moved from the western to the eastern front.

"The great German headquarters, which directs operations on all fronts at which the Emperor William is not present, has left Pless, which was in Belgium in the early months of the war and subsequently was moved to Northern France, in the spring of 1915 it was moved to a town near Berlin. According to official reports it was transferred to a small village further to the east.

"The appointment of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg as chief of staff has been reported that he desires to leave in France and Belgium efficient men to hold the line while he his energies to the east, and is credited with the belief that on this front that the first great victories must be won.

"Should he returned from his visit to the eastern front. It was reported that Emperor William, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and representatives of Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey were at the German headquarters for a conference which was to decide the course of the campaign in the east.

GOVERNMENT FILES ANTHRACITE APPEAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Atty.-Gen. Gregory today filed a brief in the Supreme Court in his appeal from the decision of a Federal District Court in Pennsylvania refusing the government's plea for dissolution under the Sherman anti-trust act and the commodities clause of the railroad rate act of the Reading Company, called the "backbone of the alleged monopoly of anthracite."

The combination, the brief says, has a history permeated with illegality and characterized by a deliberate purpose to drive others from the field, resulting in increased prices out of proportion to increased production costs.

NAVAL CIVIL BOARD MADE LEGAL BUREAU.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The navy civilian consulting board, composed of twenty-four of the nation's most eminent scientists and engineers, took its place today as a legalized bureau of the Navy Department, and the names of its members, headed by Thomas A. Edison, as chairman, were placed upon the rolls under a recent act of Congress as "officers of the United States government."

The board's inauguration was attended by impressive ceremonies held in the offices of Secretary Daniels.

Immediately on taking the oath of office the board members effected a permanent organization. Mr. Edison was elected chairman. William L. Saunders of the American Institute of Mining Engineers and Dr. Peter C. Hewitt of the Inventors' Guild, both of New York, were selected as vice-chairmen, and Thomas Robbins of the Inventors' Guild was appointed secretary.

Secretary Daniels and most of the board members left tonight on the naval yacht Dolphin to witness target practice maneuvers of the Atlantic fleet on the southern drill grounds.

WAR PROSPERITY IN GERMANY, TOO.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 18, 6 p.m. (via London, Sept. 19, 2:12 a.m.)—Complete returns for the fiscal year 1915 indicate that German industries, far from suffering from the war, appear to have profited extensively and to have gained materially over preceding years. The war's beneficial effects are especially marked in the leather and the chemical and dye industries, both of which have enjoyed unprecented prosperity from war orders.

The annual statements of forty of Germany's largest leather companies show that their profits in 1915 were 27.70 per cent. as compared with 20.28 per cent. in 1914, while 114 chemical and dye companies averaged 21.14 per cent. against 19.22 in 1914.

The statistics for nineteen varieties of industries and comprising 2900 firms show that all have profited—from thirty-seven plus, the figure attained by leather, to 1.88, the figure attained by stone.

The only losers in both years of the war have been the building industries, papers, hotels, restaurants and miscellaneous industries.

FRANK ROCKEFELLER FAILS TO MAKE UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19.—William Rockefeller, on his first visit to Cleveland in years, failed to bring about a reconciliation between his brothers, Frank and John D., estranged eighteen years.

This was made known by Frank Rockefeller today. "There will never be a reconciliation in this world between John and me," he said.

William Rockefeller returned to New York with his wife Monday night. They arrived Sunday morning to visit John D. Rockefeller at his Forest Hill estate.

Frank for the first time told this story of the break between himself and John D.

"In 1898, John and I had a row over business. I said at that time 'I'm through,' and I meant it. I am through."

SCIENTIST'S DIVORCE ON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

Dyar alleges cruelty and desertion and Mrs. Dyar alleges adultery.

Grimly silent sat the regulars when the Governor came in at the close and delivered the only eulogy on his administration heard during the convention.

The new Republican State Central Committee will meet in San Francisco on Saturday, September 30, to organize for the fall campaign.

HARMONY PLENTY AMONG DEMOCRATS

FEDERAL BRIGADE CONTROL IS OVERWHELMING.

Postmaster Charles Fay of San Francisco Carries Slate in His Pocket and Delegates Meekly Bow to His Dictum—Dockweiler Chairman.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Harmony was as assertive as an aching tooth in today's session of the Democratic State Convention. The control of the Federal brigade was still more overwhelming than that of the Johnson machine in the Republican convention.

Postmaster Charles Fay of San Francisco carried the Democrat slate in his pocket. He was supreme. He swayed the convention from a seat on the sidelines with a simple wave of the hand. While others higher up may have been giving hidden instructions, Fay was the man in the open.

Last night Henry Hawson of Fresno was regarded as the choice of the delegates for chairman. At the Sacramento Hotel, however, Fay simply said this morning, "Nothing doing," and Hawson's boom plunged out of sight like a submarine. Isadore Dockweiler of Los Angeles, the battle-scarred hero of more than twenty notable Democratic defeats, was named chairman of the convention.

For the first few minutes after the convention opened satellites of Gavin McNab of San Francisco tried feebly to start something, and Sydney Van Wyck attempted a few incursions in his own interest. But when the Fay thumbs pointed down they quickly subsided.

Marked interest was displayed by the Democrats in the opening rounds on the Republican convention, and the chairman experienced considerable difficulty in keeping enough delegates present to make up a roll call. Both the afternoon and evening sessions adjourned without anything definite. The Democrats were plainly marking time in the hope that the enemy would start something in its own camp that might rebound to the advantage of the Democrats.

Marked satisfaction was expressed at the crude manner in which the administration programme was crowded through in the Republican convention. "They are making a thousand votes a minute in there for Wilson and Patton" was the cheering information brought back by one of the Democratic scouts. He called it out in a stage whisper from the aisle and the Democratic delegates laughed in high glee.

PATTON SPEAKS.

George S. Patton, Democratic nominee for United States Senator, addressed the convention after the adoption of the platform on the issues of the campaign. He received an enthusiastic reception.

As soon as it became apparent that there would be no further opposition to the administration programme in the Republican convention the Democrats hurried through to adjournment. They had expected to be in session tomorrow.

Senator Phelan failed to come up from San Francisco to attend the Democratic convention. He seemed to take to heart the warning of the Johnson press that if he spoke for Patton it would cost Wilson thousands of votes. He sent a telegram which was non-committtal on the United States Senatorial question.

When the Democratic State Central Committee was named it became strikingly apparent that the Federal brigade did not have any idea of relinquishing its control of State politics. For the next two years the Democratic politics of California will be bossed directly from Washington.

DRY PARTY ENDS ITS WORK EARLY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Of the five political conventions in session here today, the Prohibitionists were the first to conclude their work early tonight and depart for their homes. The convention, represented by twenty delegates, adopted a State platform which reaffirmed the planks of the national party, selected a State Central Committee of fifty-five members, of which Ernest E. Taylor of Los Angeles was selected chairman, and named thirteen Presidential electors.

The party platform contained a clause rebuking the State Viticultural Commission for its alleged action in opposing the constitutional amendments for prohibition. The State primary law was indorsed "but with such modifications that may be necessary to make it more effective."

The thirteen electors chosen were: Mrs. Annie E. K. Bidwell, Chico; Elam Biggs, Grass Valley; Robert Rogers, Stockton; Minnie Goldthwaite, San Francisco; Walter Woolover, San Francisco; H. A. Johnson, Berkeley; T. K. Beard, Modesto; Ada E. Ferris, Santa Barbara; A. K. Nash, Pasadena; C. C. Selecman, Los Angeles; C. S. Corkhill, Ontario; Fred F. Wheeler, Los Angeles, and Wiley J. Phillips, Los Angeles.

PRO-WAR CAMPAIGN STARTED IN GREECE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ATHENS, Sept. 18 (via London, Sept. 19, 3:40 p.m.)—The royalist organ Forward will publish tomorrow the opening article in a pro-war campaign, intended to prepare the opinion of Greeks for the entry of their country into the war.

The newspaper demands an immediate explanation and the release of the Greek soldiers made prisoner by the Bulgarians at Kavala, plainly indicating that the alternative will be war.

Speaking of the Greeks made prisoner at Kavala, the Forward says:

"Only those are treated as prisoners who surrender to the enemy. We know that Premier Kalogeropoulos has taken steps with Germany for the immediate return of our soldiers with all their effects. If this demand is not at once satisfied, the government must consider the measures to be taken."

King Constantine is said not to be ignorant of the contents of the Forward's article.

Adamson Bill.

yield to force?" asserting that force can reject courts as well as arbitration, that it can dispense with any part of the orderly procedure of government which it may oppose.'" Mr. Hughes continued.

GUIDE FOR WILSON.

"When force is proposed and arbitration is refused, there is but one stand to take and that is to appeal to the judgment of the country to vindicate the processes of reason. Had the executive, when arbitration was declined, at once directed the entire force of public opinion, as he easily could, to the demand for the recognition of the principle of arbitration, I have no doubt he would have won and the nation would have been his debtor.

"Had the executive gone at once to Congress for immediate authority to secure prompt and thorough investigation of the stated grievances in advance of action and had he thus made instant provision for an inquiry so entirely competent as to command the respect of the country, I am satisfied there could have been no strike. We are still ruled by public opinion, and no administration need fear results if it stands firmly for essential principle."

Mr. Hughes explained that he was not speaking of "the propensity or advisability of fixing wages by law," but of a more fundamental question —legislation according to the facts, as opposed to legislation under pressure in the absence of inquiry."

TOO MUCH LEGISLATION.

He continued:

"We have undoubtedly too much legislation without adequate consideration, but there are usually the forms and presumptions of legislative consideration on the merits of proposals. Here even these were absent.

"Within a few hours on demand of the administration Congress provided a mandatory increase of wages, involving millions of dollars, without any idea whether the increase was or was not justified. And this action was taken in connection with the essential instrumentality of commerce, the arteries of our commercial life.

"Mr. Adamson said of his bill: 'It is hasty legislation, I admit, to meet an emergency.' What emergency? The emergency of force to which the administration had capitulated.

"Mr. Underwood said: 'We have no information on which to legislate and to fix rates of wages which we are going to do and are attempting to do.'

"Contrast the action of this administration with that of Grover Cleveland, in 1886, who said with respect to labor legislation: 'All legislation on the subject should be calmly and deliberately undertaken, with no purpose of satisfying unreasonable demands or gaining partisan advantage.'

"It is idle to excuse the action taken by the Adamson bill by a request for additional legislation with respect to the future. That legislation was not obtained. We are dealing with what was demanded and actually enacted.

FROM FRIEND OF LABOR.

"One of the foremost friends of labor in this country states the plain truth in writing to me as follows: 'Those of us who know the labor struggle and have helped in the fight for standardizing in our industrial life, well know that in the end laborers gain nothing by violence, unjust or arbitrary action of any kind, or the exercise of anti-social power of any description. However some groups may be advanced in economic power by illegitimate means, the common interests of the great group of toilers can never be. Such gains are always at the cost of public opinion and support, are temporary and evanescent in character and operate to lessen the co-operation of that just public sentiment for the well-being of the workers of the world so essential to their improvement of the conditions of labor.'

"We have seen an unjustifiable attempt to use public sentiment with respect to another eight-hour work day in order to justify a bill which does not provide another eight-hour work day, but relates solely to an increase in wages. We have seen the choice of what seemed to be the easier way, which escaped the necessity of a determined stand for principles. We have seen what has appeared to be the consideration of immediate political expediency at the expense of public welfare.

"The issue thus presented is fundamental. The multiplying activities of the government would be intolerable if we did not proceed in accordance with judgment based on an examination of the facts. These processes of reason are the only alternative to tyranny. We are an alert and intelligent people with every opportunity for ascertaining the facts of any situation. Our problems in the future are likely to be in the main economic problems and they will severely test our capacity, but we shall find solutions if we are open-minded and thorough in our investigations.

"We can stand mistakes in policies if we are sound in method, but we cannot yield reason to the rule of force. That is the path of sure disaster. I should not take the first step in that path."

possibly 10,000 votes. The actual stand-pat Progressive vote today undoubtedly was much smaller than that, as many enrolled Progressives who have returned to the Republican fold within the last year voted in that party's primaries this time because of the keen contests for the gubernatorial nomination by the other big party candidates.

Mr. Bacon, who served as Ambassador to France until displaced by President Wilson, was indorsed at the eleventh hour by Col. Roosevelt because of his stand in favor of universal military service.

The early returns from some of the city boroughs indicated that Gov. Whitman had nearly doubled the Seabury vote in a considerable number of election districts. Particularly in Brooklyn, 100 election districts out of 773 in the borough gave Whitman 311 and Seabury 152.

CALDER RUNNING WELL.

Calder, as expected, ran far ahead of Bacon in the former's home borough, Brooklyn, receiving a vote of about 5 to 1. Two hundred election districts gave Calder 5291 and Bacon 1010. In the whole city 510 election districts out of 2079 gave Calder 10,317 and Bacon only 2739.

The Republican vote for Gov. Whitman in this city indicated that he would lead Bennett by about 50,000. Eight hundred and sixty election districts out of the 2079 gave Whitman 24,003 and Bennett 4086. Bennett received a much larger proportion of votes in some of the up-State counties where a strong anti-Whitman sentiment had developed, but the gain over the Governor made no material showing.

Three hours after the polls closed the returns from all over the State indicated that the old-line parties had polled an unusually large primary vote, while the Progressive vote would fall far short of the enrollment of 46,206.

The keen contest in the Progressive column were expected to show pretty accurately what was left of the Bull Moose organization in the State, although the percentages in primary elections are always small, compared with the regular elections. The vote was evidently a sorry disappointment to the radical element of the Progressives, who still entertain a hope of rescuing something of value from the wreckage of their party.

The contest between Bacon and Calder was the most spirited event of the primaries. Calder, with the backing of the Whitman-Parsons combination of State and New York City Republican forces, had the Progressive indorsement in spite of the fact that Col. Roosevelt was backing Bacon.

Co-operating with the colonel were his old enemy, William Barnes, the Albany boss, and a lot of other important regular and Progressive captains, including Elihu Root, Joseph H. Choate and John E. Hedges.

Local leaders viewed the candidacy of Bacon as the first gun in a finish fight between the Whitman-Parsons machine and the powerful opposition for the control of the local machine in December.

Uniting in common cause, Roosevelt and Barnes are preparing to give battle to Parsons for the New York county machine.

Albany county, with 100 election districts reported, gave Mr. Calder 980 and Mr. Bacon 9485.

The same number of districts gave Mr. Whitman for the Republican nomination for Governor 8967 and Mr. Bennett 727; Mr. Travis for Controller 8795 and Mr. Hooker 887.

Politicians, when they received the news of the Albany county vote, commented upon the ability of Mr. Barnes to deliver the vote in his own bailiwick. The result showed that he was just as much of a political power in his own home as he ever was, they said. It was remarked that, although the pendulum of politics had swung so as to deprive Mr. Barnes of some of his power in national and State party affairs, he still retained it in his county to a most remarkable degree.

SHAKY NERVES

Unless you are well advanced in years your hand should be steady.

If your hand, your thumb or foot trembles when you try to hold it still, if the lines are shaky when you write, if you have tremors of your lips or chin, your nerves need strengthening.

These signs often precede a serious nervous breakdown. In meeting this condition it is necessary to exercise care in the diet and take a nervine tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain ingredients that build up the nerves at the same time that they tone up the system in general and their value in preventing nervous disorders from developing cannot be disputed.

They are especially recommended for nervous, run-down people because they are a non-alcoholic tonic.

LATEST STYLE LIKE A SMOKING JACKET.

NEWEST HATS ALSO RECALL PURITAN FOREFATHERS.

In Evening Gowns Some Have Trains and Some Have not, as Shown in Survey of New York Modes—Chicago Produces Substitute for Muff.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 19.—Man's sphere has been invaded once more by the eternal feminine. The result appears in a smart black satin suit contributed by Jeanne Lanvin, famous couturiere of Paris, to an array of gorgeous gowns, suits and wraps by foreign artists and just in from the French capital.

The coat of this suit, with broad collar and patch pockets of quilted black satin, is strongly suggestive of a man's smoking jacket.

A cherry red velvet hat also reminds one of those high-crowned affairs our Puritan forefathers used to wear to church Sundays—not the color, of course, but the shape. This belongs with a smart little gown of blue serge, made by Lanvin in a Japanese style and trimmed with broadcloth collar and cuffs and quantities of fancy machine stitching, all in cherry red. The belt boasts four gay little pompons, also red. Black evening gowns appear in profusion in both velvet and lace, and jet of metallic lace is a favorite trimming.

Nearly all the evening gowns have loose tulle draperies for sleeves. Doeuillet has sent one with a narrow front panel of pink under black lace and Bernard one of velvet, with silver embroidery and silver coney fur.

TRAINS AND TRAINLESS.

Some have trains and some have not. One evening gown of sapphire-blue tulle, heavily embroidered in sequins, has a fluffy train depending from each side. That is from Paquin.

Some of the gowns are high-waisted, some long and many have close-fitting girdles or sashes about the hips. Metallic silks and laces are exceedingly popular. Worth contributes a gorgeous creation in orange and silver brocade and silver lace with a long pointed train of the silk.

Evening wraps are equally gorgeous, of velvet, brocades and fur, moleskin and seal predominating. Muffs to match are effective novelties, so is a wide girdle of rose and silver ribbon arranged latticewise.

SUBSTITUTE FOR MUFF.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 19.—Away with muffs and all that sort of trouble.

A dainty substitute that has the blessing of Dame Fashion herself and which will keep the hands as warm as the old-fashioned muff was shown today at the semi-annual style exhibit conducted by the Fashion Art League of America. Every suit must have its white kid fur-trimmed gauntlet gloves to match, just as it always has had its harmonizing hat.

To add to the charmingly masculine touch, a startling suggestion of baggy trousers was seen in some of the skirts shown, which, though not actually divided, were bagged in at the hem and worn without any petticoats.

A bridal negligee of filmiest satin and madranet and trimmed in tiny pink roses that seemed to climb over it as over a trellis was one of the features of the show.

"But as a general thing the styles are simple in line, high-waisted and without freakishness," declared Mrs. Allie B. Bailey, president of the league. "Practical wear and grace of line are the two aims which the dressmakers of today are holding before themselves in creating the modes."

An Indian princess' gown, called the "Dawn Mist," took its inspiration from the straight lines and bead trimmings of our predecessors on this continent.

BARK TORPEDOED, BUT NO COMPLAINT.

LANSING SATISFIED THE DEED WAS PROPERLY DONE.

Report of the Destruction of Two More Steamships is Made Public by the British—Vessel Reaches Manila with a Thousand Packages of Her Cargo Missing.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—No ground for complaint to the Teutonic powers was found by State Department officials in a summary received today from the Consul at Barcelona of affidavits made by two American sailors who belonged to the crew of the Italian bark Stella del Mare, sunk a fortnight ago off the Spanish coast.

The bark is believed to have been torpedoed, but the statements of the American seamen are regarded as too inconclusive to furnish the basis for diplomatic inquiries.

Department officials indicated that the German government probably would be asked for any information available regarding the recent sinking of the British steamer Kelvinia, on which there were twenty-eight American muleteers. Although official reports have left in doubt the question of whether the ship was torpedoed on sunk by a mine, some of the Americans have made affidavits that she was attacked by a submarine without warning.

The case of the American steamer Owego, fired upon by a German submarine, is considered closed with the explanation of Germany that the Owego ignored warning shots and that firing ceased when her nationality was discovered.

TWO STEAMSHIPS SUNK.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 19, 9:58 a.m.—The loss of the steamers Dewa and Lord Tredegar is announced by Lloyd's. The Lord Tredegar passed Gibraltar on September 8 on her way to Port Said and Indian ports from New York. She measured 3347 tons. The Dewa, a British vessel of 3302 tons gross, was last reported as having left Portland on July 19 for Avonmouth.

CONFISCATION.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

MANILA, Sept. 19.—The British steamer Aymeric, from New York, July 3, arrived here today with approximately 1000 packages of her Manila cargo missing. The packages were confiscated at Hongkong. There will be a hearing today to decide as to the culpability of the captain in the seizure of the cargo and to discuss the question of imposing a fine on him.

A dispatch from Manila, September 3, said the Aymeric had been detained at Hongkong and that 1200 packages of her cargo have been removed.

FIVE NOMINATIONS WON BY PARKER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Ivan H. Parker, Republican, of Auburn, won the Republican, Democratic, Socialist and Prohibition nominations for the Assembly, Ninth District, at the recent State primary. He tied for the number of write-in Progressive votes with J. H. Gregory of Rocklin, so they came down to Secretary of State Frank Jordan's office today to flip the coin to see who was the Progressive choice. Gregory called "heads" and lost, so Parker has all nominations and no opposition.

ALLEGED PLOTTER GIVES UP.

Woodward Surrenders in International Blackmailing Scheme.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—William C. Woodward, accused by Department of Justice officials as leader of the gang of alleged international blackmailers caught in a raid on a fashionable apartment hotel here, surrendered to the United States District Attorney here tonight.

Woodward surrendered when he learned that the Chicago agent of the Department of Justice had gone to Washington. He said he would not surrender to that department.

Woodward was released on $2500 bond.

Mrs. Helen Evers, alleged "jure" in the gang's operations, and the only woman still under charges in connection with the "syndicate's" alleged operations, was released on $25,000 bond tonight.

Only two members of the gang, Edward Donohue and Henry Russell, are still in jail.

A Fine Aid For Mother-to-be

We are all greatly indebted to those who tell their experiences. And among the many things which we read about and are of immediate importance to the expectant mother, is a splendid external remedy called "Mother's Friend." This is applied over the muscles of the stomach. It is deeply penetrating in its influence. Mothers everywhere tell of its soothing effect, how it allays pains incident to stretching of the ligaments and muscles. They tell of restful comfort, of calm, peaceful nights, an absence of those distresses peculiar to the period of expectancy, relief from morning sickness, no more of that apprehension with which so many young women's minds become burdened. It is a splendid help. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" from your nearest druggist. Ask your husband to get it for you. Then write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 408 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a very handsome and instructive book. It is filled with suggestive ideas of great help to all women interested in the subject of maternity. And best of all are some letters from mothers that are real inspiration. Write today.

AMADOR COUNTY MINES CLOSED BY A STRIKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JACKSON (Cal.) Sept. 19.—With the exception of the Original Amador and Old Eureka Mines, which pay higher wages than the regular scale, every mine on the mother lode in Amador county was closed down tonight by the strike of miners which was called yesterday. Two officials of the Western Federation of Miners are expected to arrive here tomorrow to organize the strikers for a long siege.

At a meeting of the miners this afternoon they were addressed in English, Slavonian and Italian, the leaders counseling strict observance of the law and abstention from all violence. Following the meeting the miners paraded through Sutter Creek.

Camp has been established by the miners outside Jackson, 400 men being in one camp. The Argonaut has placed barbed wire around its property and other properties are taking precautions against possible violence.

The Keystone mine, which also pays the higher wage scale, has closed down and is undergoing some repairs. The pump crews are working in all the mines, under an agreement between the strikers and the mine owners.

GOVERNOR PROTECTS NEGRO EVANGELIST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALEM (Or.) Sept. 19.—Gov. James Withycombe today sent Sheriff William Esch to Silverton, Or., with instructions that he take precautions against any further movement to deport James E. Fray, negro evangelist, who has been holding revival meetings at that town. Fray recently was escorted from town by citizens, who charged that his sermons were obscene.

MINING ENGINEERS MEET AT DOUGLAS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Sept. 19.—A committee of officials of mining and smelting concerns today met the special train bearing delegates to the convention of the American Institute of Mining Engineers. Visits to the reduction plants of the Copper Queen and Calumet and Arizona mining companies were made in the morning.

The afternoon and evening sessions were devoted to technical subjects.

SORORITY GIRLS EXPOSED TO MEASLES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EUGENE (Or.) Sept. 19.—Because Miss Marian Chapin of Portland stood in the receiving line of a sorority reception Sunday the University of Oregon today, at the very beginning of the semester, threatens to close. Physicians last night pronounced Miss Chapin to be suffering with the measles. The university authorities, with the co-operation of the city health department, will watch for cases and as they develop they will be isolated. It is estimated that 500 students may have been exposed.

OUR LAST WILD MAN LEFT SMALL ESTATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Ishi, last Indian of his tribe, who was found several years ago in one of the remote districts of California and who for several years lived at the affiliated colleges in San Francisco, where he was the subject of ethnological study by members of the faculty, left an estate of a net value of $171, and this amount was today awarded by the Probate Court to the affiliated colleges.

This sum, in addition to what was used to bury Ishi when he died a few months ago and to pay his debts, was collected by the "last wild man" through the sale of picture post cards of himself.

STANFORD STUDENTS SEEKING FRANCHISE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PALO ALTO, Sept. 19.—The question of why University of California students are given the right to vote, while Stanford University students are deprived of the right of franchise has been placed before Atty.-Gen. Webb by President Wilbur of Stanford in a letter.

President Wilbur said he became convinced the Stanford students who are asking for the ballot were in the right when they brought forward one of their number who said his brother attends the University of California and had no trouble registering and voting at Berkeley.

SAMUEL HILL HOME FROM AIDING RUSSIA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 19.—After circling the world since June 15, Samuel Hill, railway magnate and apostle of good highways, returned to Portland today. Mr. Hill was called to Siberia by the Russian government to devise a way for expediting the transportation of war munitions over the trans-Siberian railroad, but he declined to commit himself today as to what steps are being taken in this direction.

He crossed the Pacific in going to Siberia and returned by way of New York. On his way home Mr. Hill was the guest of King Albert of Belgium, an intimate acquaintance.

BILLINGS TRIES ALIBI ROUTE

Says He was Nowhere Near Scene of Explosion.

Only Knew of it when He had Read the Newspapers.

McNamara's Landlady Figures in Case as Witness.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Warren K. Billings, first of five defendants to be tried on a charge of murder in connection with the explosion of a bomb during the San Francisco preparedness parade of July 22, in which ten persons lost their lives, took the stand today in his own defense and denied that he had any connection with the explosion or even knew of it until he read the account in the afternoon newspapers.

Billings said he was nowhere near the scene of the bomb explosion. He gave a detailed account of his movements from the time he left the home of Mrs. Belle Lavin at 1:30 p.m. His itinerary, as he gave it, took him nowhere near Steuart or Market streets where the bomb exploded.

Previous to Billings taking the stand, four witnesses had testified that it was not Billings who was on the roof of a building at 36 Market street, carrying a suit case the afternoon of the explosion. Mrs. de Cassia testified that it was not Billings, who called and spoke from the roof to some one in the crowd on the sidewalk, causing people to look up. The prosecution contended that Billings leaned over the edge of the roof and called to Thomas J. Mooney and his wife, Rena, two of the persons now under indictment for murder.

CORROBORATE BILLINGS.

Two witnesses were called to corroborate statements made by Billings as to his movements. The defendant testified to having met a certain automobile in Union Square and also hearing a storekeeper in town speak to girls waiting to see the parade.

Dr. Robert Patek testified that in the afternoon of the explosion his automobile was at the place where Billings said he saw a stalled machine and that at 2 o'clock of the day, Judge Frank H. Dunne, who is trying the case, walked with him to the automobile.

Mrs. Edward Richter testified that she saw the girls mentioned by Billings and said she had remembered dressed to them similar to those Billings swore he heard.

De Cassia is of a build similar to Billings, and today he assumed a position similar to that of a man leaning over and looking down, for the purpose of demonstrating how his profile is like that of the defendant.

The witness testified that he was on the roof of the building from 1 o'clock to 4:15 o'clock on the afternoon of the parade and explosion, and that during nearly all that time there was another man on the roof with a camera that he took from a container similar to appearance to a suit case. De Cassia said he was accompanied by W. P. Crema, of Oakland.

A friend of De Cassia's, Mr. Pincus, the witness said, was in the crowd below, and wanted to go up on the roof. "I signalled to him," testified De Cassia, "to tell him how he could get up."

Thomas Dodge, a jitney driver, testified that his automobile was standing in front of No. 721 Market street and that there was a suit case in the machine there. The prosecution contended that there was a bomb in the machine there in which resided the alleged bomb constructed and carried.

The prosecution closed its case today.

Two witnesses were put on the stand today by the prosecution before it closed.

Mrs. Belle Lavin, at whose home Billings lived, and who was the landlady of the McNamara brothers who pleaded guilty in connection with the Los Angeles Times explosion, was the first witness. Mrs. Lavin was arrested after the explosion of July 22 and held by the police for several days, when she was released. She testified that Billings accompanied Billings to a meeting held prior to the preparedness parade as a protest against it.

The other witness was Frank Rogers, a jitney driver, who testified that he picked Billings up on the day of the explosion and that they had a conversation during the explosion.

The prosecution, following Rogers's testimony, asked to show that it would be permitted to admit evidence to show that Billings was an employee of an automobile factory and at other times, instead of having been concerned in bomb explosions. Judge Franks refused to permit this, and said that this would not be allowed. Assistant upon Dist.-Atty. Charles Fickert said that the prosecution had no other evidence to offer.

M'DONALD RECALLED.

The trial was then turned over to the defense, Maxwell McNutt, chief counsel for the accused, immediately putting on any of his own witnesses asked to have recalled John McDonald, who yesterday testified that he saw Billings leave a suit case in the corner where the explosion subsequently took place.

McNutt asked McDonald if it was not true that on different occasions he said to several different persons, "I'm going east on the money. I have plenty of money in my pocket." McDonald denied that he had ever made such a statement to anybody.

McNutt began the day's session by introducing into evidence copies of San Francisco daily newspapers of July 22 to prove that the fact was known that day announced that the preparedness parade would start at 2 p.m.

SUIT IN POTASH CASE ON TRIAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Trial of the $500,000 damage suit in the so-called "potash case" in which is charged malicious prosecution on the part of the Foreign Mines Development Company, California Trona Company, American Trona Company and W. J. Burns Detective Agency was started today in the Superior Court here with the selection of a jury.

The suit is an outgrowth of a dispute over valuable potash deposits in Searles Lake, San Bernardino county.

VILLA FORCES ELUDE CAVALRY

Bandit Followers Now Hiding in the Mountains.

Numerous Mexican Refugees are Going to Juarez.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHIHUAHUA CITY (Mex.) Sept. 19.—The Villa forces, which recently attacked Chihuahua City have succeeded in eluding government cavalry pursuing them and have taken refuge in the Sierra de Santa Ella and the Cienega de los Ladrones Mountains, south of Santa Isabel, Chihuahua, according to Gen. Matias Ramos, who returned here today from the pursuit. Gen. Ramos reported that after retreating northwest from the State capital the bandits turned south and made their way to hiding places in the mountains and in the swamps. A thorough search of the district failed to reveal their whereabouts, he said.

Gen. Jacinto Treviño announced, however, that every effort would be made to apprehend the outlaws and today conferred with Gen. Ramos and Gens. Domingo Arrieta, Huerta Vargas and Cavazos, to plan future movements. The plans were not disclosed.

INQUIRY INTO ATTACK.

Both military and civil authorities have been conducting a rigid investigation since the attack and are convinced that numbers of residents of the city were party to a well-organized plot to assist in turning the city over to Villa and that the plan failed because of the lack of courage of Villa partisans at the last minute. Several arrests have been made and others are expected.

The city was thrown into a near panic early today when outposts beyond the town fired several shots and reports spread that a second attack was under way. Gen. Trevino, however, investigated personally and soon allayed the fears of the populace.

Manuel Chao, a former Villa general, who until recently had been in the United States, was arrested following the attack and, with the discovery of compromising papers in his pockets, was executed.

SALAZAR OUT AGAIN.

Other reports brought here by refugees say that Jose Ines Salazar is accompanying the band on its retreat and that Villa has announced that, owing to continued ill-health, he intends turning over his command to Salazar temporarily.

Following the discovery that residents of the city had assisted the Villa forces in their attack upon the city by sniping from windows, Gen. Trevino issued orders that all civilians must surrender their arms within twenty-four hours or face a firing squad. As a result, hundreds of guns, ranging from old musketoons to modern high-powered rifles, were received at the cuartel today.

Reports that Jose Ines Salazar, Villa's "perpetual revolutionist," is accompanying Villa's band on their present conflict with reports received in El Paso yesterday by Andres Garcia, Mexican Consul. These said that following his liberation from the penitentiary during the attack, Salazar, who was held in connection with alleged revolutionary plot, was found fighting with the government forces.

ARRIVALS AT JUAREZ.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 19.—More than 100 Mexican refugees who fled Chihuahua City, following Villa's attack last Saturday, arrived in Juarez today, bringing with them their families and their household goods. Most of the arrivals expressed the intention of crossing into the United States in search of work.

Earlier reports placing the Villa losses at between 200 and 250 were borne out by the arrivals, who also estimated the Carranza casualties variously from 200 to 600.

ATTACK CARRANZISTAS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—An attack on Carranza troops in or near Chihuahua by a force under a bandit named Palaez, on September 16, Mexican Independence Day, was reported today in official dispatches. The bandits were said to have inflicted heavy losses upon the soldiers before being repulsed.

MISSOURI PRIVATE IS SHOT BY GUARD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Sept. 19.—Private John Clyne, B, company, Second Missouri Regiment, was shot and killed last night by a military guard at Dolores, as the result, it is said, of an altercation with the guard.

Court Dullum ordered Clyne's arrest and Clyne, becoming enraged, drew his rifle at the lieutenant, whereupon the guard fired, according to military authorities.

Clyne, it was later announced, was shot by Corporal Evans of Co. G, Second Missouri Infantry. All parties involved are residents of Joplin.

BILLINGS TRIES ALIBI ROUTE.

Says He was Nowhere Near Scene of Explosion.

Only Knew of it when He had Read the Newspapers.

McNamara's Landlady Figures in Case as Witness.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Warren K. Billings, first of five defendants to be tried on a charge of murder in connection with the explosion of a bomb during the San Francisco preparedness parade of July 22, by which ten persons lost their lives, took the stand today in his own defense and denied that he had any connection with the explosion or even knew of it until he read the account in the afternoon newspapers.

Billings said he was nowhere near the scene of the bomb explosion. He gave a detailed account of his movements from the time he left the home of Mrs. Belle Lavin at 1:40 p.m. His itinerary, as he gave it, took him nowhere near Steuart and Market streets where the bomb was exploded.

Previous to Billings taking the stand, four witnesses had testified that it was not Billings who was on the roof of a building at No. 721 Market street, carrying a suit case, the afternoon of the explosion. Alde Cassia testified that it was he, not Billings, who called and gestured from the roof to some one in the crowd on the sidewalk, causing people to look up. The prosecution has contended that Billings leaned over the edge of the roof and called down to Thomas J. Mooney and his wife, Rena, two of the persons now under indictment for murder.

CORROBORATE BILLINGS.

Two witnesses were called to corroborate statements made by Billings as to his movements. The defendant testified to having seen a certain automobile in Union Square and also hearing a storekeeper optown speak to girls waiting to see the parade.

Dr. Robert Patek testified that on the afternoon of the explosion his automobile was at the place where Billings said he saw a similar machine and that at 2 o'clock of that day, Judge Frank H. Dunne, who is trying the case, walked with him to the automobile.

Mrs. Edward Richter testified that she saw the girls mentioned by Billings and said she head remarks addressed to them similar to those Billings swore he heard.

De Cassia is of a build similar to Billings, and today he assumed a position similar to that of a man leaning over and looking down, for the purpose of demonstrating that his profile is like that of the defendant.

The witness testified that he was on the roof of the building from 1 to 4 o'clock to 4:15 o'clock on the afternoon of the parade and explosion, and that during nearly all that time there was another man on the roof with a camera, that he took from a container similar in appearance to a suit case. De Cassia said he was accompanied by W. P. Crump, also of Oakland.

A friend of De Cassia's, named Pincus, the witness said, was in the crowd below, and wanted to get up on the roof. "I signalled down to him," testified De Cassia, "to come; him how he could get up."

Thomas Dodge, a jitney driver, testified that his automobile was standing in front of No. 721 Market street and that there was no other machine there. The prosecution has contended that there was another machine there in which members of the alleged bomb conspiracy rode.

The prosecution closed its case today.

Two witnesses were put on the stand today by the prosecution before it closed.

Mrs. Belle Lavin, at whose home Billings lived, and who was also the landlady of the McNamara brothers who pleaded guilty in connection with the Los Angeles Times explosion, was the first witness. Mrs. Lavin was arrested after the bomb explosion of July 22 and held by the police for several days, when she was released. She testified today that she accompanied Billings to a meeting held prior to the preparedness parade as a protest against the parade.

The other witness was Frank Rogers, a jitney driver, who testified that he picked Billings up on the day of the explosion. He denied that they had a conversation regarding the explosion.

The prosecution, following Rogers's testimony, asked the court if it would be permitted to introduce evidence to show that Billings, as an employee of an automobile company and at other times, boasted of having been concerned in bomb explosions. Judge Frank H. Dunne ruled this would not be allowed, whereupon Dist.-Atty. Charles Fickert said that the prosecution had no other evidence to offer.

M'DONALD RECALLED.

The trial was then turned over to the defense. Maxwell McNutt, chief counsel for the accused, before resting on any of his own witnesses asked to have recalled John McDonald, who yesterday testified that he saw Billings leave a suit case on the corner where the explosion subsequently took place.

McNutt asked McDonald if it was not true that on different occasions he said to several different persons "I'm going east on the cushion" or "I'm going east on the cushion" and plenty of money in my pocket." McDonald denied that he had ever made such a statement to anybody.

McNutt began the defense by introducing into evidence copies of the San Francisco daily newspapers of July 22 to prove that the paper announced that the preparedness parade would start at 2 p.m.

SUIT IN POTASH CASE ON TRIAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Trial of the $200,000 damage suit in the so-called "potash war" for alleged malicious prosecution against the Foreign Mines Development Company, California Trona Company, American Trona Company and W. J. Burns Detective Agency started today in the Superior Court here with the selection of a jury.

The suit is an outgrowth of a fight over valuable potash deposits in Searles Lake, San Bernardino county.

VILLA FORCES ELUDE CAVALRY

Faithful Followers Now Hiding in the Mountains.

Chief is Reported to be in Temporary Command.

Numerous Mexican Refugees are Going to Juarez.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHIHUAHUA CITY (Mex.) Sept. 19.—The Villa forces, which recently attacked Chihuahua City have succeeded in eluding government troops pursuing them and have taken refuge in the Sierra de la Nieve and the Cienega de los Ladrones mountains, south of Santa Isabel, Chihuahua, according to Gen. Francisco Ramos, who returned here today from the pursuit. Gen. Ramos declared that after retreating northward from the State capital the Villistas turned south and made their way by hiding places in the mountains and in the swamp. A thorough search of the district failed to reveal the bandits' whereabouts, he said.

Gen. Jacinto Treviño announced, however, that every effort would be made to apprehend the outlaws and had conferred with Gen. Ramos and Gen. Domingo Arrieta, Huerta officers and Cavasos, to plan future operations. The plans were not disclosed.

Reports brought here by refugees say that Jose Inez Salazar has been accompanying the band on its retreat and that Villa has announced his intention of joining him shortly, thereby turning over the command of Salazar temporarily.

SOLDIER PRIVATE IS SHOT BY GUARD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EAGLE PASS (Tex.) Sept. 19.—Private John Clyne, B. company, Second Regiment, was shot and killed last night by a military guard at Dolores, as the result, it is said, of an altercation with the guard.

Lieut. Putnam ordered Clyne's arrest and Clyne, becoming enraged, struck him a blow at the lieutenant, whereupon the guard fired, according to military authorities.

It was later announced, was shot, Corporal Evans of Co. G, Second Infantry. All parties involved are residents of Joplin.

TWO SOLDIERS WHO QUIT GO TO THE GUARDHOUSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 19.—Two enlisted and seventy-four of their companions who left here last Friday on the march to Austin have given out and have returned to Camp Wilson here, Gen. Funston announced today. They have been put under guard and will be conveyed to their home in motor truck back to Hunter, where they will rejoin their regiment.

Funston expressed disappointment that so many men lacked the stamina to make the hike. All of the men will be compelled to do the hike from Austin to Austin, however, no further punishment probable, it was declared for them later, Funston indicated.

Word from this afternoon received from Gen. Pershing a message confirming the news of Villa's defeat. Gen. Funston declined to say whether the American troops would take in chasing the bandits, but it is believed reported, his force is to the Santa Clara Palaces.

BANDITS EXECUTE OIL TOWN OFFICIALS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Sept. 19.—Bandits operating near Gomez Farais, in the Tampico oil district, last week made an attack on that town and captured and executed three municipal officers before they were driven off by Constitutionalist soldiers, according to border arrivals here tonight. The bandits, it was said, captured the municipal president, but he escaped. He confirmed the execution of his companions.

WEDDED AT LEITER HOME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BEVERLY FARMS (Mass.) Sept. 19.—"Edgewater House," the summer residence here of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter of Chicago, was the scene of the marriage today of Miss Frances Williams, a sister of Mrs. Leiter, to John Ballatine Pitney, of Morristown, N. J. The bride is the daughter of Col. John R. Williams, U.S.A., retired, and Mrs. Williams of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Leiter, their daughter and the hostess of today was formerly Miss Juliette Williams.

The marriage was performed by Rev. Nicholas R. Walsh of St. Margaret's Catholic Church. The bride's only attendant was a cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Anne Bradley of Morristown, who was in a gown of blue tulle with contrasting touches of pink, with which she wore a hat of silver. Miss Bradley carried pink roses.

The bridegroom had for his best man John M. Stearns of New York and the group of ushers was made up of John Wing II, Commander Henry G. Butler, Clarence Mitchell, Sheldon Pitney and Francis Bradley. Mr. Pitney and Mr. Bradley are cousins of the bridegroom.

At the reception the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Leiter, and the bridal couple welcomed 200 guests. It was al fresco, as the guests wandered out of doors where the lawns and flowerbeds make the estate most attractive. The wedding breakfast was served on the lawn and an orchestra from Washington furnished the music, playing first indoors for the wedding and on the lawn for the reception.

AMERICANS PROTEST CARRANZA DECREE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—American corporations having idle mines in Mexico appealed today to the State Department to protest against a new mining decree reported under consideration by Gen. Carranza, which they declared might operate to confiscate their property.

The department had not received official information on the subject, but is making inquiries at Mexico City. Carranza, the mine owners say, proposes to increase to a confiscatory rate taxes on developed mines in specified districts now closed because of unsettled conditions which are not put into operation within sixty days. The ostensible purpose, it is said, is to give employment to idle Mexicans.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women, who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body, which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headaches, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make any one a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

There are telegrams at the main office of the Western Union for Francisco C. Alcalde, Mrs. T. Calden, James Colluud, Mrs. Neil Douglas, Charles Dunbauld, S. K. Durfee, Senor Rafael R. Galvan, Marcelino Gonzales, Mrs. L. Nash, A. W. Price, T. W. Robertson and Fred Watkins. At the Postal for J. G. Moran, L. V. Daundivier, Edward Reinich, Mr. Matthewman, Miss Evelyn Lorrane, E. D. Shankie, Miss Garnet Jackson and H. H. Howe.

"The Exclusive Specialty House for Feminine Apparel"

Myer Siegel & Co.
443-445-447 South Broadway

Distinctive Fashions Rule

There's a zest in this season's styles—genuine art in the cut, and in the cloth. Here and there a slash in the skirt of a coat lets the glint of a gay lining through; and Fur is everywhere.

Suits are as distinctive, in a soft, well tailored way, as the dresses are charming and quaint in theirs.

It is this variety—the distinction of line and fabric—that brings such a multitude of particular women to us for clothes.

NEGRO BANDITS.

Armed with heavy revolvers, but not masked, two negro bandits last night held up and robbed Cross, a mining man, living at 415 Ducommon street, as he was passing near Market and Aliso streets. The bandits, according to Mr. Cross, sprang upon him from behind a billboard and attempted to throw up his hands. One of the highwaymen covered him with a revolver while the second one searched and robbed him. A number of neighborhood people by their shouts frightened the bandits away before they had secured any booty.

JUST returned from an extende trip through Guatamala an Honduras, Dr. Sylvanus Griswol Morley, associate archeologist of th Carnegie Institution of Washingto arrived in Los Angeles yesterda with what scientists regard as eas by the most important contributio to archaeology of the year—an al most complete story of the Maya of South America, as told in their own hieroglyphics. Partial results of his researches he gave last night at an informal gathering of savants at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Mason, No. 340 South Andrews boulevard.

The deciphering of the Maya hieroglyphic by Dr. Morley, under whose direction the Carnegie Institution's Central American expedition was conducted, ranks in historical and archaeological importance with the discovery of the Rosetta Stone, he establishes beyond a doubt the existence of a civilization in South America absolutely independent of the ancient civilizations of Asia and Africa and probably antedating them.

The researches of Dr. Morley and his associates also confirm the beliefs, given in hints that appear in the crude diaries kept by the Spanish padres, that the Maya civilization was a highly-developed one and was casual remarks that appear in these records, quoting Maya dialect sayings, that gave the key to these hieroglyphics.

NOTABLE PROGRESS.

Forty per cent. of the characters have been deciphered, and it is accounted that by the end of the year at least 60 per cent. will be known. The distinguishing characteristic of these hieroglyphics is that they enable the researchers to definitely fix upon which important events occurred, and when the entire alphabet, with its many signs and symbols, is finally deciphered, the history of the Maya civilization will be as well known and dates and persons as well established as the history of modern times. In this respect the discovery is even more important than that of the account of ancient civilizations of the east, for despite years of research since the Rosetta Stone was discovered by Champollion in 1828, there are many things still in doubt and many events that are still a matter of conjecture.

BARES SECRETS OF OUR OLDEST CIVILIZATION.

Savant, Returning, Brings Here Nearly Complete Story of Mayas.

[illegible] returned from an extended [illegible] through Guatamala and [illegible] Honduras, Dr. Sylvanus Griswold Morley, associate archeologist of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C., arrived in Los Angeles yesterday with what scientists regard as easily the most important contribution to the archeology of the year—an almost complete story of the Mayas of North America, as told in their hieroglyphics. Partial results of his researches he gave last night at an informal gathering of savants at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lee, No. 340 South Andrews avenue.

The deciphering of the Maya hieroglyphic by Dr. Morley, under the direction the Carnegie Institution's Central American expedition has conducted, ranks in historical and archaeological importance with the discovery of the Rosetta Stone, for it establishes beyond a doubt the existence of a civilization in South America absolutely independent of the ancient civilizations of Asia and Europe and probably antedating them.

The researches of Dr. Morley and his associates also confirm the belief given in hints that appear in the crude diaries kept by the Spanish padres, that the Maya civilization was a highly developed one and that the casual remarks that appear in the records, quoting Maya diaries and sayings, that gave the key to the hieroglyphics.

NOTABLE PROGRESS.

Fifty per cent. of the characters have been deciphered, and it is expected that by the end of the year at least 60 per cent. will be known. The distinguishing characteristic of the hieroglyphics is that they enable the researchers to definitely fix the dates which important events occurred, and when the entire alphabet of the many signs and symbols is finally deciphered, the history of the Maya civilization will be as well known and dates and persons as established as the history of modern times. In this respect the discovery is even more important than that of the account of ancient civilizations of the east, for despite years of research since the Rosetta Stone was discovered by Champollion in 1858, there are many points still in doubt and many events that are still a matter of conjecture.

THE ORIGINAL ZERO.

Another important fact in connection with the deciphering of these hieroglyphics is that they prove the existence of a character representing zero at a period antedating the birth of Christ by 1000 years, while the first known system of numerals that contained this character was supposed to have been that of the zero of India at about 500 A.D.

The Mayas had a perfect astronomical system and the facts with regard to the universe closely approximate those which modern science, with the aid of the most delicate and elaborate equipment of instruments, including powerful lenses, have definitely established.

That education, art—including well-defined types of architecture—and science flourished and reached a high degree of development is all plainly told by the facts revealed to Dr. Morley and his co-workers. The language is one well adapted to the people, as a study of their history shows. Their art was of a sort that, while crude as to execution, nevertheless contained all the essential elements of beauty and proves beyond question that the people were appreciate of that rarest of gifts, simplicity.

The architecture, as told by the ruins of these ancient cities, was of two types. The residences of the nobles were of the low, flat order, usually built in the form of a quadrangle. The temples were built on pyramids, usually at a point commanding a wide expanse of territory. That they were a people of highly developed scientific leanings, is evidenced by the perfect system of astronomy which they developed. While they had no instruments, the use of metals at no time appears to have been employed, they seem to have fixed points on notches in hills and made their observations of the heavenly bodies in such a painstaking manner as to fix the hours, days, weeks, months and years so closely as to approximate our present knowledge of the solar system.

Dr. Morley has made nine trips to Honduras and Guatemala during his ten years connection with the Carnegie Institute of Washington. The present trip, which he has just completed, was begun February 1, and ended June 5. During this expedition the party under Dr. Morley's direction started to enter Guatemala through Mexico, but owing to the revolution were forced to return and take another route.

DIFFICULT TRIP.

The first ancient city visited was Copan, Honduras. This is one of the oldest and largest of the Maya cities, and contains 40 per cent. of all the known hieroglyphic inscrip-

WRITES OWN SUICIDE STORY; KILLS HIMSELF.

HARRY HOWLAND, 32 years old, a reporter on another local morning paper and a legatee of the Howland estate, which was held in trust by Hetty Green to be distributed to the heirs after her demise, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by swallowing cyanide of potassium in the editorial rooms of the paper on which he was employed. He died ten minutes later on the table at the Receiving Hospital, where physicians were attempting to counteract the effects of the deadly dose.

A remarkable feature of the tragic affair is that among Mr. Howland's papers was found an account of his own suicide, written by himself for publication in his own paper. It was a brief, concise account of death at his own hand by shooting, with blanks left to be filled in with the hour and the name of the man from whom he evidently hoped to borrow a revolver. The latter was to have been on the pretext that he was to cover assignments in a dangerous part of the city. In it he stated that his only request was that his body should be given to a Los Angeles medical college for dissection.

Mr. Howland died as the result of continual grieving over the death of his wife, about eighteen months ago in Kansas City. At the time of this tragedy he was in Topeka.

When the telegram came telling of his bereavement Mr. Howland left his desk as it stood and wandered away. He disappeared and was not found for several months. When next seen he was in Washington. He drifted south to Los Angeles. Here he returned to newspaper work.

When Hetty Green died Mr. Howland secured an attorney to represent him in possible litigation connected with the distribution of the Howland estate, as he expected to come into considerable money.

He was formerly employed on the Kansas City Journal and other papers in the Middle West. His newspaper work was considered excellent.

Mr. Howland was the son of Capt. John D. Howland, a noted western artist. He leaves a mother, Mrs. Esther Howland; two sisters, Miss Helen Howland, instructor of psychology in Denver University, and Mrs. Alfred Charles, and two brothers, Forster and Chaffee Howland, all of Denver. The body will probably be sent there for burial.

WILL FENCE IN SPOONHOLDER.

Belvedere Lovers are Handed a Wallop by Board of Supervisors.

The young people of Belvedere who saunter out to the Rowan-avenue school grounds in the evenings won't be pleased when they learn that the Board of Supervisors recommended yesterday that a high, tight board fence be built around the school to keep them out. This will force the young people to look elsewhere for a "spooning" place.

The Supervisors' attention was called to the trysting place some time ago, and the appointment of a deputy constable was suggested. The board declined to make the appointment, but instructed the constable of Belvedere township to keep his eye on the youngsters.

LONG LEASE ON FINE BUILDING.

Blackstone Company Signs for Ninth and Broadway.

Bids for Imposing Structure to be Asked at Once.

Will be One of City's Most Modern Emporiums.

One of the most important transactions in the interesting history of business movements in downtown Los Angeles was consummated yesterday afternoon with the signing of final papers calling for the immediate erection at the southwest corner of Broadway and Ninth street of a modern department store to be occupied by the N. B. Blackstone Company. Announcement that the old-time mercantile house would move to the new lower Broadway location was made exclusively in The Times several weeks ago, and the fact that the deal was to be closed yesterday, together with other details, appeared exclusively in The Times of yesterday morning.

The big dry goods concern has taken a twenty-year lease on the new building, which will be built for it by Arthur H. Fleming, retired manufacturer and capitalist of Detroit and Pasadena, and a man well known in the financial circles of the country. The structure will be started as soon as the one-story "taxpayer" erected by Mr. Fleming on the site at the time he purchased it, about four years ago, can be removed. Plans for the improvement are now being rushed to completion in the office of John Parkinson, and bids, it was announced last night, would be asked for within the next few days.

MUCH PLATE GLASS.

The building will be for the time being six stories in height, the foundations and walls being made of sufficient strength to support four additional floors. It will be of steel frame construction and absolutely fireproof. The ground to be covered has a frontage of ninety-five feet on Broadway by 160 feet on Ninth. Gray terra cotta will be used for the street fronts, which are to contain an unusual amount of plate glass on every floor. The window display space of the first story will total 255 feet.

All of the newest ideas in department store construction and appointment will be incorporated in the new "Blackstone's," Nathaniel Blackstone, president of the firm, having, with his son, H. W. Blackstone, department manager, recently spent a month in a personal inspection of many of the leading stores of the large eastern cities. The modern features will include every possible provision for the comfort of both patrons and employees, as well as numerous improvements designed to facilitate and expedite the handling of merchandise. Especial attention will be given to the proper heating and ventilation of the store from the basement to the top story.

The cost of the building as planned for the present is estimated at $500,000. In design it will follow Renaissance lines, its street fronts being among the handsomest of the buildings in Los Angeles. The furnishings and fixtures will be most elaborate throughout. The Blackstone business will occupy the entire structure for its selling purposes, the large increase in space over its

STATES COWIE WAS EVERETT.

Friend Recognizes "Times" Picture of Man in Dual Identity Problem.

That the photograph published exclusively in The Times yesterday of James F. Cowie, one-time attorney of Fergus Falls, Wis., is also that of the late Francis J. Everett of Redlands, is the statement of William T. Bill, president of the Home Investment Company, Redlands. Mr. Bill knew Mr. Cowie in Fergus Falls and he knew Mr. Everett in Redlands. He declares they were one and the same person. The Cowie-Everett dual identity case involves now the claims of two reputed rightful widows to the benefits of an insurance policy.

"That picture of Mr. Cowie was taken about twenty-five years ago, I think," said Mr. Bill yesterday. "Then Mr. Cowie was prominent in the Knights Templar lodge of Fergus Falls and the photograph shows him in that uniform."

Mr. Bill said he never mentioned having known Mr. Everett as Mr. Cowie in the East, because his acquaintance wished it so.

Hurt when Automobile and Pomona's Fire Engine Crash During a Trial Run, Woman Seeks Damages, Alleging Carelessness.

When the Pomona fire department loaned its American La France engine for a demonstration for the Fire Commissioners of Pasadena, prospective purchasers of such a machine, January 13, 1915, there was a gallant display as the handsome, shining vehicle dashed along Park avenue. Unfortunately in rounding a corner it collided with the automobile of Christian Droutt, in which Mrs. Sarah C. Droutt was sitting, and she was injured.

Mrs. Droutt brought suit for $20,000 damages, alleging the auto engine was driven at the rate of thirty miles an hour, and claiming negligence on the part of the driver, Samuel E. Lane, the representative of the American La France fire engine company, Thomas Baird, and various Does seated on the engine. The suit was on trial before Judge Shenk yesterday, with Attorneys Casey and Hanlon representing Mrs. Droutt. The defendants deny negligence.

TELLS STRANGE BLOOD MUDDLE.

Brother Charges Claimant to Estate is Spurious.

Says Supposed Daughter is Only Foster-child.

Given Dying Mother Whose Own Infant Died.

Opposing the appointment of Etta Wilson Gebhart as the administratrix of the estate of the late Theresa Wilson of Chicago, Charles O. Lowman of No. 2417 South Main street, this city, in a deposition read yesterday in the Chicago Probate Court, revealed an amazing tangle in the lives of the persons concerned.

Upon the the death of Mrs. Theresa Wilson several weeks ago her daughter, Mrs. Etta Wilson Gebhart, declared that she had died intestate and sought to be appointed administratrix. This was opposed by Mr. Lowman, the heir, and several others, including a half-sister and two nieces.

Mr. Lowman, in his deposition and in a statement to The Times, made last night, declared that Mrs. Gebhart is not the daughter of his sister and had never even been adopted legally into the family. He said:

"My mother was Dr. S. M. Wilson of Chicago. She was in charge of a ward in a Chicago hospital when my sister, Mrs. Theresa Wilson, was taken there and gave birth to a girl baby. This baby died and my sister was near death. At about the same time the mother of another baby born at the hospital a few days previous to the death of Theresa's child died. The father of this child was also dead.

"In an effort to save the life of Theresa the living baby was placed in her arms. This changed the course of events and Theresa lived. After she had regained her strength she was told of the substitution, but she was so fond of the child she decided to keep her. That child is the present Mrs. Gebhart.

"The baby throve and grew, but was never told of the real facts until she reached womanhood. A young man sought her hand in marriage, and, upon learning of her strange adoption into my sister's family, promptly told the girl. In a scene that followed my sister told her all of the circumstances and had the records looked up so that the girl would in future know all about her real parents.

"Shortly thereafter Etta was married, but continued to reside with my sister. Then, on the death of Mrs. Wilson, this girl is said to have gone into court as the heir and daughter of Mrs. Wilson. A half-sister of mine in Chicago wrote me of the facts and showed me that I was the only heir. I wrote back sending a deposition as to the facts surrounding the girl's parentage, and, as I cannot afford to go there and fight, I have made my half-sister a co-heir with me. The estate is considerable and I will seek to divert it to myself and half-sister and two nieces, daughters of a half-brother, who now live in Ohio."

LOSES FOUR FINGERS.

Mexican Stages Belated Celebration that Ends Disastrously.

Thinking he had found a stray powder cap and intending to celebrate a belated 16th of September by exploding it, Salvador Gomez, a 19-year-old Mexican newsboy, late yesterday afternoon blew off four fingers of his right hand when the apparently harmless cap developed into a dynamite charge that shattered the heavy glass bottle used by the boy in exploding it.

The explosion took place in front of No. 238 New High street, where Salvador and his elder brother, Simon, had paused temporarily. Simon led his bleeding brother to the Receiving Hospital, where the stumps of the fingers were bound. The boy said he lived with his parents at No. 598 Ord street.

BELIEVES IN SAFETY FIRST.

Baron, Who Married English Girl as a German, has it Changed to Swede.

When Bevildt C. Tornehielm, only son of Baron Tornehielm of Maine, Sweden, applied for a license to marry Miss Isobel F. Anderson of London, he wrote on the license that he was born in Germany. This was true, because he was born while his mother was touring Germany.

The honesty of the groom, in view of the bitterness between the English and the Germans, was overlooked until after the wedding at the Windermere Hotel in Santa Monica Monday evening.

But foreseeing that the alliance of two persons whose countries are at war might lead to recriminations after the honeymoon had waned, Mr. Tornehielm hurried, early yesterday, to the marriage license department and asked to have the record changed. He wanted it to appear that he is a native of Sweden, his birth in a German hotel being an incident. The change was made.

NEGRO BANDITS.

Armed with heavy revolvers, not masked, two negro bandits last night held up and robbed C. Cross, a mining man, living at 415 Ducommon street, as he was passing near Market and Alameda streets. The bandits, according to Mr. Cross, sprang upon him, from behind a billboard and ordered him to throw up his hands. One of the highwaymen covered him with a revolver while the second one searched and robbed him. A search of the neighborhood made by police detectives failed to disclose any trace of the bandits.

Conundrum.

DUAL IDENTITY BECLOUDS LAW.

Last Case of Altorre Series Goes to the Jury.

Will False Name Invalidate Absconder's Bond?

Convicted, Pardoned Postal Clerk Vainly Hunted.

An interesting question of law arose yesterday in the hearing of the case brought by the government against the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company of Baltimore to recover $2000 alleged to be due on the bond of Orlando F. Altorre, who stole $15,000 intrusted to him as clerk in the Los Angeles postoffice—money sent by the First National Bank of this city to a client at Bisbee, Ariz.

It appeared that the First National Bank had insurance against loss in such cases, issued by the Commercial Union Assurance Company, Ltd., and following the disappearance of the money the loss was paid by the company to the bank. Yesterday in the argument to the court, following dismissal of the jury until the questions of law could be determined, it was declared the government was a third party and was suing in behalf of the insurance company that had to pay the loss to the Los Angeles bank. It was also shown that the limit of the liability of the government, amounting to $50, had been tendered by the guarantee company and refused.

It was also said the bond issued by the defendant corporation was for the benefit of Orlando F. Altorre, a mythical person, and that the real name of Altorre was Orator W. Smith, under which he had served in the postoffice service in South Carolina. When deposed from the service on charges there, and when his name had been removed from the civil service list, Smith came to Los Angeles, and, taking the name of his stepfather, worked as Orlando F. Altorre.

After the impaneling of the jury yesterday the facts were stipulated, and the only issue was that of law, both the government and the defendant corporation seeking an instructed verdict.

When it was supposed Altorre would be needed as a witness an effort was made to locate the elusive young man, but unsuccessfully. When last heard from he was in Northern California, engaged in telephone line construction. After leaving Los Angeles he was for some time engaged in conducting a school of languages in San Francisco. For Orlando F. Altorre is a very clever young man.

At the conclusion of the argument on the question of the law, the jury was taken back to court and the question of fact argued by the attorneys.

At 5 o'clock, no agreement having been reached, the jury was locked up until a verdict should be arrived at, or court convened this morning at 10 o'clock. It was ordered that if a judgment was reached during the night the foreman of the jury, Gen. M. H. Sherman, should seal the same and deliver it to a deputy United States marshal, to be read in court this morning.

The entire sum and interest at stake amounts to $2812.40, and, if the government wins the case, it will be appealed. It is urged that the government should not be used as an agency to collect the amount of the bond for the benefit of the Commercial Union Assurance Company, Ltd., that repaid the First National Bank for the money Altorre stole.

CAN'T FIND THE CASE.

Inglewood Woman is Defendant in Rooster Trial that Vanished.

Who owns the rooster? That's the question Mrs. Cora B. Roe of Inglewood expected to have answered for her yesterday morning in the justice courts. She bought the fowl from a neighbor, paying 25 cents for it. Another neighbor, a Mr. Van Fleet, it is said, claimed the sleep-disturber, and filed a suit to recover the bird. Yesterday, Mrs. Roe, at the behest of the Inglewood constable, she said, appeared in the local justice court as the principal witness in the case. She, with Constable Hayes, specially deputized to assist in the search, failed to find a case of the kind on any of the court calendars, so Mrs. Roe hurried home to protect her bird.

CHECK PROVES NEMESIS.

Garbage Man Makes Complaint that Lands Youth in Jail.

The check that F. C. Ridings, a 20-year-old youth, gave an El Monte garage man for a new tire, after his had blown out while he was driving home, was worthless, according to the allegation on which the defendant was landed in the County Jail yesterday by Detective Wilcox.

Ridings was found at the Hotel Balbos. The complaint against him was made by D. E. Campbell, who alleges that he accepted a check for $32 for a tire and that this check came back a few days later marked "no funds."

"DRYS" PLAN PARADE.

Representatives from Every Town in Southern California will March in Procession to Influence Voters Three Days Prior to Election Date.

The "drys" of Los Angeles are planning a big parade to be held Saturday, November 4. Clarence E. Cornell is in charge of arrangements for the big procession, which is planned to include representatives of all towns of Southern California.

Those who will be in active charge of the programme are L. M. Timmons, C. A. de Coo, James A. Penn, Mrs. Julia D. Phelps (president of the W.C.T.U. of Los Angeles county,) Howard L. Brown, Ray Horton, Herbert A. Wheeler and Miss M. J. Garstang. The date chosen is only three days before the election, November 7, when the "wet" and "dry" amendments will be submitted to the voters.

The business interests, with the exception of the saloons and liquor houses, will be invited to participate. Different organizations, in sympathy with the "dry" movement, will also be represented.

The Governor and the mayors of the several cities are to be invited. It is planned to have several thousand women and children in line, each carrying an American flag.

Big Job.

PREPARE FOR RECOUNT.

Judge Monroe is Assigned to Hear the Election Contests Filed by Six Candidates—Ten Jurists May be Necessary to Finish Work.

Judge Monroe was assigned yesterday by Presiding Judge Houser to hear the election contests filed by six of the candidates at the August primaries. As the time is limited for the work which is compulsory it is possible, according to Judge Monroe, that at least nine more judges will be assigned to assist in the big job.

Whether some of the contestants were in earnest will soon develop when all are required to guarantee the payment of the recount. It costs a large sum and it is not believed that some of the candidates will deem it advisable to go through with it.

Friends of Dist.-Atty. Woolwine are very anxious that there be a recount of the 200 precincts specified in his application for a recount. There were about 100,000 votes cast in Los Angeles county and it is not considered at all improbable that a recount will show a discrepancy of more than enough ballots to insure Mr. Woolwine's election. The precincts designated by the District Attorney include a section of the county in which a strong-arm politician, who is bitter against the incumbent, is believed to have had something to do with influencing fraudulent work.

If ten judges are chosen to hear the contests the Superior Court calendars must suffer. It is said that they are now badly congested. The November election is only seven weeks hence and the Registrar of Voters must begin the printing of the sample and official ballots several weeks before the election. As a result speed in the recount is necessary and the announcement was made that there will be no way of handling the work unless nine or ten judges are assigned to it.

ALLEGES NEGLIGENCE.

Felicitas Garcia brought an action in the United States District Court yesterday against the Santa Fe, for the recovery of $15,000 alleged to be due on account of the death of Philip J. Garcia, son of the complainant, who was killed while riding a motorcycle across the track at Las Flores Station, July 2. Negligence on the part of the corporation defendant is alleged.

LIQUOR PERMIT FOR RESIDENCE DISTRICT.

MT. WASHINGTON CLUB GETS THIS CONCESSION.

Mayor Assures Protestants that if There is Any Violation of Law the Police Commission will not be Slow to Act—Four Days' Suspension for Taxi Service.

Five hours were devoted by Mayor Woodman and Commissioners Johnson and Owen of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday in dealing with a score or more of applications, hearings of charges and granting and denial of various permits. The session was the busiest the board has held for a long time.

The social club liquor permit formerly held by the All Nations' Club was transferred to the Town and Country Club, located in the Mt. Washington Hotel. Robert Marsh, representing the Mt. Washington company, gave a pledge that the place would be well conducted. A protest was made against granting a liquor license in a residential district, and Commissioner Johnson voted against the transfer.

Mayor Woodman assured the residents of Mt. Washington that if there is any violation of the law the Police Commission will not be slow to act. He and Commissioner Owen voted for the transfer of the permit.

The commission ordered the suspension for four days of McKee's taxicab service, and the serving of liquor in McKee's Cafe for a similar period, because employees of the taxi service furnished the names of alleged loose women to patrons.

John G. Maroney, chain gang guard, accused of extortion from couples in city parks, was summarily dismissed.

Applications for a number of bath and massage parlors were refused.

The charge against Patrolman E. L. Arnold of unbecoming conduct was further investigated and adjourned for a week. Arnold recently had trouble with Tom O'Neil, former body guard for ex-Mayor Sebastian. O'Neil was to have given evidence, but his attorney said he could not come up from his place of employment, near San Diego. The hearing was marked by verbal altercations between attorneys.

Wedding Plans Changed.

Again has Miss Alice Edith Scott found it necessary to change her plans for her approaching wedding to George Garfield Nader, set for October 19. When the engagement was announced the young people thought they would be married at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Scott of No. 2654 Menlo avenue, but later it was decided they would have a large church wedding and the bridal party had accordingly been asked. A few days ago Mr. Scott was taken to a local hospital, and because of his serious condition, which will necessitate an operation, all former arrangements are to be called off and his daughter's marriage will be very quietly solemnized upon the date named.

Watts Youngster Runs Away from Home and Starts Junk Yard—Sent Back to Mother, He Flees Again and Sells Souvenirs at Beach.

The supercommercial instincts of 8-year-old Aaron Granville landed him in the Juvenile Court yesterday. From hearing many persons talk of making money and acquiring wealth little Aaron made up his mind to be a big business man early in life. He ran away from his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Granville, of Watts, and was found after three or four days operating a junk yard, dealing mostly in bottles. He had gathered a large and varied assortment of flasks, phials, beer, whisky, wine and medicine bottles and was trading with junk-peddlers, getting a little money on each trade. His home was a large dry-goods box and his food he secured with the income from his sales and trades, as well as by begging.

When taken home by an officer, he promised to be good and stay there. He kept his promise a few weeks and again disappeared. When located after several days' of search, he was busily engaged in collecting moonstones, abalone shells and similar souvenirs at Redondo Beach. He had secured a box and was going into business on the promenade.

Judge Reeve yesterday gave him a severe lecture on starting work too early in life and impressed him with the necessity of an education before he could be permitted to run at large or become a merchant prince.

WINS PRIZE FOR THE EXPOSITION SLOGAN

"I'LL GO! YOU GO! SAN DIEGO!" IS THE CRY.

Fifty Contributors in Contest of Ad Club are Led by Guy P. Goodwin, Who Receives Award at Weekly Dinner of Publicity Men. Ten Others Get Season Tickets.

After several consultations the Slogan Committee of the Ad Club decided that Guy P. Goodwin, 202 Baker-Detwiler Building, should receive the first prize in the contest for a slogan for the San Diego exposition, and yesterday, at the weekly dinner of the club, Mr. Goodwin was presented with a $10 gold piece and a season pass to the fair. Mr. Goodwin's contribution is as follows: "I'll go! You go! San Diego!"

There were over fifty contestants, with the competition restricted to members of the club. Each contributor of the ten slogans, which were judged the best, received, also, a season pass to the fair.

The members of the club were yesterday addressed by R. H. Patterson of the National Cash Register Company, who spoke on his experiences while in the war zone seven months ago. Other speakers were C. Albert Post, Alvert Maas and Max E. Socha. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Judson Davis and H. C. Morrow.

The other ten slogan contributors who received prizes are: O. K. Parker, No. 1118 South Olive street; R. R. Thomas, Twelfth street and Grand avenue; Rubin Jaffe, Sixth street and Broadway; J. E. Tucker, No. 1942 South Main street; George C. Shaefer, No. 232 East Fourth street; H. W. Frank, No. 437 South Spring street; C. M. C. Raymond, Hotel Clark; W. T. Specht, Metropolitan Building; A. O. ## FURTHER DELAY FOR SUBURBAN SCHOOL.

LONG STRUGGLE OF ANGELES MESA FOR BUILDING.

Citizens' Committee Advises Trustees to Readvertise for Bids to Complete Partially Finished Structure — Attempts to Secure Institution Cover Four Years.

Completion of the much-delayed $60,000 Angeles Mesa school has again been halted, this time because the bids of contractors are so difficult to interpret that there is much question as to which would complete the work at the lowest price consistent with good material and workmanship.

Deputy County Counsel Gordon yesterday informed the school trustees of Angeles Mesa that they have the right to reject any and all bids, and advised that the best thing to do under the circumstances would be to readvertise the work. The chief contention as to who should receive the job was between the F. O. Engstrum Company and the H. M. Boward & Sons Company.

The latter corporation bid $16,500, approximately on the completed work. The F. O. Engstrum Company bid about $12,000 on the partial jobs, leaving out the plumbing, electric clocks and several minor details. The bids were advertised for any part of the work or for the entire job.

The Engstrum company contended that by taking the low bidders on the plumbing and minor work; their contract on the general carpenter, mason, electric and other work would be lower than that of the Boward company. It figured up to within about $1 of the Boward bid, according to the trustees.

The trustees, H. M. Lannan, Andrew Leuzinger and A. Wilhelm, put the matter up to the citizens of Angeles Mesa. A committee of five, comprising Fred W. Forrester, C. J. Colden, John Crean, J. H. Dean and Bert C. Smith, met last night, and decided to recommend that all bids be rejected and the job be readvertised. The trustees have agreed to abide by this decision.

The ruling means no school at Angeles Mesa this year. The work has been delayed so often that the residents are almost superstitious about it. A long war with the Hyde Park end of the district was the beginning of the school project. This was followed by a fight over the site. Then the Mann-Knox Construction Company, which took the contract, was unable to go through with it. The building was half-finished and the money exhausted. There was a campaign to vote more bonds, which finally carried in the sum of $21,000.

In all the Angeles Mesa school project is now nearly four years old. But Angeles Mesa says it will have its $60,000 school if it takes four years more.

METHODISTS MEETING.

Southern California Conference to Formally Open Today—Bishop Guest at Reception that Marks Gathering in Church History.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 19.—Scores of delegates to the Southern California conference of the Methodist church arrived in Santa Ana today. While the conference will not formally open until tomorrow, the opening reception given tonight to Bishop Adna W. Leonard of San Francisco was in the nature of a gathering of the forces that will make the conference a big event in Methodist history of Southern California.

Today nineteen aspirants for the ministry were given examinations by Dean E. A. Healy and Prof. T. C. Knoles of the University of Southern California.

The oldest visitor at the conference is Rev. J. E. Higgins, 99 years old, a retired minister of Pasadena, and the youngest is Rev. Wesley V. Smith, pastor at Chatsworth.

The conference will open with communion at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, after which officers for the conference will be elected.

HITS AND SPECIALTIES.

GLIMPSES OF STAGELAND AND THE CAMERA CAMPS.

By Grace Kingsley.

Harold Bell Wright's story, "The Calling of Dan Matthews," has been made into play form, and will be seen for the first time at the Belasco, commencing with the matinee next Sunday. Mr. Wright is assisting at rehearsals.

He will also entertain a large theater party at Monday night's performance. So if anybody wants to call "Author!" such person is to restrain his ardor until Monday evening.

Linne's New Act.

Fleming dancing act, which is making a hit at the Orpheum this week, has in course of production a dramatic ballet, which he will probably put on in ew York. Besides giving Miss Fleming an excellent opportunity, this will feature two men dancers.

Festive Board Note.

Saturday evening Miss Maude Fealy, leading woman at the Morosco, will entertain her friends at an informal party on the stage of the Morosco Theater after the performance of "Rolling Stones." Among those who have been invited are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil de Mille, Mr. and Mrs. William de Mille, Mr. Jack Dean, Fannie Ward, Marie Doro, Elliott Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Montrose, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Stedman, Dustin Farnum, William Farnum, Kathlyn Williams and many others.

Supper and dancing will be the order of the evening.

Martyr Note.

Dainty Verna Mersereau, star of "The Brides of the Desert," at Pantages, has undergone the acid test of beauty, also of friendship. Last night, she took the place of Margaret Stewart in the statuary poses of the Models de Luxe, while the regular model went out and looked over the Fashion Show. Greater love hath no woman!

Can Talk, Too!

Mary MacLaren, star of "Saving the Family Name," at Clune's Broadway, this week, will appear tonight in person at that theater, and give a short talk from the stage.

Why not the Sackcloth?

Mrs. Langtry is to appear in "Ashes" at the Orpheum next week. Nothing is said, however, about the sackcloth.

Oh, Perfume!

Oh, pshaw, it's just all off! Another illusion gone! The Hula Hula, as danced at the Orpheum by Princess Kalama, is really entirely innocent. She says so herself, and she ought to know. The Princess declares her particular brand of hula is a maiden's interpretation in dance of what her lover is singing to her, and that it is all just poetry and lovely thoughts.

Una's Kind Heart.

Una Fleming, the 17-year-old premiere dancer in Hans Linne's act who is charming the audiences at the Orpheum this week, received several drays of flowers on Monday night, which she sent to the Children's Hospital yesterday morning. A note arrived at Miss Fleming's dressing-room yesterday afternoon from one of the little shutins.

"Thanks for the flowers," said the note. "I used to dance before my hip got queer. I love to see ladies dance, and if I'm better by the end of the week, my mama's going to bring me in an automobile to see you dance. And when I get big and grow up, maybe I can dance with you. Can I?"

Honest, Anyhow.

Edith Lyle, leading lady at the Burbank, found this gem of a criticism tucked away in a newspaper from a little northern town: "'Hamlet' was played by a local dramatic club last night, but for the life of us we don't know why."

Modesty Note.

Some harmony they get out of that organ over at the Burbank, which is being used in "The Old Homestead." After rehearsals and before performances, Warner Baxter (who plays,) Frank Darien, John Burton and Burt Wesner, gather about the instrument and put barber-shop harmony into "The Old Folks at Home," and other old plush-album favorites.

"I didn't know you could play!" exclaimed Dora Mae Howe, the other day, to Baxter.

Baxter made a bow. "I don't," he answered, "except for my own amazement."

GENERAL REVIEWS.

Pantages.

An oasis of comedy, entirely surrounded by pretty girls, is the Pantages bill this week.

Oh, that blubberly "Lost Boy!" Some of the good ladies in the audience nearly went into hysterics last night at Ed Blondell's yokel comedy. Miss Gertrude Perry adds just the right touch of lady-like humor to give the necessary contrast.

Princess Athena, who more than once has clinked her dulcet cymbals on Pantages stage, comes accompanied by six beautiful gazelles with faces like the full moon—almond-eyed and ruby-lipped, and the rest of that Arabian Nights' stuff. "Brides of the Desert," largely consists of a number of dances by the harem slaves, and a most thrilling stabbing scene.

Harrison Green and Katherine Parker come out laughing, and the audience catch it quicker'n measles. "Harry," on occasion, has a fascinatingly incompetent enunciation.

Hippodrome.

The Ed Zoeller Trio start the ball rolling this week at the Hippodrome. They have a budget of topsy-turvy tumbling tricks, both clever and comical.

Bobby Gross entertains with character ditties and stories, while Brown and Bristol, a dapper chap and a pretty miss, put over some bright hits from Songland. The Valente Brothers rag the piano-accordeon to a finish.

"Yesterdays" is the title of a very neat little sketch played by Rawson and Clare. The big laughing hit of the show is scored by the famous Lew Hawkins, who has a bundle of talk this season that makes the Hip an absolutely gloom-proof place, while he is on the stage. The Joy Riders present an amusing sketch, the "Souse" particularly getting the laughs.

CHIEF WILL ACCEPT THEIR RESIGNATIONS

SPECIAD INVESTIGATORS AND SECRETARY TO GO.

Men Paid from Secret Service Fund not Needed Now, and Claybaugh is Persona Non Grata. Mayor Denies He will Appoint Butler Within Few Hours.

Chief of Police Snively stated late yesterday afternoon that he had requested the resignations of Special Investigators Fletcher E. Felts and Harry Raymond, and Lon Claybaugh, secretary to the Chief. As soon as these resignations have been presented they will be accepted.

Both Investigators Felts and Raymond have been paid out of the secret service fund originated during the regime of C. E. Sebastian as Chief. New plans of the present Mayor have no place for this fund, Chief Snively said, and it will be abolished the first of the month. All money left in the treasury to be spent in this fund will be turned over to the city for use as the Council sees fit.

Mr. Claybaugh's place will be filled by Sergt. Richard Hilf for the present. There will be no successors to the others.

Declaring that they had not been informed that they would have to resign, Messrs. Raymond and Felts refused to make any statements last night. Mr. Claybaugh stated that up to a late hour last night he had not been informed of any change. He added that, being on his vacation, he has not seen Chief Snively for a week.

Mayor Woodman denied yesterday that he will appoint Lieut. Butler as Chief of Police within the next forty-eight hours.

"I said Snively is going to have a chance, and I meant it," said the Mayor.

He also denied that he held "a mysterious conference with political advisers" yesterday morning. He has no political advisers, he asserted.

Around the City Hall the impression seems to prevail that Chief Snively is earnestly striving to carry out the plans he has submitted to the Mayor.

It is understood that the basis of the rumor that Lieut. Butler would be appointed to head the police department rests on a supposed visit of the lieutenant to the Mayor's office, when, it is rumored, he was asked how he would run a police department were he at its head in a large city. The rumors regarding possible changes also include mention of the name of Capt. Paul Flammer.

Chief Snively said last night that he has been assured by Mayor Woodman that he will have a fair chance to work out his plans.

"Persistent rumors that I am about to resign have had the effect of demoralising the force," the Chief stated. "Now that I can state that I am to continue in office for a time at least, I will go forward with my work. I will not ask for additional officers at this time. The detective squad will be increased by the addition of nine patrolmen who have demonstrated more than the average ability. These new men will not be known to the public.

CONTRASTS METHODS.

Motion Pictures Depicting Adventures of Dollar in Stores With and Without National Cash Registers are Informing to Large Assemblage.

The Mason Operahouse was too small to seat the crowd that responded to the National Cash Register Company's invitation to attend its free motion-picture show last night, and as a result many persons stood in the aisles for nearly two hours and watched the well-advertised pictures.

Scenes of the company's factory in Dayton, of salesrooms in many large cities, and of the many educational and recreation centers the company has provided for its employees were shown. There were also several reels of film depicting the adventures of the dollar in the store where there is no cash register and in the establishment that is adequately protected against theft and error with a modern register.

JAPANESE GROWERS WILL CO-OPERATE.

VEGETABLE AND BERRY MEN GET TOGETHER.

New Long Beach Alliance Expects to Furnish Entire Coast with Produce After Organization is Complete, Relieving the Present Situation.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—With the leading merchants and business men of the local Nipponese colony listed among its officers and directors, one of the few corporations of its kind in the United States was launched in Long Beach today. It is to be known as the Vegetable and Berry Growers' Association of Long Beach, and comprises sixty-four of the leading Japanese berry growers and truck gardeners of Signal Hill and vicinity.

R. Abe, manager and chief spirit of the new organization, today said that at present Long Beach was importing more vegetables and berries than it was exporting. It will be one of the main aims of the corporation to remedy this condition and turn the tide of vegetable commerce in the other direction, he said.

Manager Abe said it would be but a short time before the growers, as their organization progressed and prospered, would be exporting their produce to San Diego, San Francisco and Portland. He confidently predicted it would not be long before the new organization would be rated as one of the strongest Japanese corporations in the country.

Before the present week is ended the Vegetable and Berry Growers' Association will not only be furnishing the entire 35,000 or more people in this city with produce, but will be exporting large quantities of green commodities to Los Angeles and intermediate points, according to the optimistic announcement of the officers of the corporation today.

Under the new arrangement the growers of the Signal Hill district will no longer operate their individual wagons about town, selling at the municipal market and hawking their products from fruit stand to fruit stand and from door to door, but will sell everything through the Vegetable and Berry Growers' Association on a 2 per cent. commission for all goods handled.

A large packing-house and offices will be erected by the Japanese immediately at Seventh and Olive streets. The officers of the new corporation are Y. Misuno, president; S. Fujishima, vice-president; W. Yamada, treasurer; R. Abe, Manager; S. Susuki, secretary; S. Shigetomi, S. Susuki, M. Shimisu and K. Tanamachi, directors.

CITY PLANNING IN GERMANY.

Siegfried Goetz, a city planning expert familiar with German municipal efficiency, will speak on the subject of "City Planning in Germany," at the weekly luncheon of the City Planning Association today at the Wistaria, No. 541 South Broadway. Following the address there will be a general discussion, led by John Kienle, secretary of the Los Angeles Housing Commission.

BIDS ARE RECEIVED.

Bids for the construction of the two market buildings and the first two of the four gigantic warehouses in the wholesale Terminal group on East Seventh street were received by John Parkinson, the architect of that project, yesterday. These will be opened at once and held under advisement for several days, before any award is made. The estimated cost of this, the first unit of the terminal layout, is $2,500,000.

present establishment making possible the addition of several departments and the expansion of all its present lines.

The N. B. Blackstone Company is one of the oldest stores of its class in Los Angeles, having started in business on Spring street between Temple and Franklin streets in 1896. Three years later the company sought larger quarters in the Douglas Building at Third and Spring. Subsequently, the business having again outgrown its location, the company moved to the five-story and basement building it now occupies on the east side of Broadway between Third and Fourth streets.

The decision of the company to make the long southward jump down Broadway to Ninth was made after a long consideration of various locations both south and west of the established business center. N. B. Blackstone stated yesterday that in his opinion Ninth street is destined to be the great dividing artery of the city in the years to come.

ACROSS THE STREET.

Directly across the street from the new Blackstone block, at the northwest corner of Broadway and Ninth, another large business structure, as reported exclusively in yesterday's Times, will also rise within the next few months. The building for this site, which is owned by the Hooker estate, is now being planned and is to be occupied by a concern as yet unnamed excepting by rumor. The projects for both sites, it is understood on good authority, have from the first been each contingent upon the other, and definite details in relation to the northwest corner will be forthcoming within a few days. W. H. Clune has announced his intention of erecting a large theater at the northeast corner of the same thoroughfares.

Randsburg Residents Pluckily Fight Flames to Save Their Homes—Despite Hard Efforts Heavy Loss is Sustained; Burn Five Buildings.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 19.—Two hundred men and boys lifted three houses off their foundations and checked a disastrous fire which swept through Randsburg last night, according to information brought into this city today. The fire started in a warehouse and five buildings were burned before the residents and miners took the unusual means of bodily moving several houses from the path of the flames to prevent it from destroying the entire line of structures. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Dynamite was sent for but it did not reach the scene in time so the miners removed the houses to other foundations for the time being.

The passenger rate war between the electric and steam roads for the business between interior points and Los Angeles and the coast will be continued next Sunday, R. E. Kelly, commercial agent of the Pacific Electric, announced today. Last Sunday the electric line moved about 1500 people from San Bernardino, Redlands, Colton and Riverside on a dollar-round-trip rate for the day. The steam roads made the same fare.

In order to secure definite action in the shortest possible time, the city has carried its suit against the county to secure a reimbursement from the county for its loss under Amendment No. 1, to the Supreme Court. The city holds that it is a district within the law and that it should be reimbursed for the loss it sustains from the withdraw to of railroad and corporation property from local taxation.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) For the eleventh consecutive session, sales on the New York Stock Exchange exceeded a million shares. United States Steel retained its position as leader on a fresh advance to the new record of 109. The preferred stock touched 121, the highest figure since 1911. California petroleums rose two to three points but there was some irregularity in Mexican Petroleum. Bonds were irregular on more extensive dealings.

Hog prices in the Chicago stockyards were the highest since 1867.

(Abroad:) A new war loan by the Russian government is proposed, according to a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd today. The plan, says the dispatch, is to issue at the end of October a new internal 5½ per cent. ten-year loan for war purposes to the amount of three billion roubles, the price of issue to be 95.

A Berlin dispatch says complete returns for the fiscal year 1915 indicate that German industries, instead of suffering from the war, appear to have profited extensively and to have made materjal gains.

SWEDEN SHOWS HER TEETH.

Great Britain blockaded Sweden to starve Germany. Now it appears that Swedes must eat, as well as anybody else. The Swedes declined to take kindly to this way of punishing Germany and protested. Great Britain said it might be uncomfortable, but it was necessary. Thereupon, Sweden confiscated British mail passing between England and Russia, as a measure of retaliation, and Great Britain howled. It is all right for Great Britain to blockade neutral ports and confiscate and open mail from the United States—but her own mail, mercy no! It is sacred. However, Sweden is standing pat and has refused to arbitrate or otherwise let go of British mail until Britain lets go of the blockade.

DOLLING UP MOTHER.

There used to be a time when mother got a bonnet and a new silk dress and was off in a cloud dust.

Women's fashions have become a great study and one of the fine arts. Dressmaking in these days is something midway between futurist painting and refined architecture. Clothes have come to be frightfully expensive; and they are worth the money.

Whatever makes a woman feel young is worth what it costs. And women can't feel young in poorly-designed clothes. Dolling up mother is one point upon which every family can safely afford to rip off the limit; it is the point where economy ceases to be a virtue.

OSTRICH PLUMES.

Public sentiment against killing birds has boosted the market for ostrich feathers. The ostrich can part with his plumes without the spilling of blood and so he enables us to reconcile the feminine taste for fine feathers with the sentiment against killing small creatures. In our latest millinery a bonnet with a plume can wave above a kindly human heart. Southern California in particular has reason to congratulate itself that ostrich feathers are again a leading feature in correct feminine headgear. For that noble bird takes to our sunny climate as a duck takes to Oregon moisture. So long as the ladies stick to their tastes for fine feathers there is no reason to fear that the ostrich will become as extinct as the dodo.

THE PEOPLE PAY.

The substitution of direct taxation for the income derived from the protective tariff has imposed upon the people of the United States such levies as were never dreamed of. Before the adjournment of Congress the Democrats were in desperate straits to meet the treasury deficit. The measure that they passed added extortions on the income tax amounting to $110,000,000; and $30,000,000 more to the inheritance tax; and over $70,000,000 to the munitions tax. Yet this same Congress, among other foolish things, passed a harbor and river bill carrying appropriations of $42,000,000, much of which was admittadly "pork," and which was a greater total by $22,000,000 than the harbor and river appropriation of last year.

GERMAN AND BRITISH FINANCE.

One immediate result of the campaign in the Balkans is that the price of German marks has fallen to 17 cents, which is 27 per cent. below parity, while Russian roubles have considerably advanced, influenced by the prospect that Russia will be able to find an easier outlet for her wheat.

German marks, the par of which is 24 cents, were selling at 20 a year ago, while British sterling, the par of which is $4.84, sold at $4.56. Since then, by means of the Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000 and the shipment of gold, and the marshaling of American securities, the British treasury has restored the sterling market to par. German bankers tried to achieve a restoration of marks to par but did not succeed.

The Wall Street Journal says: "Germany's preparedness for war did not extend to safeguarding her credit resources in the foreign markets. Perhaps she did not need to, in the knowledge that control of the seas could never be hers. But it is idle for German exponents to say that the decline in marks means nothing."

AN ANTI-CLIMAX.

There are many "great moments" of history that will not bear too close investigation. From our school days we cherished the idea that Pinckney of Virginia immortalized himself by exclaiming "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute"—only to have some ruthless iconoclast discover that all he really said was, "Not a penny; not a penny."

The anguish of this early disappointment in Pinckney of Virginia has lately been revived—by a new pang. Some one has discovered that the deathless fame attained by Gen. Carranza's proclamation which seemed to gush forth in a burst of patriotic zeal really belongs to a St. Louis politician who wrote the proclamation at so much per without even a single patriotic gush.

The disclosure of this fact by Richard H. Cole of Pasadena may cause considerable agony to the historian in search of thrilling moments; but it will also cause embarrassment to President Wilson. The revelations of Mr. Cole show that the events preceding the recognition by Carranza were all part of an entertaining bunco game put over on the American public by Prof. Wilson and his Cabinet.

At the time it was supposed that Mr. Wilson sent a trusted statesman, in the person of Richard Metcalfe of Nebraska, down to Mexico to investigate conditions. With what awe did our imaginations picture that worthy, hard-headed middle westerner down among the cactus and the horn toads, searching for the truth!

With what a glow did the nation listen to his report!

But President Wilson was not yet quite convinced. He read the favorable report by Mr. Metcalfe; but still he waited.

Yes, Metcalfe said Carranza was the right man; and Metcalfe was a fair-minded unprejudiced investigator. Still the President weighed the question. Then came a wonderful document that settled the fate of a nation. It was the opening proclamation of Senor Carranza, setting forth his principles.

With glowing eyes we waited to see its effect upon the President!

Ah, he read it through.

"Here," he said in pleased surprise, "is the work of a patriot and a statesman." After this proclamation could the President longer withhold the trifling boon of recognition from the author? No! A thousand noes! And so Carranza was recognized.

But alas! We discover now it was all bunk.

President Wilson's open-minded investigator from Nebraska, who went down to see if Carranza would be a good President, turns out to have been a lobbyist in Carranza's pay.

It turns out that Carranza knew nothing about his statesmanlike proclamation until it was all over—that Gov. Folk of Missouri, a Democratic war horse in the close confidence of President Wilson, was the author of the document.

It also develops that President Wilson even did a little literary work on the proclamation himself in the way of editing before it was sent to Carranza to sign.

The whole drama was pure pretense! What a shame that somebody had to lift up the scenery and show us what never should have been seen!

WHAT IS A REVENUE TARIFF?

If the phrase "a tariff for revenue only" means anything whatever; if it is not a mere senseless jargon of words full of sound and signifying nothing, it means that in fixing the duty to be levied on any article imported from a foreign country the governing consideration should be the amount of money that can be derived from the duty, and that the effect upon American industries of a reduction or an increase of duties should have no weight with the legislator.

If a piece of cloth, for instance, woven on an English, a French or a German loom, by an operative who receives 75 cents per day, costs $1 landed in New York, and a similar piece of cloth, woven by an American operator who receives $1.50 per day, costs $1.75 delivered in New York, it follows that by levying an import duty of 75 cents on the cloth, conditions would be equalized and other considerations than cost of manufacture, such as quality and terms of purchase, will govern the buyer of the cloth. If by reducing the import duty from 75 cents to 40 cents the government should stimulate importations threefold, would receive $1.20 for duties on three pieces of cloth instead of 75 cents on one piece. The New York importer would be able to sell the foreign cloth at 35 cents less than before; and the American manufacturer would be compelled to accept 35 cents less or lose his market. As a consequence he would be forced to reduce the wages of his workers from $1.50 to $1.15 per day, and if they refused to accept the reduction he would close his factory.

In brief, to increase the tariff revenue by reducing the tariff duties, would necessitate an increased importation of foreign goods, and increased importation and consumption of foreign goods would necessitate either decreased consumption of American-made goods, or else decreased compensation to the makers of the goods.

Take the case of citrus fruit. It costs a little less to transport a box of lemons from Sicily to New York than from Los Angeles to New York. The Sicilian lemon grower pays his hands 50 cents per day, the Southern California citrus orchardist pays his hands $1.50 per day. With the duty on Sicilian lemons reduced, importation is stimulated and the California lemon grower must either reduce the wages of his workman or else cut down his trees.

One of the illogical features of the Democratic tariff for revenue law is the enlargement of the list of articles on the free list. What kind of a "tariff for revenue only" is it that admits British Columbia lumber and shingles, and Mexican cattle, and Canadian grain and hay and butter, and Argentine and Australian wool free of duty?

The Democratic tariff for revenue only is the offspring of the policy of the cotton-growing, agricultural and—until of late years—non-manufacturing South. It was enacted by a Congress elected by a combination between the cotton planters and the slums of northern cities, and dominated by a Virginia-born President who never outgrew the prehistoric politics of his birthplace.

The fact is that the Democratic Presidential ticket in 1912 was elected by 6,293,120 votes cast for a tariff-for-revenue-only policy against 7,604,164 votes cast for a protective policy. Unfortunately the 7,604,164 votes were divided. This year they are united and will be reinforced by many Democrats who care more for the prosperity of their country than they do for giving office to place-hunters.

And notwithstanding the indirect support given to Wilson by a few—and a very few—Janus-faced ex-Progressive politicians, who "unreservedly support the Underwood tariff" and very reservedly support Hughes, and are striving to stab with the dagger of Joab the cause that they dare not smite with the sword of the Philistines, Charles Evans Hughes will be elected President by a larger majority than has been received by any President since Roosevelt defeated Parker in 1904 by 2,545,515 votes.

EIGHT-HOUR LAWS.

The objection to eight-hour legislation for all trades and vocations is that it is based upon the plan of Procrustes, who made all men fit his iron bed by cutting off the feet of tall men and pulling out the joints of short ones.

It has been found in some industries to the satisfaction of both employers and employees that year in and year out as much work is done by men working eight hours as in ten hours. Says the National City Bank of New York in its September letter: "Society is interested in having hours of labor so adjusted that the workers will develop and maintain their highest efficiency and give the highest volume of production, but that would not make the hours the same in all occupations. If the work day is reduced below this point of maximum results the supply of products will be reduced, and if wages are not directly lowered they will buy less, which amounts to the same thing. If railway trainmen are to make shorter runs in the future, more men will be required in that service, and they will have to be withdrawn from farming and other occupations. Production will be curtailed, and no member of the community can escape the effects of it, any more than he can escape the effects of rust upon the wheat crop or of the boll weevil upon cotton."

Indiscriminate adoption of the eight-hour day would be for society to work less, produce less, consume less and be less ambitious than in the past. An eight-hour schedule is absolutely impossible on the farm or in the household. As the old couplet has it:

"Man may work from sun to sun,
But woman's work is never done."

There never was a more inopportune time than now for doing anything that will have the effect of reducing production. The withdrawal of millions of men from the ordinary industries for service in the armies and for war work has advanced the prices of all the necessaries of life and put a check upon the normal progress of the world. The only way society can recover these losses is by increasing the productiveness of its industries, and at this time the United States is almost the only large country where this can be done.

Continuing its article on economic changes the September letter of the National City Bank says: "Common sense, common patriotism, common sympathy with and loyalty to humanity the world over call upon the people of this country to work in this emergency as they never worked before. To insist upon having an easier life at such a time, when it means greater hardships for all the world, would be like taking a holiday when work was needed to keep people from starving."

The industries and trade of this country are involved so closely with the trade and industries of other countries that we cannot reorganize our industrial system upon a radically different and artificial basis without suffering hereafter. The present exemption from foreign competition is only temporary. We must come back in time to approximately the same relationship to world values as existed before the war. History has shown repeatedly that a state of prosperity that is based upon abnormal conditions, such as exists now in the United States, carries very great perils. Even though all possible restraint and wisdom be exercised, some degree of reaction is bound to follow. That reaction will be made worse by every departure from the economic principles which govern business affairs the world over.

A POPULAR OPINION LAW.

Among the measures which the Congress, now adjourned, tossed into the waste basket was an act proposed by Democratic Congressman Bailey of Pennsylvania to provide for the expression of opinion of the electors on questions of national policy at general elections for members of the House of Representatives for the advice and guidance of the officials of the United States.

The bill provided that upon the filing with the Secretary of the Interior of a petition signed by 500,000 or more electors qualified to vote for members of Congress requesting that any question of national policy be submitted to the electors, or upon the resolution of Congress adopted by a majority vote thereof authorizing the submission of such a question, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Interior to forward to the Secretary of State of each State, or if there is no such officer in any State, to the officer having general supervision over the elections in such State, a copy of such question, with the request that the same be submitted to the electors of such State qualified to vote for members of Congress at the next general election at which members of the House of Representatives of the United States within such State are to be elected."

The arguments adduced in favor of the "public-opinion law" are that it is the object of government in a republic to carry out the will of the people as far as it is known or can be ascertained. It is claimed by A. H. Jackson of Buffalo, who prepared the bill introduced by Congressman Bailey, that in our national affairs public sentiment is only crudely and imperfectly expressed through the election of President and Congressmen; that the victory of a political party may reflect solely the people's resentment against its predecessor and not an indorsement of its policies.

Again Mr. Jackson says: "Not only must a party platform be approved or rejected as a whole, but the voter is further confused by the personality of the various candidates and by party prejudice. It is impossible to discover from a vote for candidates what the voters' ideal sentiments are on any one of the issues involved in the selection. This bill would make it possible at least to partially correct the evils of the present system."

There being no provision made in the bill for the appointment of a job lot of deserving Democrats as high-salaried commissioners and clerks, the measure of Congressman Bailey to create a government of public opinion was contemptuously tossed aside by his colleagues. This disposition of it was one Democratic act of which The Times approves. Its passage would have served to inject the referendum into our national politics on a gigantic scale, and the workings of the referendum in the States which have adopted it are not such as to encourage its extension to the nation.

There is scarcely any freak legislative proposition in ethics or philosophy or any phase of meddling with other people's business that could not obtain the signatures of 500,000 voters somewhere in this broad land of ours. It would be a supreme folly to abandon the representative government that our fathers established and substitute in its place the old New England town-meeting system.

BITS OF VERSE.

The Land of Pure Delight.

In the Land of Pure Delight
There is neither death nor night,
Blossoms neither fade nor fall
And white Peace encircles all!

In that realm so glad and bright
All is lovely to the sight—
Neither sorrow nor despair
In the Land of Pure Delight
Never wrong outruns the right—
Never are the just and brave

In the Land of Pure Delight
Love doth ever love requite—
Malice—envy—enter not
And defeat is all forgot!
To that Sphere the sages say
Flesh has never found the way;—
But the dreamer in the night
And the Soul that wings its flight
Find the Land of Pure Delight!

Town of Don't You Worry.

There's a town called Don't-You Worry,
On the banks of River Smile,
Where the Cheer-up and Be-Happy
Blossom sweetly all the while.
Where the Never-Grumble flower
Blooms beside the fragrant Try,
And the Ne'er-Give-Up and Patience
Point their faces to the sky.
In the valley of Contentment,
In the province of I-Will,
You will find this lovely city,
At the foot of No-Fret hill.
There are thoroughfares delightful
In this very charming town,
And on every hand are shade trees
Named the Very-Seldom-Frown.
Rustic benches quite enticing
You'll find scattered here and there;
And to each a vine is clinging
Called the Frequent-Earnest-Prayer.
Everybody there is happy,
And is singing all the while
In the town of Don't-You-Worry,
On the banks of River Smile.

The Gentler View.

Let us take the gentler view,
Let us keep the human
Side of nature to the front
Judging men and women.
Let us rather be too kind,
Rather be too tender,
Than to needless wound a mind
When our views we render.

Let us take the gentler view
When the world condemns him;
Let us calm the cry and hue
Of the crowd that hems him.
Let us rather cheer than blight
With our mere opinion,
Leading darkness to the light
Of the heart's dominion.

Let us take the gentler view
When a sister stumbles;
Let us halt the babbling crew
That its judgment mumbles.
Let us turn the dark about
To the light of reason;
Lo! the evil was the doubt,
Good has still its season!
—[Folger McKinsey, in Baltimore Sun.

THE "LABOR VOTE" NOT DELIVERABLE.

[New York Sun:] From among the numerous lessons or conclusions which the political philosophers can draw from the Maine election one lesson or conclusion stands out more sharply defined than any other. It jumps at you.

The labor vote, for the sake of which the Poltroon Congress tarred and feathered itself with its own hands only a dozen days ago, is not deliverable by the traders who pretend to sell it, and is not procurable by the politicians who thought they were buying it.

This salient fact of the election is illustrated conspicuously in the Second Congress District. There are few places within the confines of our republic where labor is relatively stronger than in the city of Lewiston, the home city of Representative McGillicuddy, and he has made a specialty of it in his own political practice. In the Second Maine, if anywhere, would there be indications of any return, in the shape of votes, for the surrender of Congress to the four brotherhoods. After a campaign which might almost be called desperate in its effort to save McGillicuddy and one Democratic seat in the House from the Republican onset, Mr. McGillicuddy was defeated by an adverse plurality of nearly 400, whereas he had been elected to the Sixty-second Congress by a plurality of 1389 and to the Sixty-third by a plurality of 1281. His plurality in the election to the present Congress was 5173, but in that year the old Republican vote was divided.

To what end did his fellow Democrats of the majority in the Sixty-fourth House, with two honorable exceptions, sell their party and themselves to shame? The expected votes of "labor" are not deliverable by the venders thereof in Maine in September, and they will not be delivered to the purchasers thereof throughout the nation in November.

The shame of the surrender was incurred for nothing of real value in a political way.

Queer Use of a Tunnel.

[Popular Mechanics:] Running beneath the St. Louis City Hall at ground level is a tunnel which has been used as a shadow box for testing the headlights of more than 5000 automobiles and adjusting them in conformity with that city's new anti-glare ordinance.

By dropping a black canvas curtain over one end of the tunnel the place is thoroughly darkened. The law requires that the main shaft of light from headlights shall not be higher than three feet from the ground, seventy-five feet in front of the car.

In this darkened passageway the lights are directed against a board surface, measuring six feet high and four feet wide, painted white, and framed in black curtains. By means of a graduated scale an officer judges the direction and intensity of the lights and adjusts and tilts them until the main rays fall on the three-foot line.

When all is satisfactory a seal is affixed to the car, showing that the owner has complied with the law.

EUROPE'S STRUGGLE FOR THE BRIDGE.

CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES BY SVETOZAR TONJOROFF.
Author of "Russia's Struggle for an Outlet" and "The War of the Nations."

HISTORY has an astonishing way of repeating itself. It is repeating itself in the Balkans. The battles of the Crusades are being fought over again in Southeastern Europe, and for the same purpose—possession of the "bridge" between the East and the West, between Europe and the treasure-house of Asia Minor.

Even the parts which the various nations are taking in the new struggle have not varied materially since the close of the turbulent period in the Middle Ages when the chivalry of Western Europe flung itself in successive waves against the barrier on the road to Jerusalem. Today, as in the Middle Ages, it is France and England that are rushing armies into battle in an attempt to win the "bridge." Today, as in the Middle Ages, it is Bulgaria that bars the way as she did in the days of Baudouin, Emperor of the East, and King of Jerusalem. As in the days of Baudouin, so today the Turks are disputing the road to the East—only now they are disputing it not in the deserts of Asia but hundreds of miles to the west, in the garden of the Balkans.

Only one essential detail in the international alignment has changed since the Bulgarian Czar Kalo-Ivan defeated and captured the Emperor Baudouin in 1205. The German race, which then took part in the assaults upon the "bridge," is now aligned with the Bulgarians and the Turks in its defense.

In no region of the world's far-reaching battle line are so many vital interests involved as in the battles that are being fought in the Balkans on three fronts. To Bulgaria defeat would mean the shattering of a national ideal—the ideal of race unity, of the winning of Macedonia with its overwhelmingly Bulgarian population. To Germany and Austria the triumph of the Entente would mean the end of a glittering dream of commercial and industrial expansion eastward, in the direction of Bagdad and the rich region of Mesopotamia, which Germany has long regarded as within the sphere of its manifest destiny.

To Russia, a vast empire without an all-the-year-round open port, the failure to wrest the "bridge" from German hands would mean the death of a great hope—the hope of mastery of the sea road to the world's markets through the straits of the Dardanelles. England, were the "bridge" to remain in the hands that now hold it, would find the enemy at the very gates of India. France, should her efforts to break the "bridge" prove futile, would enter the peace conference at the end of the war without an object of barter for the achievement of her great national aim, the recovery of Alsace-Lorraine.

And in this struggle of Titans for the attainment of vital interests, the history of 1913 is repeating itself with striking accuracy of detail. Rumania's spectacular entrance into the war has duplicated the military situation that existed in the Balkans in the second Balkan war. At the opening of that struggle Bulgaria was beset from the south, in the valleys of the Vardar and the Strums. At those same gateways 600,000 Frenchmen, Britons, Serbians, Italians and Russians, are now hammering. Just as in 1913, so now, Rumania, finding her southern neighbor hard pressed from the south and southwest, has broken her peace at the psychological moment and has flung herself upon Bulgaria from the north. With the Rumanians, to make matters more serious for Bulgaria and her allies, a large Russian army is co-operating. And the ultimate size of that army will depend solely upon the ability of England and France to furnish munitions and supplies to their great ally from the north.

Reversing the order of things in 1913, however, the Bulgarians are now playing an offensive and not a defensive role on the Rumanian border. They are fighting tooth and nail for the recovery of one of their Alsace-Lorraines—the Alsace-Lorraines with which the map of Europe is dotted in sinister profusion. They are struggling with fierce determination for the restoration of the territory adjoining the Dobrudja which the Rumanians took from them as "compensation" while they were hard pressed by Servia, Greece, Turkey and Montenegro in 1913, the black year of the modern history of Bulgaria. In no region of war in maddened Europe has so bitter a flood of hate been let loose as in this corner of Christendom.

And on all fronts of battle in the Near East, sinister significance is lent to events by the universal impression, right or wrong, that in the Balkans is being fought the last ditch fight of the entire struggle, the fight that will determine the outcome of the war as a whole.

Stories About Preachers.

[Buffalo Enquirer:] Among the minor interests of the philanthropist and social reformer, Joshua Rowntree, was the collecting of stories about preachers. The following are some that he most frequently told, says S. E. Robson in his biography of Mr. Rowntree.

"At a chapel prayer meeting in a town near Scarborough a brother began to pray that, in the coming glory, one after another of his friends might have crowns given them to wear. In a state of fervor he ended, 'And, Lord, there'll be one for me, too. Thou knowest my size—six and seven-eighths.'

"On another occasion a preacher was about to begin when a brother feelingly offered prayer for him in the words, 'Lord, give him unction and give him gumption, for he needs them both.'

"A speaker, this time probably at a more secular gathering, was asked how he had got through a meeting. 'Well,' he replied, 'it was soothing, moving and satisfactory.' 'How was that?' 'Well, it was soothing because half the audience went to sleep; it was moving because the other half went out, and it was satisfactory because they didn't ask me to come again.'"

The trouble is that President Wilson does next week what he should have done last week.

The present year is waxing warm and there over the country candidates are at work on the annual campaign poem. May heaven forfend!

President Wilson to the Mexican commissioners: "We are into the high and step on her." November election is coming on.

Prof. Muensterberg says he can hypnotize the Kaiser. Why not? Why the professor think of that two years ago? It might have saved a lot of trouble.

A woman back East, who has died at the age of 94 years, said that she never wore a corset. We wonder where all her staying power came from?

It is officially announced there will be no investigation of the alleged bread trust by the Department of Justice. Of course not; this is a Presidential campaign on.

A revolution is promised in Panama if President Wilson recognizes President Valdes. The action is entirely dependent on the election of Panaman vote in this country.

It is now predicted that the present war will continue five years. Then does all of the nations engaged in the strife will be candidates for international poor farm.

In these Democratic times, when a constant increase in the cost of living, it is well to practice economies. The wife is now of the opinion that a stated sum made if husband would give up smoking.

It is intimated that the income of Henry Ford is in the neighborhood of $100,000 a day. As Ford is not in politics there is no personal interest in the question. What has he do with his money? That is what he has to run a newspaper.

The American people do not want a Moses to deliver them out of this age, a post that President Wilson assumes, but they do want a little sense in their heads, some iron in their spines, some iron in their blood, and a few other things too numerous to mention.

A leaf of almost forgotten history is recalled by the death of Thomas L. James, in New York. For many years he was one of the leading Republicans of the state and the nation. Eight years he was master of New York. He declined the post of Postmaster-General offered him by President Harrison, but did accept the place in the Harrison Cabinet, retiring in the same administration after the assassination of President in 1881.

Ralph Sinsabaugh and Wynn Adams, two of the most prominent players of the south, have entered the singles. Mace is especially anxious to win, as he is the Southern California champion, to show that he really the best at the net game in the south.
Another prominent player due to enter is Maurice McLoughlin, who is at present somewhere on his return from the East. Maury was scheduled to return several days ago, but failed to put in his appearance. However, tennis enthusiasts believe that he will arrive in time to enter into the play. McLoughlin is especially strong on a cement court, and should be able to exhibit that brand of tennis that made him winner over the famous Australian player in 1912.

ICE HOCKEY AT STANFORD.

MALONE BEATEN BY JOE WHITE.

DRAWS GROW TIRESOME IN VERNON BOUTS.

Fighters Have First Three Rounds by Big Margin and are Only Given Draws Because Opponent Shows Flash in Last Round.

BY W. W. FOWLER.

Draws grew tiresome out at Vernon last night. They were sprinkled plentifully through the scraps and by an impartial hand. A draw decision was liable to light almost anywhere. A fighter might hammer his opponent through three and a half rounds, only to get a punch in the ribs and a draw decision wished on him at the same time.

Joe White, the local boxing hope, delivered the goods in the main event of the evening and took Frankie Malone down the line for four rounds. White was on the aggressive most of the time and landed blows with a little more abandon than his opponent. He didn't land 'em very hard, but he did it with pep and vim. Malone played the proper game at the first of the fight by making White fight up to him. In the third round he became impatient, however, and waded into the fray and got beaten. Holding back and countering might have won him the fight, but he couldn't wait.

Eddie McLarnie and Jack Oliver furnished the actual feature fight of the day. The former, a long, lean sailor, held Oliver out at the end of his lengthy left arm and made a monkey of him. Every time Oliver would swing McLarnie would tap him on the nose with his left, and the blow would glance off into space. Sometimes McLarnie would try to see how many left jabs he could plant in Oliver's face without stopping. Some people counted seven, eight and even ten. Only one thing stopped him. He had long black hair, and this would get down in his face and he'd have to let up to see where he was hitting. As soon as he could get the hair out of his eyes he would start in again. He won the fight for the simple reason that Oliver didn't land a blow.

The exhibition between Fred Gilmore and Frank Crowley was one of the niftiest affairs seen in local rings for some time. Both of the fighters showed all kinds of class.

The results:

VETERANS MEET.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RYE (N. Y.) Sept. 19.—Without giving Father Time so much as a passing thought, upward of 375 veteran golfers gathered at the links of the Apawamis Club today for the twelfth annual seniors' tournament. To play here one must be at least 55 years old.

Many men of affairs were on hand and among the early finishers in today's eighteen-hole round was Judge Henry Stoddard of New Haven, who, notwithstanding his years, went around in 89. He had a seventeen-stroke handicap, so that his 72 net makes him look like a prize winner.

Pretty Tough.

COBB GIVES UP BATTING DREAM

Hope of Leading Ten Years Straight Gone.

Defeat is Bitter Pill for Ty to Swallow.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Tyrus Cobb, for nine years the leading batsman of the American League, today conceded that Tris Speaker of the Cleveland club would be the 1916 champion. Speaker now has a margin of twenty points over Cobb, according to unofficial average.

Cobb said it was a human impossibility for him to try to cut down this lead and at the same time to co-operate in team play to the fullest extent of his ability. Cobb's individual efforts won two of Detroit's recent victories.

There is still sentiment in baseball, opinions of cynics to the contrary. Ty Cobb, the highest-salaried man in baseball, aspired to lead the American League in hitting ten consecutive years, and establish a new record. After the greatest effort of his career he has acknowledged defeat. The highest-salaried player in baseball prized this honor more than all else. He played ball for this honor as he has never played it for salary—he put forth greater effort. In the past nine years his kingship has been threatened twice before. In 1910 he beat out Lajoie by a single point, and in 1911 he was forced to better Joe Jackson's mark of .408. However, his average against the runner-up has been approximately twenty points. He was first hounded by Jackson and then by Collins, but it was Tris Speaker who proved to be his nemesis. Speaker is king and he may remain on the job for a number of years.

SCOW CURRY TO JOIN THE TROJANS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 14.—Undecided whether to return to college or enter professional baseball, "Scow" Curry, U.S.C. athlete, and probably the greatest football and baseball player ever turned out of Long Beach High School, is still "up in the air" as to how to put in his time this fall.

Curry expects to decide by the end of the week, and his close friends say he will more than likely succumb to the call of the gridiron once more and enroll at U.S.C. He played tackle on the Methodist eleven last year.

"Purge" Marshall, for four years star half-back on the Long Beach High School football team, and center and half on last year's U.S.C. eleven, has entered the Davis agricultural school branch of the University of California. Pete Lens, another local athlete and Occidental gridiron star, has returned to the State Normal School at Santa Barbara to finish his course in that institution.

Clay Holloway, U.S.C. quarter of last year, has a job in Long Beach and will not return to school.

TOURNEY STARTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RYE (N. Y.) Sept. 19.—One hundred and seventy-two players were sent away from the first tee in the annual seniors' golf tournament, which started at the Apawamis Club here today. These will hold forth again tomorrow, playing another eighteen holes, while on Thursday and Friday a new lot will get into action.

PITCHER JACK QUINN HUMBLES BEES.

SHUTS OUT SLUGGERS ON THEIR OWN LOT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SALT LAKE, Sept. 19.—What the Tigers and Bees did to Bill Piercey in the opening game of the series here this afternoon is a crying shame. Bill had his mind set upon pitching a regular game of baseball against his former team-mates, but neither the opposition nor his teammates would let him. Jack Quinn had all the luck and he also had a lot of stuff concealed in that good old right arm of his. All things considered, therefore, the Hampats had less trouble in trimming the managerless, playerless, pepperless Bees this afternoon than Los Angeles did last week, which is taking in a whole lot of territory. The final count wa 12 to 0.

As far as Salt Lake's efforts to gather runs are concerned, suffice by saying that Jack Quinn permitted no Bee to get any further than second base during the entire afternoon.

It was different with the Vernon crew. As soon as they got the cinders out of their peepers they proceeded to get on and from there they were kicked in or hit in. Our former fellow-townsman, Swede Risberg, for example, dropped one over the fence after the bases had been filled through walks and hosts.

To start with, Vernon annexed a pair in the second. Bates walked. Downey kicked Hillyard's grounder back at Piercey and another runner was on. Griggs forced Hillyard at second on an easy double, but Orr heaved the pill into the stands while Bates second, Griggs going to second. Piercey uncorked a wild pitch, while Griggs rambled on to third. Griggs scored a moment later on Mattick's sacrifice fly.

A Texas leaguer put Mitze on with one down in the fifth. It was the first real hit off Piercey. Quinn beat out an infield hit, which Orr juggled long enough to lose another double. McAffister forced Quinlan at second. Gleichmann walked and Risberg hit it over the wall to score the whole works.

Quinlan dropped Hillyard's fly in the sixth, a single and an infield out sent him to third, and Mitze's sacrifice fly scored him.

There was one away in the seventh when Orr booted Risberg's grounder and gave the Swede a lift all the way to third.

Bates walked and then the two pulled a double steal while young Sheely was counting his money, Risberg scoring. Hillyard singled to left, where Bayless walked and trampled on it until Bates had scored and Hillyard gone to third. Griggs's sacrifice fly brought in Hillyard.

Mitze's single, Quinn's walk, three infield outs and a wild pitch counted Mitze and Quinn in the eighth.

It is plainly evident that unless the Bee directors do something very suddenly to bring their team back to life, there will be no dividends this fall. The lamentable exhibitions dished up by the locals, coupled with the equally pitiful work of the present umpires, has cut down the crowds to less than half of the usual attendance. The score:

BEAVERS NOSE OUT OAKLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Portland nosed out Oakland today, 3 to 2, in a game in which the hits were evenly divided. The Beavers, however, bunched their hits in the fourth and seventh. The Oaks would have had a run in the sixth if Umpire Doyle, prompted by a protest from Manager McCredie of the Beavers, had not reversed a decision. Score:

WATER DUCKS TO SWIM AT BALBOA THIS WEEK.

THE Southern California swimming championships will be held at Balboat Saturday and Sunday afternoon. The races are to be in the smooth waters of the bay and close enough to shore so that every spectator on the bank can see the contestants. Every swimmer with any reputation in the south will be entered.

Ludy Langer will be missing. The greatest middle-distance swimmer of all time has fallen in love with Hawaii and is talking of making those Pacific Islands his home.

Billy Williams and Cliff Bowes returned from the north yesterday, where they finished first and second in the Pacific Coast high-diving championship. They are two of the most remarkable divers in America and promised to be on hand.

Billy Williams is admitted to be the best diver in the United States. Last year he won the national championship without serious competition at the exposition and has never met an equal since. His winning of the high-diving championship, as well as the fancy championship, proves him to be only the more remarkable. His poise and balance in the air are perfect.

Aileen Allen, the national woman champion, will also compete in the diving. She can do dives that Annette Kellerman, with all her fame, never dared attempt.

From San Diego, Elliott Burns, Shields, McIntosh and others are coming. The race between Burns and Jerry Witt of the L.A.A.C. in the distances ought to be the feature of the meet.

Balboa has placed the managing of the meet entirely in the hands of Wallace Robb. It is up to him to see that it is a success.

BOBBY DAVIS TO THE RESCUE.

His Sensational Stop Saves Game in the Ninth.

Charley Hall and Oldham in a Box Battle.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

No teams battling for a world title ever put up a harder, closer and more scientific battle than that waged yesterday by the Angels and Seals.

In a game featured by superlative pitching and fielding, Los Angeles won—won by just a little more than the length of an eel's ear.

Score: Los Angeles, 1; San Francisco, 0.

It is well that Bobby Davis has the spring of a puma concealed in his legs and a hand at the end of his left arm that could take a hippopotamus by the throat and choke the life out of it. Also, it is well that Harl Maggert has the eye of an eagle, and can run with the speed of a wild horse.

Otherwise there would be another sort of story trickling off the typewriter. The inhuman catches by this pair in the ninth saved the bacon for Charley Hall. That it should be necessary to save the bacon for any man who pitches a well-nigh perfect exhibition, allowing only one clean hit, is something calling for an explanation.

PERSONAL.

Up to the ninth the battle had been largely a personal affair between Hall and Red Oldham, the left-hander with the mosaic complexion. Both twirled all the way in big-league fashion, with Hall having a clear shade. One run was scored off Oldham in the fifth, and that partly through a bad throw of the freckled southpaw. Spotted to that one ace, Hall held the San Francisco strong-arm men safe for eight innings. During that time he allowed only two hits—both scratch blows to the infielders.

The ninth always is a critical period for a pitcher working under the narrow margin of one run. If ever a pitcher is inclined to "break," it is then. And it so happened yesterday that the ninth opened with the top of the San Francisco batting order due, and the dangerous Fitzgerald leading off.

There was a shower of bats from the San Francisco dugout, and a wolf-like roar from the Seal leader. Then a volley of snapping and snarling from a score of spiked athletes. This is an old trick of Wolverton's, and it has driven many a pitcher into a ninth-inning defeat. All that was lacking was the actual odor of hot blood and raw meat. Had Hall closed his eyes he easily could have imagined himself trailed by a pack of timber wolves.

THE WONDER CATCH.

Fitzgerald fidgeted at the plate like a thoroughbred at the barrier. If he reached first the chances were that his speed in some way or another would bring him around to the plate with the tying run.

He caught the ball flush with his bat. It whirred toward left center on a line, raising as it traveled like the trajectory of a shot which has left the muzzle of a gun pointed high.

With the crash of the ball, Davis went into the air. He seemed to hang there momentarily.

There was a solid thud, and Bobby came down to a safe landing with the missle strangled in his left hand.

He had snuffed out what seemed to be a certain triple.

Speas popped to Koerner. Bodie then singled to center for the first clean hit off Hall. But for Bobby's catch this would have scored Fitzgerald with the tying run. It was right after this that Maggert cut down a drive which would have sent Bodie in from first. Only the punch would count now, and Biff Schaller decided to stake everything on three hay-makers. Two of them missed the fast-breaking curves of Hall, Schaller each time spinning around from the momentum of his swing. He found the next one fair. The ball sailed into deep righ center.

HALF BIRD.

Maggert, traveling as though half animal and half bird, skimmed over the grass, touching only the high spots, and vaulting into the air, tucked the ball between his palms. Any failure on his part, the slightest miscalculation, or an infinitesimal slip, meant either a three-bagger or a home run. Thus the game was saved twice in one inning, which is going some.

Joe Schultz led the attack on Oldham with two of the five Los Angeles hits to his credit, and personally unloaded the only tally delivered at the plate. He opened the fifth with a safety to left. McLarry bunted to Oldham, who made a quick throw to force Schultz at second. His shot was just wide enough to pull Corhan off the sack, and both runners were safe. Bassler forced McLarry, Schultz taking third, and he sprinted home on Davis's forceout of Bassler, Corhan to Downs, Bobby barely beating Jerry's try at first for a double. Speas squeezed Hall's grounder for the third out.

HARD TO PICK.

Chance had a tough time picking his pitcher, and made three guesses before finding one who was not handicapped by boils or something else. Standridge was his first selection, but an inspection of Pete developed the fact that he is again covered with boils. Pete now has so many boils that he makes a noise like a geyser.

George Washington Zabel was then trotted out on the turf. It was found that the first finger of George Washington's hand was bad-

INDIANS DROP VERNON CHOICE.

YANKS DO NOT WANT JOHNNY RAWLINS.

Major League Clubs Cancel Drafts by Wholesale—Too Many Bushers go Up—First Choice on Vernon Goes to the Boston Braves.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 19.—More cancellations of the drafts made here by major league clubs on last Friday reached Secretary John E. Bruce of the National Commission today.

New York Americans cancelled on Rawlins of Toledo and the choice from this team reverts to Cleveland. They also cancelled their second choice on Minneapolis and owing to the fact that the Philadelphia Americans cancelled first choice yesterday, the Boston Nationals now have first choice on Minneapolis.

Cleveland cancelled second choice on Vernon, and as the Philadelphia Americans cancelled first choice yesterday, the selection goes to the Boston Nationals.

The Chicago Americans cancelled on Mulligan of Kansas City and on Montreal. Both of these teams reverted to Washington for selection but the latter team immediately cancelled on Kansas City. The Chicago Americans also cancelled on Richmond, Va. By Washington's cancellation of second choice on Kansas City, Philadelphia Americans have the opportunity of selecting a man from this team.

NEW CAR SHOWS ADAPTABILITY.

A man stepped up to a new car in one of the many salesrooms on Automobile Row yesterday, touched the self-starter, threw in the clutch on high gear, and then went and sat down and watched it spin in a thirty-foot circle.

Because people stopped to look at it, and the crowd kept increasing, the manager allowed it to run itself the remainder of the day. And without further attention it followed the imaginary boundary lines and neither increased nor diminished its speed.

The car was a Briscoe, sold on the Coast by the Pacific KissellKar branch, and the demonstration was made for the purpose of showing what a small amount of space is required to turn around in and how slowly the car can be run in high. The demonstration will continue today and tomorrow.

SWIMMERS TO TOUR COUNTRY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Arrangements were completed here today for a tour of the United States by Fanny Durack and Minna Wylie of Australia, holders of world's swimming records for women, it was announced by William Unmack, a director of the American Athletic Union. Plans for the tour were completed by Unmack and Mrs. Hugh McIntosh, president of the Australian Ladies' Amateur Swimming Association.

The Australian swimmers, it is announced, will leave Australia January 17. Their first appearance will be in this city February 22, when they will compete for the women's 220-yard national championship. On later dates they are to swim at Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Chicago, New York and other cities.

TIGERS SCRIMMAGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAKE MINNEWASKA (N. Y.) Sept. 19.—The Princeton football squad had its first scrimmage work of the season today when two elevens were selected and set against each other for a fifteen-minute period. The first eleven, with Haas at quarter-back, scored on the team piloted by Jack Eddy. The touchdown was made on a long forward pass from Moore to Haas.

MABEL TRASK WINS FEATURE.

Fred Russell has Trouble in Winning.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COLUMBUS (O.) Sept. 19.—Mabel Trask, second to Peter Scott last year in the Hoster-Columbus stake for trotters, won this $10,000 event this afternoon, the richest feature of the Columbus Grand Circuit meeting, and did so without effort. The Cox mare was a 10 to 4 choice, Donna Clay was the hope of those who wagered against Mabel Trask.

The favored Volga won the Horse Review Futurity for 3-year-old trotters, taking a new record of 2:07¼, in keeping clear of Harrod's Creek, in the second heat. The Louisville colt carried Volga to the half in 1:02¾ and stood a whipping through the stretch when Bingen Silk challenged him for the place.

Fred Russell was the third winning favorite of the afternoon, but unlike Mabel Trask and Volga, he did not land his race in straight heats. The first two went to Beth Clark, Fred Russell being nosed the first time, and making a break going away in the second mile. The Snow driven gelding won the third heat in 2:04¼. Each of the next two came easily.

Humfast, Brescia and Sister Ella were most in favor of the 2:15 trot, but the winner turned up in Ridgemark, owned at Youngstown, O.

TROJAN BABES TO MEET RIVALS TODAY.

U.S.C.'s freshmen and sophomores will stage their annual rumpus today at Bovard Field in the form of a pushball contest to decide which is the better of the two classes and which has the most husky athletes in their class.

The contest will be taken part in by all of the members of the two classes, with the exception of the football men, who have been withheld from the tussle, as Coach Cromwell does not care to take any chances in injury. When the two teams line up there will be at least fifty on a side, ready to shove the huge seven-foot ball over their opponents' line. The sophomores will be captained by Johny Sigler, star basketball player. The freshmen have not chosen their leader as yet.

Detroit Makes Only Tally in Fifth Inning.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT, Sept. 19.—Boston won from Detroit, 3 to 1, today in the first game of the series. Detroit was unable to hit Mays when men were waiting to score. Dauss, usually effective against Boston, walked five men, three of them in the first inning. One of these, Shorten, scored on a single by Lewis. Shorten also scored Boston's second run in the seventh. He doubled and counted on two successive sacrifices. Hooper's triple following a single by Mays accounted for the other Boston run in the eighth. Two singles and an out gave Detroit one in the fifth. Score:

EDDIE COLLINS WINS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—A corps of pinch-hitters, mustered into the game in the ninth by Manager Rowland, enabled Chicago to pull out a 5 to 4 victory over Philadelphia in the first game of the series and keep pace with the leaders. Today's victory leaves Chicago one and one-half games behind the world's champions and half a game behind Detroit.

Philadelphia hit Benz hard and took a commanding lead before Danforth was rushed to the mound. During this period, the locals bunched hits off Nahors and scored two runs.

Murphy started the local's ninth with a single when he batted for Ness. Fournier batted for Terry and beat out a hit to Grover. Schalk batted for Lynn and advanced both runners on a sacrifice. Felsch went to bat for Danforth and walked, and Hasbrook ran for him. J. Collins flied to Schang and Murphy scored after the catch. Weaver was passed, filling the bases, and Eddie Collins doubled to left, scoring Fournier and Hasbrook. The score:

ERROR LOSES BATTLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—A wild throw by Austin in the fifteenth allowed Magee to score from second with the run that gave New York a 4 to 3 victory over St. Louis here today.

Peckinpaugh's three-base hit and Davenport's wild pitch gave New York a run in the sixth. In the seventh a triple by Gedeon and Walter's sacrifice netted another, while in the ninth Baker knocked a home run. In the fifteenth, after two were out, Magee doubled and Austin threw low to first, letting Magee score. Score:

BROOKLYN, Sept. 19.—Cincinnati made hits off Pfeffer in every inning except the seventh today, but by reckless base running lost their chances to score. Brooklyn making it three out of four in the series by winning 3 to 1. Meyers threw out four runners who tried to steal second. Brooklyn scored in the fourth on Wheat's single, Cutshaw's sacrifice and Mowrey's single. In the sixth with Merkle on first Wheat drove the ball over the right field wall for a homer, sewing up the game. McKechnie, who made three hits, scored the Reds' only run on his single and Huhn's triple. Score:

CUBS BEAT PHILLIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Stolen bases and errors with some hits was the combination which gave Chicago a victory over Philadelphia today, 2 to 0. In the eighth Jacobson singled, stole second and went to third on Killifer's wild throw and scored on Saier's second single. Vaughn held the home team to three scattered hits. Score:

TED WANTED.

Ted Easterly will be signed by the Angels if Chance can locate him. Boles has a bad hand, and Chance feels that he should be fortified with another backstop.

Get Ready, Boys!

PREP GRID TEAMS TO SCRIMMAGE THIS WEEK.

NOW that the city high school coaches know what their schedule is and what they have to buck up against, every one is out working overtime with his boys, striving to mould around a few veterans of last year a team that will show enough knowledge of the game and have the punch to win the championship.

CIRCUS COMING.

Coaches Haslett and Rickershauser are working as hard as they know how and cursing their luck in the mean time. Poly only has three regulars back from their championship aggregation squad of last year, Capt. "Honk" Forer at half, Davis at full-back and Cline at a tackle. Outside of these three they will have to mould a whole new team to put in the field against Manual Arts and L. A. High. It seems that lack of regulars is now the worst of their luck. A circus is due in town in a few days, and when it comes it will camp on Prager Park, home of the Mechanic tanbark heroes. While the circus is here Poly will be out of luck for a training ground.

LUCKY CUSSES.

In the meantime Manual's long string of veterans are out working as hard as the new material and under the supervision of four good coaches, the Toilers are rapidly rounding into form that will make them real championship contenders. Coach Ligda announces that he will hold the first scrimmage of the season tomorrow night.

L. A. High and Hollywood are about in the same boat when it comes to calling the roll of the last year's teams. L. A. High has one veteran back while Hollywood boasts of four men back again.

CALL THE COP.

Although the season starts on October 20, there will be no real important game until November 10. On this date the old feud between L. A. High and Polytechnic will burst forth full blast at Fiesta Park when the two teams mingle. This affair is considered the game of games in prep football circles.

Even though most of the rooters from the Hilltop will concede that the Mechanics have the best chance to win again this year, they will be out to cheer their team to the last ditch. It will be remembered that it was this annual affair last year that resulted in L. A. High being isolated from athletics for the rest of the term for over-enthusiasm shown after their game.

MANUAL VS. POLY.

Another contest that is going to draw a record-breaking crowd will be the second run-in between Manual Arts and Poly in the new brand of ball. Last year Poly won from Manual in a heart-breaking game that gave them the city championship which they now hold. Manual rooters and many other football enthusiasts say that it was the biggest joke of the season, but when they start that around Poly all Roy Haslett has to say is, "Well, remember who won." When the two teams go into the contest this year Poly will be fighting with their backs to the wall in a desperate attempt to show that they can repeat, and not on a fluke either, thus showing that they are real champions.

On the other hand, Manual has never forgotten the licking and Coach Ligda and his assistants have been working hard with their men and constantly reminding them that they must beat Poly or admit that the Purple and Gold warriors are their superiors.

WHO WINS?

The only other big game of the season, the Manual-L. A. High affair, will be the last grid contest of the city championship series, coming on November 24. As yet Manual and L. A. High have never met on the field of battle in the American game, as their game last year was called off following the up-town celebration after Poly had beaten L. A. High.

As their teams were doomed not to meet last year, both sides claimed that they would have won had they been allowed to hold their battle. So all they can do is to wait until the day before Thanksgiving and decide the supremacy for both years.

Following is the complete schedule:

Friday, October 20—Lincoln vs. Hollywood.

Thursday, October 26—Lincoln vs. Polytechnic.

Friday, October 27—L. A. High vs. Hollywood.

Friday, November 10—L. A. High vs. Polytechnic; Manual Arts vs. Lincoln.

Friday, November 17—Polytechnic vs. Manual Arts.

Friday, November 24—Manual Arts vs. L. A. High; Polytechnic vs. Hollywood.

Canada, too, has expert women swimmers. Recently Miss Edith Hartley, a 16-year-old member of Ward's Island Association, achieved the difficult task of swimming across Toronto Bay. She made the distance from the foot of Bay street to Ward's Island dock in one hour. She was accompanied by Miss Elisabeth Wilson, the champion woman swimmer of Toronto, who has swum the bay six times.

COAST LEAGUE OWNERS OUT AFTER BRIGHT STARS.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

THE announcement from Salt Lake that Napoleon Lajoie probably will be signed to manage the Bees is but another evidence of the efforts of Coast League owners to bring the Coast League close to a major league standard. Nearly all the managers in the Coast League have been prominent figures in the majors. Wolverton was for years rated as one of the best third basemen in the National, and a consistent .300 hitter while playing with Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago. Later he managed the New York Americans. Frank Chance won four pennants for Chicago and two world titles. McCredie passed several seasons in the big show, and Howard was chief utility man for the Cubs in their pennant-winning days. Lajoie is too well-known to require introduction. On with the big time stuff. The Coast League for the first time in its history is attracting country-wide attention.

Loud shouts of joy went up from the baseball fans of Los Angeles when Otis Crandall, purchased from the St. Louis Browns, reported here for duty yesterday. Merely further evidence of the determination of Powers to give this city a pennant-winner. Crandall is pleased with the change. Several other clubs wanted the pitcher, but were out-bid by Chance, who, instead of dickering with Oakland, closed the deal outright with St. Louis. In so doing Chance put something over on his rivals, and there are four other clubs which appear to be pretty sore. Any team in the league could have bought Crandall from the Browns had the idea only taken root. Oakland had first chance, but did not care to pungle up. As Howard will do only constructive work for the remainder of the season he will deal largely with younger players. Crandall is a high-salaried man, and St. Louis demanded a large sum for him.

An Oakland writer, discussing the purchase, says: "They are picking on the Los Angeles management, and also accusing Del Howard of helping boost the Seraphic bunch into a pennant. Just what good a piece of bunting flying from a southern flagpole would do Howard we can't imagine. The Oaks have no chance to do any good for themselves this year. Crandall was going to the Angels next spring, anyway, and in the meantime he was drawing a fat salary from the local club. It was simply to save the salary that Howard let Crandall go to the Los Angeles club. It is said that he can get by with a few bushers for the remainder of the season, and he wants to give all a good trial. Great Market Activity Continues, with Sales Again More than Million Shares — United States Steel Preferred at Best Figure in Five Years — More Extensive Operations in Bonds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Today's stock market maintained its recent reputation for excessive activity, sales again exceeding a million shares. This makes the eleventh successive session in which transactions have equaled or exceeded that impressive total.

United States Steel retained its place as leader on a fresh advance to the new record of 100, placing it above 13 points of the preferred stock, which is upon a fixed 7 per cent. basis. Incidentally, the preferred, on its rise to 121, was at its best quotation since 1911.

Movements elsewhere were not altogether in keeping with the gains made by steel, although advances far exceeded declines. Rails regained 1 1/2 points of yesterday's reversal. Movements were variably better, with marked activity in General Electric and Westinghouse. Coppers and others responded to the favorable trade conditions and motors were inclined to throw off their recent handicap.

Sugars and oils were in greater demand in favor, the former being promoted by Cuban-American at the new record of 260, while Mexican Company, Associated Oil and California Petroleum rose 2 to 3 points with some irregularity in Mexican Petroleum.

Shipping shares were consistently backward, developing heaviness in the final hour when the entire list, with a few minor specialities, surrendered much of its advance on reports, seemingly of professional origin. Total sales of stocks amounted to 1,099,000 shares.

Bonds were irregular on more extensive operations. Total sales, par value, $4,675,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call but the coupon 3s gained 1/4 per cent. on sales.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Although a few small lots of new crop walnuts are on the market the full movement has not started as yet. The California Walnut Growers' Association is expected to name opening prices for the new crop today. Opinions differ as to what the opening quotations will be, but a majority of the trade anticipate a higher price than last year, when 13½ cents a pound was the ruling figure. This year's estimate production is 12,000 tons as compared to the record-breaking crop of 15,000 tons last season. However, the crop will be the largest outside of 1915 and will represent an increase of approximately 7 per cent. over the five-year average. This is the earliest crop in the history of the association, and from all reports will excel as to quality also.

The canned tomato situation continues firm. Some shipments are being made east, especially to Texas and other middle western points. Latest statements from eastern growing centers are to the effect that the recent scare along the Atlantic seaboard over a short crop is not justified inasmuch as the advices now indicate a fairly large pack.

Winter Nellis pears are now in the Los Angeles market at 4 cents a pound and dealers report a good demand for the fruit at that price. Berries are bringing slightly lower prices, the best grade of strawberries selling yesterday for 6 and 7 cents a pound and blacks from 5 to 6 cents. Gauvas have been cut to 4 and 5 cents a basket and raspberries are commanding 10 to 14 cents per basket when they can be secured.

The customary decline was incorporated in potato values Tuesday when northern Burbanks were offered for $1.90 to $2.10. Fancy grades were selling for $2.15, but that evidently was the top of the market. Sweets are due for another reduction almost any time now as receipts have been steadily increasing.

There was no trading on the Produce Exchange yesterday morning and the session was dull indeed. The receipts totaled 283 cases of eggs, 38,500 pounds of butter, 10,070 pounds of cheese, 7820 sacks of potatoes, 3 sacks of onions, 567 boxes of apples, 1600 boxes of tomatoes and 1000 boxes of pears.

Both Sides Deny the Motives Imputed to Them.

Miss Mary J. Mitchell, a [illegible] of No. 1428 South [illegible] street, today faces Justice [illegible] on a charge of threatening [illegible] Mrs. Ella Anderson, she will [illegible] as her own attorney, plead justification and introduce a package of [illegible] that she alleges were written [illegible] by George B. English, a realty [illegible] of Alhambra.

Miss Mitchell will admit writing [illegible] letter, addressed to Mrs. Anderson, in which appears the passage: "[illegible] are other things of value [illegible] gold—I am going to get it. [illegible] OUT." She says that the [illegible] message did not mean [illegible] she intended to use violence, [illegible] that she proposed to go to [illegible] of Mr. English and show [illegible] what she describes as a [illegible] courtship, he had broken [illegible] and refused to repay her [illegible] she had used in furnishing a [illegible] at Santa Ana.

Mr. English last evening denied [illegible] engagement, but admitted the [illegible] and the fact that he had been [illegible] of Miss Mitchell. He declared that he was endeavoring to [illegible] the debt by monthly payments when Miss Mitchell sued him [illegible] secured a judgment for $460. HER STORY.

Mr. English "kept company" with [illegible] "for many years," Miss Mitchell [illegible] last evening. "About two [illegible] ago he told me that he owned [illegible] property in Alhambra and [illegible] was unable to rent it because [illegible] was unfurnished. He suggested that I furnish it and it would [illegible] an ideal place for us to spend [illegible] honeymoon. I invested $750 in [illegible] property at one time and later [illegible] more. Then when we became [illegible] engaged I took Mr. English's [illegible] for the amount. He offered [illegible] second mortgage on the Alhambra property, but I refused it. [illegible] became delinquent in his [illegible] payments I sued and got [illegible] Then I found that his [illegible] had been turned over to [illegible] Mitchell, his niece, on a trust-[illegible]deed. I could neither [illegible] my money nor any security [illegible] the letter. I was angry [illegible] still. The note I wrote [illegible]

Mrs. Anderson: This is from [illegible]. I suppose you think [illegible] for Mr. English to beat [illegible] of the money and give to [illegible] the gold I gave him was $750 [illegible] money I lost to get it $100. [illegible] he is Southwest [illegible] I paid back my pupils [illegible] he said he would make [illegible] cents he has drawn at [illegible] I let him have to help [illegible] out of debt. [illegible] he does not pay my lawyer [illegible] are other things of value [illegible] going to get it. [illegible] OUT."

ADMITS LETTER.

Mr. English informed that Mr. English [illegible] nothing over proposed marriage [illegible] he was ever engaged [illegible] her, Miss Mitchell produced [illegible] letter, which she stated [illegible] delivered to her by messenger. Mr. English, while admitting the [illegible] of the note, maintained [illegible] engagement did not exist: [illegible] ANGELES, Nov. 15, 1914. [illegible], The undersigned has been looking everywhere to find you and is [illegible] sorry. Treat him with the [illegible] consideration, love and affection [illegible] his nervous system is under [illegible] strain and is now on the [illegible] collapse. [illegible] you have gazed into his [illegible] last night and beheld [illegible] of pity. Take him by the [illegible] say, 'George, I'm so glad [illegible] both feel the same when [illegible] are supremely happy to [illegible] returned to me. Think [illegible] and bright the sun [illegible] on the following morning [illegible] a stormy night.'

"Lovingly,

"GEORGE B. E."

OTHER SIDE OF IT.

Mr. English declares that he can [illegible] several witnesses who will [illegible] that, in addition to the letter, Miss Mitchell uttered verbal [illegible] to Mrs. Anderson. He [illegible] stated that he intended to [illegible] Miss Mitchell the full amount [illegible] her claim and that he would [illegible] a proposal of settlement of [illegible] as soon as he was in a [illegible] to fulfill the obligation. "She [illegible] to her money, although [illegible] asked her to furnish the [illegible] she just went ahead and put [illegible] things in there, and naturally expected to be repaid. I [illegible] make up the deficit, but at [illegible] am unable to do so. My [illegible] in Santa Ana property is [illegible] into cash and if the [illegible] is sold under the hammer [illegible] is likely that there would be [illegible] left to more than pay [illegible] mortgage."

CHARGES BY HUSBAND.

Manufacturer in a Cross-complaint in Wife's Divorce Suit Names Co-respondent and Brings in Alleged Meetings. Denials Made.

The double-barreled Stever divorce suit, scheduled for trial tomorrow, involves, in the cross-complaint of J. A. Stever, president of the National Tank and Manufacturing Company, the name of Thomas Golding, formerly connected with the National Jeffersonian. Mrs. Frances J. Stever alleges she was deserted and Mr. Stever comes back and alleges she met Mr. Golding in La Mel Apartments, No. 210 South Flower street, on various dates last August.

Through Graham & Graham, Mr. Golding yesterday filed his answer, denying actual misconduct with Mrs. Stever at the La Mel on the dates named. Attorney Gesner Williams, for Mr. Stever, will offer at the trial a detailed report of detectives who stopped at the La Mel, occupied a room near that of the parties accused and kept tab on their movements.

WOMAN SO WEAK COULD NOT SLEEP

Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Oxford, Mass.—"I had lost three children and I was all run down and so weak I could not sleep at night. My eyesight would leave me and everything I ate upset my stomach. I was very nervous and if I would start to sweep I would have to stop and lie down before I could finish. I was looking over the paper one day and read of a woman who felt as I did and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I took it too. Now I am proud to tell you I am feeling fine and have given birth to a boy baby. He is my 'Pinkham' baby. I keep a bottle of Compound in my house always."—Mrs. PETER MARCO, Box 54, North Oxford, Mass.

Sleeplessness, indigestion, weakness, and nervousness are symptoms which indicate a lowered vitality of the female organism, and the tonic, strengthening properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs, contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are just what is needed by every woman who is in Mrs. Marco's condition.

For free advice in regard to any annoying symptom write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

MAYOR TO SEE AQUEDUCT TO GET LIGHT ON POWER.

BEFORE any definite action is taken on the suggestion that the city should avoid paralleling the distributing systems of the three electrical companies and enter into an arrangement to purchase them on time, Mayor Woodman will personally inspect the aqueduct in company with Superintendent Mulholland and Dr. Powers, health commissioner. He will inquire into every phase of the situation and then will act as he thinks best in the interests of all the citizens, he said yesterday.

"I intend to ascertain all the different angles of the affair and take it up with every official that is interested," said the Mayor. "It looks to me like a cold business proposition and it ought to be approached that way. There is no political or any other matter involved except the business side.

"As a matter of general policy I am in favor of municipal ownership and municipal control. I am going up the aqueduct at the earliest possible moment and look over some of the details available. I will take Mr. Mulholland and Dr. Powers. The health commissioner is going to look into reservoir protection as to sanitation.

"I do not want to take things on hearsay, but want my actions to be based on facts. I want to get at what is right. It seems to me it is a case of justice and I wish to do the right thing and the square thing for the city. That is my aim, with politics left on the shelf."

tions. Leaving Copan the party went to Belize, the capital of Honduras, and chartered a motorboat to make a trip up the east coast of Yucatan to the ruins of Tulurem, a city which flourished between 1200 and 1500 A. D. Here photographs were taken, maps made and drawings and tracings of inscriptions and wall paintings were secured. A motorboat was then taken up the Helize River to El Cayo, which is the principal shipping point of chicle, which forms the principal ingredient of chewing gum. From this point a ten-day trip was made into Uaxactun, where the earliest monument ever discovered was found. After a careful survey of this ancient city, where decaying piles of stone tell of a civilization that flourished long before white men dreamed of the existence of this continent, the party retraced their steps for home, arriving in the United States June 5 of this year.

Dr. Morley is a young man in years, being just 33. He was born in Chester, Pa., and is a graduate of Harvard, class of 1907, and attended the School of American Archeology from 1911 to 1913. He is at present an associate archeologist of the Carnegie Institution of Washington which is affiliated with the Archeological Institute of America. While in the city he will be the guest of Dr. Hector Alliot, curator of the Southwest Museum.

The colored porter who switched the grips on a train running from San Diego to Los Angeles several days ago, is in acute danger of losing some of his kinky wool and possibly even his handsome features if a certain pair of much-disgruntled travelers should meet him on the street here.

The pair, incidentally, are all ... gerheads, as was evidenced by ...

After watching the ever-changing scenery en route, the two travelers unbeknown to each other, picked up the wrong grips on their arrival at the local station. E. W. Fleming, an automobile dealer, was at the depot to meet Miss Pearson and escorted the luggage to a hotel at the corner of Eighth and Figueroa streets. The grip in possession of Mr. Hockmuth was carried to the Stowell.

Mr. Hockmuth had a theater ...

gagement and was going to put on his evening clothes, a part of which were in his bag. Imagine his feelings when he opened the latter and there discovered all of the accessories that go to beautify a woman. Also he found letters owned by Miss Pearson from Mr. Fleming, so after recovering sufficiently from the shock, he looked up the latter.

Then the story takes another angle. While in transit to the depot, chosen by the young woman, the grip was stolen. She never got such a chance to see the exposition and other business and her paraphernalia said to have been contained in the Hockmuth valise. She did want her belongings back, but she couldn't give anything to get them and the "drummer" refused to release her property until she found it.

After some arbitration and the passage of a few letters, both parties declared war to a finish. Hockmuth entered his suit first, through Attorney J. F. Caswell, and Miss Pearson was a close second, her counter suit filed by Attorney Clyde Cate. Now the court can worry about the outcome.

JOY-RIDE, NOT THEFT.

Felony Charge Reduced to Misdemeanor by Justice.

Raymond Aaron was very willing to admit he had been joy-riding, but had been partly responsible for the damage done to two big touring cars belonging to E. H. Barnard, of the Los Angeles Transfer Company, but he did not admit he was guilty of grand larceny, on which charge he was taken before Justice Brown yesterday afternoon.

Deputy District Attorney ... assisted by Special Prosecutor Michael Shannon, developed the fact that Aaron had been implicated in various petty crimes in the past, but was ruled to have no bearing on the particular case.

Justice Brown dismissed the grand larceny charge when Aaron was ordered to stand trial in the police court on the misdemeanor allegation of "joy-riding."

The contention of the prosecution was that he had stolen the cars, driving back for the second one only after he had injured the first one, and then wrecking the second while trying to get away with it.

DEATH FREES HIM.

Copper Wire Thief Forsook Arrange Wife's Funeral.

As a result of the death of his wife in the County Hospital, ... Villegas, who arrived at her bedside just after she had passed away, was yesterday paroled and released from the County Jail to look after the funeral arrangements and take care of his family.

Villegas was convicted of stealing copper wire, as one of a gang of darling operators who cut off long strands of trolley wire and sold it. While operating on the wire he was thrown by a shock from an improvised ladder on which he was standing, and the injury received brought about his arrest. He was sentenced to one year in the County Jail and has served half of that time.

FLAG CEREMONY TEACHES PRIDE.

Crown City School Pupils to Awaken Spirit.

Janitors are Relieved of Perfunctory Duty.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 19.—In an effort to inculcate an abiding spirit of patriotism and to increase the respect of the youth for our national emblem, the Board of Education has provided for a daily flag ceremony at each of the public schools during the coming school year. Janitors have been relieved of the perfunctory task of raising and lowering the Stars and Stripes on the school grounds and the duty will be imposed on a squad of four boys at each school.

The regulation army exercises will be carried out both when the flag is raised in the morning and when it is lowered in the evening. Two boys will raise or lower the flag while the other boys with drum and bugle corps act as escort. The simple but impressive ceremony is expected to teach the boys and girls greater love and respect for the national emblem. In the past it has been left to the janitors to raise and lower the flag. Usually the task was performed before the arrival of the pupils in the morning and after their departure in the afternoon and there was no ceremony connected with the proceeding. The children took it as a matter of course that the flag would be in place when they arrived at school and they participated in no ceremonies in connection with the flag except once a year, on Flag Day. It is expected that under the new arrangement the pupils will assemble to watch their playmates perform the ceremony.

BIG CATCH OF RATTLESNAKES.

Hunter of Reptiles Sells Thirty-six of Them to Chinamen.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, Sept. 19.—James Benton's latest rattlesnake catch is worth $432. Mr. Benton, who lives in Santa Barbara, catches rattlesnakes for a living, and this week sold thirty-six of the reptiles for $12 each, to Oxnard Chinamen, who value them for medicinal purposes, drugs being compounded from the venom.

Mr. Benton has been bitten a number of times, in one instance almost losing his life. He catches the reptiles with a pronged stick.

NEW FLOOD DEVICE.

An automatic stream measuring wier and tower for registering the size of floods has been installed in the Arroyo Seco near the ranger's cabin. The device, which was installed by J. C. Dort of the forestry service, is expected to supply valuable data for the municipal water department. This device is one of eight which the Federal government is installing at the expense of the county for studying flood control.

The stream measurer in the Arroyo has been built to withstand the floods. The concrete wier will hold back the high water and maintain a basin of water in which measurements can be made. An iron pipe connects the pool with a concrete tower seventeen feet high. The water in the tower will seek the level of that in the pool and a float in the tower will operate a pencil which will register on a sheet of paper that is revolved on a drum by clockwork.

Nine hundred men under Lieut.-Col. David J. Baker will be sent to Imperial Beach next Friday.

No official information has been received by Gov. Cantu, according to announcement from his Mexicali office, of an army reported to have embarked from Guaymas for Ensenada to wrest control of Lower California from him. Little credence is given the report officially, the opinion being expressed that it was circulated by Gov. Cantu's enemies on the American side in order to embarrass him. As an indication that he is more interested in local commercial development than rumors of war, Gov. Cantu pulled the lever that ginned the first bale of cotton in the new gin installed at Mexicali by the Globe Grain and Milling Company of Los Angeles.

INDIAN FIESTA MARKS NEW ERA

Give Prizes in Sports for Bucks' Amusement.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN JACINTO, Sept. 19.—The controlling hand of Uncle Sam is the big feature of the annual Indian fiesta and fair in progress at the Saboba Reservation here. The transformation of the old-time fiesta where the passion of the Mission Indians for peon, their great gambling game, held full sway into the new order of things with gambling prohibited and useful arts fostered by prizes offered by the Department of the Interior, marks a new era in the long and pathetic story of the original American.

With jest and frolic and to the tune of the white man's one-step the programme of athletic sports and old-time Indian dances is being carried out with throngs of Indians in attendance from all over Southern California. Hundreds of automobiles are collected about the big brush ramada. But what is all festivity to the younger generation of school-trained Indian, who dances with the white girls at the jitney dance in the center of the courtyard, and interesting comedy to the machine loads of visitors from the cities looking on, is tragedy to many of the gray-haired Indians, who are experiencing the new order of things for the first time.

THRONG THE TRAILS.

For over a week past all Indian trails and the fine cement roads of the automobilist have led to Saboba and a steady procession of auto headlights have flashed by the Saboba Lithia Hot Springs resort, close to the reservation. With household goods loaded in wagons and trailed by their dogs and horses the Indian families from as far south as Mexico have moved bag and baggage, camping about the ramada and the more prosperous renting the rooms back of the booths where refreshments and lace-work, baskets and articles of Indian manufacture are offered for sale.

And typical of the new order of things big auto busses have carried load after load of the more modern Indians from the Santa Fe Station, while a few even have arrived in their own machines.

And while the young buck in white collar is dancing with a San Jacinto pale-faced maiden and receiving compliments from the onlooking crowd as the best dancer on the jitney dance floor the old-time dances of the tribes are being executed to the music of the weird Indian chants, but not in Indian costume. Feathers are worn and excited prance and whirl are there but blue work shirt and overalls cover the red skin. A touch of comedy for the outsider and tragedy for the wrinkled Indian brave.

FIRE-EATER MODERN TOO.

The feather dances, the eagle or war dance, and the bird dance are here and the weird incantations, but the bare feet and the feathers are the only relics of the past. The fire-eater, imported from the desert, eats coals of fire but he uses a modern electric torch to illumine his visage and demonstrate that the dead coals are still in his mouth. He addresses the crowd in Spanish upon his feat like a Chautauqua lecturer. The celebrated peon games are held nightly about the camp fires with the intense swaying of bodies and excited chanting, while perspiration pours from the players.

But there is no wild gambling anymore for the government does not allow it. It is only performed at so much per game, the purse contributed by the management. With gambling cut out the modern Indian must be paid for everything. Even the feather dancer, in overalls, would not allow his photograph taken unless his manager was paid for it.

The fiesta is an interesting show for all that. It is only the hard-working government employees who know what ropes must be pulled to satisfy the Indian for the loss of his gambling.

BABY SHOW FEATURE.

And the government is working hard to make a success of the prize award feature of the fair, while there are plenty of races and games for prizes. The first Indian baby show on record is a feature with a prize for the neatest and best cared-for baby. There are also awards for the best exhibits of lace, basketwork, garden produce, fattest cattle, and best-kept home and garden on the Saboba Reservation.

The programme of sports includes basketball games by teams of girls, horse races, tugs-of-war, games for old women, shinney, foot races, and a six-mile Piaki race with a big ball kicked the entire distance. The fiesta opened September 15 at 6 o'clock p.m., with the raising of the American flag and will close September 21 with the lowering of the flag.

FUEL TANK BLOWS UP; KILLS YOUTH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TEHACHEPI, Sept. 19.—Andrew F. Decker was killed and James Coveret severely bruised yesterday by the explosion of a tractor fuel tank on which they were working. The men were in the employ of the Ramina ranch and were soldering the tank at the time of the accident.

The remains of young Decker, who was not quite 21 years old, will be taken to his former home at Nassau, N. Y., for burial and will be accompanied by his cousin, Arthur Pease.

SLAYER SENTENCED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, Sept. 19.—Ten years in Folsom is the penalty imposed on R. Casillas, Mexican, who killed Tom Dolman in a drunken row here July 27, last. Casillas pleaded guilty to a charge of murder and escaped with a lighter sentence, according to Judge Rogers, than would have been the case had the action come to trial.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 19.—A rain-storm, accompanied by thunder and lightning, visited Redlands this afternoon and in less than three-quarters of an hour over half an inch of rain fell in this city. The storm water ditches were filled and the gutters in the business section of the city overflowed, but no damage was done by the storm. It was a local rain, according to reports, as there was no precipitation in other parts of the valley. The rainfall here was .55 of an inch; season total, .93.

At Seven Oaks, in the upper Santa Ana Canyon, almost an inch of rain fell and there was a light fall of snow on the top of Mt. San Bernardino. The rainfall was light in Big Bear Valley, at Oak Glen and Yucaipa. It was heavy in Mill Creek Canyon and the Mill Creek was soon a roaring stream.

Some damage was done to the lines of the Edison company from the power-houses in the canyon, but repairs were soon made.

DELAYS RESUMING OF SHIP SERVICE.

AMERICAN - HAWAIIAN COMPANY PLANS REVEALED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Sept. 19.—That the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company will not resume service to this port from New York until early in the year 1918 became known today. The office of the company on pier A has been closed and F. N. Mills, local agent for the company, will have no connection with the company after October 1.

The policy of retrenchment is general and now that most of the steamers of the line are running offshore under charter there is little need for office men. In the New York office alone 110 men were let out.

With the departure of the steamer Floridan from San Francisco yesterday for Delaware breakwater, Pacific Coast ports north of Balboa will be without an American-Hawaiian vessel for many years. Most of the fleet is operating in the Atlantic. Early in January three of the vessels will likely be returned to Pacific waters to carry sugar from Honolulu to San Francisco.

MEXICANS IN FRAY.

Charles Lares, a Mexican laborer, was stabbed three times over the heart early this morning on Smith's Island, and is in a critical condition at the San Pedro Hospital. Pablo Ruiz is his assailant, according to the story Lares told the police, and is a fugitive from justice. The cries of Lares attracted employees of the Standard Oil Company. When they arrived Ruiz ran away. Both men had been drinking.

HAULING FORT GUNS.

Three of the base rings for the heavy guns at Fort McArthur are being hauled from the Southern Pacific line on the government reservation to the top of the hill upon which the guns will be located. The Pioneer Truck Company has been awarded the contract for hauling the rings and is using an eighteen-horse team and twenty men for each rung.

TUNA PRICE RAISED.

The price of tuna has jumped to $45 per ton. Fishermen have been receiving $37.50 per ton, but on account of the scarcity the canneries have raised the price in order to induce the boats to go out after fish.

Service Commission Urgently Needs New Quarters.

A special committee appointed by the Public Service Commission, the library board and representatives of the City Planning Commission, is to have some "get-together" conferences, with the purpose of bringing into harmony plans of the Public Service Commission and the library board regarding proposed public buildings. This was decided yesterday, after a conference between members of the library board and a delegation from the City Planning Commission, and the Public Service Commission at its regular meeting.

The result may be that the lot owned by the Water Board, at the southwest corner of Olive and Fifth streets, may be acquired by the library board, as a part of its proposed site for a $3,000,000 library building. Its representatives were told yesterday that the lot can be had if its market price is paid in cash.

There was a general discussion of the Water Board's proposed erection on this lot of a twelve or thirteen-story building. The objection was raised that this would materially interfere with the plans of the library board to acquire all the property in the block lying north of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company's building, and reaching through to Grand avenue; to create a wide parking for Fifth street, reaching to Normal Hill Center, and to place a library building in the center of the grounds to be acquired. A plan that has been approved was presented, showing a large two-story library structure of the same general architectural type as the insurance company's building.

MAY ASK BONDS.

The special committee, composed of Commissioners Erkenbrecher and Kemp and Auditor Anderson, was instructed to confer with the library board. It was intimated by members of the latter board, Orra E. Monnette and Mrs. F. M. Harmon, and Librarian Perry, that so much encouragement has been received regarding the building project the library board may soon start a movement to realize the desired project, and may ask for the presentation of a bond proposition for this purpose.

The Public Service Commissioners stated they would not object to going to another location, provided they could get their price for the lot at Fifth and Olive streets. They said they have refused an offer of $235,000 cash for the property and consider it worth $260,000.

The erection of a twelve or thirteen-story building for the housing of the water and power departments is, however, considered imperative, and there must be comparatively quick action. The present lease on the space occupied in the Knickerbocker Building expires next February 1 and the space there is not sufficient. Practically double the present first-floor space will be required, it was stated, when the power service goes into effect.

OTHER BUSINESS.

A contract for $94,228.11 worth of sheet steel, riveted pipe was awarded by the Public Service Commission to the Baker Iron Works. This pipe is for use in the Western-avenue main.

The Mount Washington Improvement Association, in urging the purchase of that portion of the Eagle Rock Water Company's system lying within the city limits, petitioned that if such action is taken the rates for Mt. Washington be no higher than for any other section of the city. This was taken under advisement.

Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood asked that 176,000 pounds of salvage copper wire held by the aqueduct department be transferred to the power department, and that credit for this be given on the $200,000 which the aqueduct department owes to the power department. There was some demur over this proposition, as the money from the sale of salvage was intended to be used for completing certain work now in progress. The matter was finally referred to the Supply Committee and Special Counsel Mathews for consideration.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electrical Corporation made a strong written protest against what it declared was the "high-handed and illegal" action of employees of the power bureau in removing its poles, cross-arms, etc., in connection with constriction of the municipal system, and declared that unless this practice is stopped, the company will be compelled to take steps to "secure legal punishment."

GETS EXPERIENCE.

Missing Girl when Found Says She Wanted to Help Self.

Having worked at many and varied things since her disappearance from home, May 19, and declaring her only reason for disappearing to be the result of much thought about independence and self-support, Charlotte Forsburg, 18 years old, who dropped from sight suddenly from her father's home, No. 206 North Hope street, was found yesterday by Juvenile Officer Slaten and Policewoman Shatto, at No. 1117 West Tenth street. The girl was apparently happy and contented in her employment as a salesgirl in a Broadway leather store.

Since leaving home, the young woman had been employed, she stated, as a waitress, nurse, potato peeler, laundry worker and candy wrapper. She declared she had simply walked away from home because she was tired of being petted and spoiled and wanted to earn her own living. She will be returned to her parents, with a possible recommendation that she be allowed to work to earn money.

CRAP RAID COMES HIGH.

An item of $65 for expenses was spotted yesterday by the Supervisors in the demand of Capt. Hunter, chief of detectives of the District Attorney's office, for raiding a crap game in a hotel at Venice. The demand was accompanied by the recommendation of the Morals Efficiency Committee, that it be paid. Although it was only $65 and the raid netted the county $500 in fines and the city of Venice $175, the board wanted light on the expense item. So the bill was returned to Capt. Hunter.

REVERSES DECISION.

Secretary of Interior Knocks Precedents Over Ropes in Opinion Involving Desert Land Entry—Means Second Entryman to Benefit.

Reversing the decision of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and local Land Office, involving a question of credits for expenditures on a Mojave Desert land entry, the Secretary of the Interior, it became known here yesterday, has set up a new precedence for subordinates to conform their decisions to.

Up to this time, it has been held that an entryman cannot take credit for work performed by a previous entryman on a desert land claim for the purpose of perfecting annual or final proof. It was this principle that dictated the opinion rendered by the Los Angeles officials, which was later on affirmed by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, in deciding that the contest of Harry W. Elliott, involving 160 acres of land, in the Mojave Desert, against Harry E. White, should be dismissed. The Secretary of the Interior has held that the land should go to White.

It appears from the record that White entered the land in 1908, and in 1913, when it came to final proof, he relinquished the property and it reverted to the government. He refiled again on the same land, hoping thereby to get the benefit of an additional four years to perfect his final proof. The local officials held that the $4246 he had spent to comply with the law, could not be credited on the new entry, but the Secretary of the Interior has decided differently.

PRINCESS MODE ON EVE OF COME-BACK.

NEWEST FASHION SHOW GOWNS REVEAL TENDENCY.

Long, Unbroken Line from Shoulder to Hip Specially Marked in Evening Dress—Popularity of Heavy Embroideries is Fatal to Flatness.

The Princess mode is about to return.

The newest of the gowns brought in for display at the Fashion Show tomorrow and Friday give unmistakable evidence of this fact. Especially do the evening gowns foretell the coming back of the long, unbroken line from shoulder to hip. Many of the frocks show a decided curve at the underarm also, although the small waistline, once a feature of the princess figure, is not threatened as yet.

Many handsome evening gowns show a low-draped bodice curving down decidedly at the hip, with a Grecian suggestion, and others have embroidered, close-fitting bodices of paletted net or heavy bands of sequins. The popularity of these heavy embroideries accounts in one way for the long, close-fitting lines, since anything in the way of fluffiness is out of the question where beaded trimmings are found.

Women will glitter with sequins and rustle with jet and bugle trimming in their best frocks this winter, and with the return of ostrich feather trimmings, fans and hat decorations of the same rich plumage, the woman of fashion will suggest elegance of the most pronounced type. The sweetly simple things of the past season or so are entirely gone, and magnificence which may be stately and is sure to be rather coquettish, at least, will be the order of the day.

Many of the windows of the downtown stores will be veiled today to permit the window dressers to accomplish their purpose and get gowns, waxen models and scenery all into place before the big unveiling of windows, early tomorrow morning.

TO REPAIR ROAD.

Citrus Growers Tax Self for San Dimas Canyon Highway.

The San Dimas Fruit Exchange has subscribed $500, it developed yesterday, for the rehabilitation of the public road up San Dimas Canyon that was recently washed out by the storms, while the county has contributed $1200, and the forest service, $500. The money subscribed by the San Dimas corporation was raised by levying a tax of one-quarter of a cent on each box of oranges or lemons handled by the exchange.

COMPROMISE MADE IN VENICE FIGHT.

CITY CLERK IS ORDERED TO CERTIFY ITS STATUS.

Judge Taft Passes Recall War to Board of Trustees of Beach City and Takes Steps to See that They Shall be Informed as to Facts.

A compromise judgment was given by Judge Taft yesterday in the petition of William E. Beecham for a writ of mandate directed against C. N. Burns, City Clerk of Venice, to compel him to certify to the sufficiency of the recall petition against C. L. Smart and J. J. Lewis, trustees. A number of charges are made against these trustees growing out of the political battles held in Venice and which were aired in court with particular reference to the alleged colonization scheme.

Judge Taft ordered the City Clerk to certify to the Board of Trustees the present status of the legal proceeding. The legal battle was fought by Attorneys R. A. Linn for Mr. Beecham and Hanna for the trustees.

GIVEN PROBATION.

WOMAN FORGER FREE.

Mrs. Adeline Sheppard, the woman who preferred jail to return to face her neighbors after having pleaded guilty to the charge of forging a check in her home town, Azusa, was yesterday given five years probation by Judge Willis when the final disposition of her case came up. The charge against her was passing worthless paper on the United States National Bank of Azusa, to which the name of Mrs. C. Becker had been attached. A number of similar charges were pending but will not be pressed, according to Deputy District Attorney Selph.

ALL LOOK ALIKE.

SO LABEL YOUR FORD.

Robert England convinced a jury in Judge Craig's court that he had taken another man's Ford by mistake, believing it to be his own and had driven about in it until arrested without realizing the car belonged to another man. W. B. Tout claimed that England had stolen his car from in front of a motion-picture theater in Glendora on the night of July 24. Tout did not actually own the car, but had rented it from S. Wilhite. England claimed that he had gone to the same theater and on coming out had failed to note particularly the car and did not realize it belonged to someone else. The jury acquitted him of the charge of stealing the machine.

IN AND OUT

ABOUT THE COURTHOUSE.

NEWTON ESTATE. In a concise will filed for probate yesterday Eben W. Newton of Toledo bequeathed his estate valued at $108,969.35 to his wife, Mary D. Newton, with full power to sell all or any part of the property. The estate consists of real property worth $22,000, bonds $72,000, and promissory notes. Mr. Newton died last Friday.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY. A plea of "not guilty" was entered by Clyde M. Green when he appeared before Judge Willis yesterday on the charge of having mistreated 14-year-old Mrs. Cloye Mae Francisco Smith of San Pedro. The alleged crime is said to have occurred in Los Angeles on August 16. The trial of Green was set for September 27.

ALIMONY CUT. C. L. Hill, who earns $80 a month, wondered why he should pay his wife alimony pending the trial of her divorce action when she is traveling with their daughter, who is drawing down $70 a week in a vaudeville sketch. He had been required by the court to pay a nominal sum as temporary alimony, and yesterday he asked that the order be vacated for the reasons stated. The daughter, Malvina Josephine Hill, sent her deposition in which she admitted receiving the handsome salary. Judge Dehy decided it was an imposition to expect Mr. Hill to provide for his wife.

WITH SILO QUERY GOES TO BOARD.

Building Superintendent Finds Peculiar Condition Caused by Inclusion of Farm Lands Within the City Limits and Asks for Official Instructions.

Agricultural problems have come before the department of buildings since the annexation of San Fernando Valley. Supt. Backus consulted with the Board of Public Works about one yesterday.

A dairy company which is about to erect $20,000 worth of buildings in the valley also wishes to construct several silos forty-four feet high. It wants to have the concrete walls six inches thick, but the minimum thickness for walls of a building that height is fixed by ordinance at eight feet.

The ordinance, of course, makes no allowance for the construction of silos. Their erection within the city limits was not contemplated when the law was passed. It is probable the board will allow Supt. Backus to overlook the strict letter of the law this time.

Mormon Island Deal.

The City Attorney is going over the agreement between the Harbor Commission and the Banning Company whereby Mormon Island peninsula in the inner harbor will become the city's in fee and the company will get a thirty-year lease, subject to city regulation.

Finishing Touches.

The new jitney bus ordinance transferring jurisdiction over vehicles plying for hire from the Police Commission to the Board of Public Utilities, is to become effective October 1. The Council, in committee of the whole yesterday, put the finishing touches and the ordinance is expected to be reported tomorrow or the next day.

City Hall Notes.

The City Council yesterday extended a vote of thanks to the officials of San Diego for the reception tendered the representatives of Los Angeles last Saturday.

The sum of $300 was appropriated by the Council yesterday to allow the health commissioner to attend health conferences in Albuquerque, N. M.; Cincinnati, O., and Milwaukee, Wis.

A tentative ordinance has been prepared by the Public Welfare Committee with the object of preventing the use of narrow-tread tires on heavily-loaded trucks, which damage paved streets. Truck representatives will be given an opportunity to submit criticisms in writing between now and October 2.

EXHIBIT INTERESTS.

Alleged Thieves Arraigned in Justice Court and Bring the Goods.

Cigars, cigarettes, chewing tobacco, smoking tobacco and pipes formed the interesting exhibit introduced in Justice Brown's court yesterday morning, when the preliminary hearing of Frank St. Clair and Charles H. Clark came up. The two youths are alleged to have received this stolen property from Charles Fay and Charles White, who were recently arrested by the local police and confessed the theft. E. A. Robertson of the Southern Pacific, from which the property was stolen, was the complaining witness. The hearing went over until next Monday to give time to bring witnesses for the defense from San Francisco.

Interesting.

BEDBUGS STARTED IT.

Woman Suspects Unwanted Inhabitants, Calls in Friend as "Expert," Suit Follows, and Plaintiff Loses—Still, There was a Smell.

A suit on trial yesterday before a jury in Superior Judge Monroe's court for $1175 damages, brought by Mrs. Katie Nave, had its origin in a very low form of animal life. Mrs. Mary Graham, who defended the action, stated that Mrs. Nave told her she could smell bedbugs when the house was moved from one section of the city to another.

Mrs. Graham was asked for an opinion on the subject. She went to the house, sniffed around, it appears, and agreed with Mrs. Nave to the extent that she claims she said there was a smell that could emanate only from a bedbug. If she had stopped there, all would have been well, but Mrs. Nave alleged that Mrs. Graham advised prospective tenants against taking the Nave house "because it is full of bedbugs."

Mrs. Graham testified she did not recall telling this to the persons named by Mrs. Nave, but if she did, she believed it was true and not done maliciously. The jury returned a verdict in favor of Mrs. Graham.

ARE HELD TO ANSWER.

Two Lads Charged with Robbery Given Preliminary Hearing.

W. H. Bowers and Patrick O'Donnell, two youths charged with robbery, were arraigned before Justice Forbes yesterday morning and held on bond of $2500 each. They are accused of having held up and robbed R. L. Terry on last Saturday night. The preliminary hearing is scheduled for tomorrow.
